ONTARIO, Ore. (AP) — Oregon state police staged surprise raids on taverns in three Malheur County communities Wednesday night, confiscating slot machines and making 19 arrests.

Those picked up were taken immediately before Justice of the Peace A. F. Peters here. He fined those pleading guilty and released under bond those pleading innocent.

State Police Lt. Lyle Harrell of Salem led the 15 raiding officers who entered four places in Ontario, two in Vale and three in Nyssa.

Local authorities said they were not informed in advance that the raids were to be staged.

Complaints were prepared by Malheur County District Atty. E. Otis Sith and were signed by two officers from the state criminal division, L. E. Mitchell and Robert L. Heilly.

Harrell said the officers regularly on duty in sprawling Malheur County were aided by six officers from Baker County.

Other Officers Aided

Harrell said evidence gathered indicated operation of slot machines. In addition to the slot machines found here, he said several pinball games which paid off in cash were picked up.

Justice Peters set up a schedule of $50 fines plus $4.50 court costs for owners of establishments who pleaded guilty to gambling. For operators, the fines were $25 each plus $4.50 court costs.

For those pleading innocent he set bail at $50 for the owners and $30 for the operators.

The docket in his court showed these entries:

Damon Savage, Nyssa, pleaded guilty to charges of owning a gambling place, but George Yurri and George Warrington, both of Ontario, pleaded innocent to similar charges.

Gilbert Lopez, Ontario; Clara Nell Rambo and Marion Tracy, Pete Kustus and Bernardino Urtejo, all of Nyssa, pleaded guilty to conducting gambling games.

Frank Canas, Ontario, pleaded innocent to conducting a gambling game.

Dick Bashford and George Troy, both of Vale, pleaded guilty to owning slot machines. Innocent pleas to similar charges were entered by Done Grafe, Raymond Plaza and George Warrington, all of Ontario.

Lelia Lorraine Palmer and Blanche Montague, both of Vale, pleaded guilty to operating slot machines but pleas of innocent to similar charges were entered by Neal Williams, Frank Echanis and Helen Warrington, all of Ontario.

Harrell hinted that the raids might have a connection with a committee which said migrant workers were being exploited.

Pete Rademacher Weighs In 198; Folley Hits 200

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pete Rademacher weighed 198 pounds and Zora Folley 200 even just before noon Friday for their 10-round nationally televised fight Friday night.

There was some surprise in the weights. Rademacher scaled 202 last August when he was stopped by world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson. His camp had circulated rumors that he might come in as high as 210.

Folley had been expected to weigh several pounds under 200. Trainer George Chermers said he was pleased with Rademacher's weight and admitted he scaled him down to improve his speed.

The fighters exchanged pleasantries but that was about all. Rademacher got on the scales barefooted and Folley kept his socks on.

The CCC resolution points out the need for seeding tree planting areas in the U.S. and the lag in planting which has been shown. It also points out the ravages of timber by insects and disease, erosion of watersheds, need of additional forest recreation areas and wildlife refuges.

Also claimed is the need for interested young men to work in the lumber industry, the increasing difficulty by young men in finding jobs and the increase in social delinquency and crime during this recession period.

Included in the resolutions submitted were one opposing the so-called right-to-work initiative in Washington and one increasing unemployment benefit payments and the period of coverage from 26 to 29 weeks.

Government Work Asked

Another resolution asks when and where "private industry fails to provide sufficient employment, and the workers of our nation, we call upon and demand that local, state and federal government be required to furnish employment on government projects on a full-time basis at union wages and conditions, for all workers seeking employment."

A resolution referred to the political action committee seeks a raise in income tax exemptions from $600 to $800. Also sought are three weeks vacations for plywood industry workers who have eight years' seniority.

Navy Probing Admiral's Death

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Navy is investigating the death of Rear Adm. Lynne C. Quiggle, who told his wife "You'd be better off a widow" just before his disappearance at sea.

Quiggle, 52, vanished from the liner President Cleveland Wednesday about 800 miles off San Francisco. He apparently jumped overboard in a fit of depression, Commodore H. D. Ehnman, the liner's master, told a newspaper after the ship docked here Thursday.

A Navy board of investigation, headed by Rear Adm. John Q. Owsley, started a formal inquiry. The admiral and his wife were returning from his tour of duty as chief of staff on the joint staff of the commander of U. S. forces in Japan. He had been ordered to San Diego to become commander of Amphibious Group 1, Pacific Fleet.

Mrs. Quiggle, the former Ann Griffin of Washington, D. C., said her husband had left her cabin early in the morning saying "You would be better off a widow" after kissing her.

Absence Of U. S. Flag On Ship Delays Unloading

PORTLAND (AP) — There was no United States flag flying on the ship, so Portland longshoremen for a time Thursday refused to unload it.

The zinc and lead cargo finally was unloaded, though, after longshoremen were told that, despite its merchantship appearance, the Callao actually is a vessel of the Peruvian Navy and manned by a Navy crew.

160-Mile Paddle Lot Of Fun, Adventure

PORTLAND (AP) — Two Portland librarians were looking for a little adventure, so they got a canoe and decided to paddle along the Willamette River.

They started at Harrisburg in the Willamette Valley and Thursday, after five days of paddling, stroked ashore here.

In all, they said, they covered 160 miles.

Said Mrs. Clayton Bernhard after she paddled ashore: "No adventures."

But she and Miss Martha Hansen both said it was a lot of fun.

U. S. And Russia Cultural Exchange On Animal Level

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The cultural exchange between the United States and Russia got down to the animal level Friday.

Four beavers from Oregon and four Russian bear cubs were housed in the same building pending a swap between the directors of the Portland and Moscow zoos.

It appeared that the United States was getting the best of the deal — for the bears are worth about $200 apiece, and the beavers only $100 each.

Portland Zoo director Jack Marks said, though, that the monetary aspect wasn't important.

"Much can be gained by such exchanges, not only of animals but of other things," Marks said.

The Oregon beavers were flown to Brussels on a conventional airliner.

Things will be a little more plus for them on the way from here to their new home in Moscow.

I. G. Shyalev, the Moscow Zoo director, said he will take the beavers home by the same method the bears were brought here by a crack Soviet jet liner.

Bandits Hold Family Of Four

SEATTLE (AP) — Two leisurely considerate young bandits, disguised with masks of nylon hose, held a Seattle family of four at gunpoint for six hours early Friday, then fled in their captives' car.

They took two pistols, two rifles and $48 in cash with them from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Graebke in the city's South End.

The intruders walked in an open rear door just before midnight, roused the Graebkes who had fallen asleep watching television, then forced the couple to awaken their sons Rodney, 16, and Paul, 13.

Graebke said that during the next six hours the robbers searched the house, made sandwiches and coffee and then tied up the family with ropes which they padded with bedsheets so the knots wouldn't hurt.

Graebke freed himself about 15 minutes after the gunmen left in his station wagon. He described the bandits as 18 to 25 years of age.

Police said the men were believed the same ones who staged two similar robberies in West Seattle Wednesday night.

ed plans crashed and burned in Lebanese territory.

All was quiet with the U.S. Marines in Lebanon Thursday night. A Marine spokesman reported, "On Tuesday night U.S. troops have been harassed by rebel snipers, but the only fatality reported was a Marine killed by one of his own sentries when he did not answer a challenge."

In Cairo, an Egyptian editor who accompanied President Nasser on his secret flight to Moscow quoted Soviet Premier Khrushchev as declaring "We Russians have weapons which could easily turn the U.S. 6th Fleet into coffins of molten steel for its sailors."

The article by Mohammed Heikal also said Khrushchev called the 6th Fleet commander, Vice Adm. Charles R. Brown "an exceedingly stupid and foolish admiral."

At the United Nations, Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold announced he was setting up a seven-man group to advise him on enlarging the U.N. observer group in Lebanon.

The observers are working under a Security Council mandate to report any illegal shipments of arms and men into Lebanon from Syria. The Lebanese government has charged President Nasser's United Arab Republic has been helping the rebels via its Syrian province. By sending in more observers, Hammarskjold hopes to make it possible for the Americans to withdraw.

All commercial airline flights between the U.A.R. and Jordan were suspended meanwhile. Nasser has urged his partisans in Jordan to revolt and oust King Hussein, and earlier this week Jordan broke diplomatic relations with the U.A.R.

The new Iraqi government bid for the support of Indian Prime Minister Nehru with a message to the Indian government announcing it would "abide by the Bandung Conference principles, honor the country's international obligations and protect foreigners and their property."

Pakistan Prime Minister Feroz Khan Noon, whose government was allied in the Baghdad Pact with the royal Iraqi regime the rebels overthrew, told newsmen his cabinet was giving serious consideration to the question of recognizing the new Baghdad government.

Argentina Signs Agreements For Oil Exploration

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Arturo Frondizi, long a foe of foreign participation in Argentine oil development, announced Thursday night agreements with U. S., Soviet and West European companies to help increase oil production.

The foreign companies will aid Argentina's oil monopoly YPF to triple domestic production, Frondizi said. Argentina now produces about 33 million barrels of oil a year and has a perennial shortage.

To ease the current shortage, contracts were signed for the Soviet Union to deliver 7,125,000 barrels of oil by next July and Colombia to supply 15 million dollars worth.

Frondizi was elected president last February on a platform that supported the strong popular feeling against allowing foreign capital to dominate the extraction of Argentine resources. The Argentines, however, lack both the capital and technical know-how to develop their oil fast enough to keep pace with the demand.

The largest contract was signed with a group of U.S. and European companies, including the Atlas Corp., the Hidden Splendor Mining Co., Petro Atlas, Inc., Williams Brothers Co., Mid-Continent Exploration and Ferrosal AG of Germany.

Former President Of Rayline Holds Ground On Rebate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leo Wolf, former president of Rayline Worsteds, Inc., stood his ground Friday that the $41,284 penalty rebate the company got on a government contract did not depend on influence of Sherman Adams or anyone else.

In fact, Wolf added, "A good public question to ask is 'Why didn't we get interest on our money?'"

While the rebate issue was pending, Adams made inquiries to the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals about the case of the now-defunct Manchester, N. H., company.

The White House says the inquiries were routine and involved no effort to use influence. However, a former member of the appeals board has said he thinks Adams' inquiry was improper.

Talking to a newsmen Friday before testifying at a closed-door session of the House Armed Services Investigations Subcommittee, Wolf and Edwin McDermott, a Philadelphia attorney who represented Rayline, said company officials wrote not only to Adams but to numerous members of Congress. They were seeking help in reversing a World War II action in which the company was penalized $49,384 for late delivery to the Army of serge cloth.

They said there was no concealment and no question of improper influence. McDermott said a letter from Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) was used in the record of a case before U. S. Court of Claims "But what did the court do? It turned us down."

Holts Baby-Lift Nearing 1,000

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Harry Holt's baby-lift pushed toward the 1,000 mark Friday as the grizzled Oregon farmer led Seoul with 81 orphans for adoption in the United States.

Aboard the chartered Korean National Airlines plane were 27 boys and 54 girls, shepherded by Holt, his daughter Molly and several nurses. Most of the children were less than three years old.

The group brings the total he has brought to America to 983.

"I like kids and so many people write me looking for them," Holt once explained. "The parents need children and these children need parents. All I do is bring them together."

This time Holt is pushing to get to Eugene, Ore., by Monday. There on that day the first eight orphans he adopted become American citizens.

Shingle Weavers Strike Enters Third Day Friday

SEATTLE (AP) — The strike of Pacific Northwest shingle weavers entered its third day Friday with two cents apparently preventing a settlement.

A three-cent hourly boost was proposed last week by the U.S. Red Cedar Shingle Assn. in negotiations with a federal conciliator. Clarence Romane, president of the Oregon-Washington Shingle Weavers Assn., said his group had offered to accept a five-cent increase.

An employer spokesman said Thursday that no industry-wide negotiations were scheduled until next week.

The walkout has idled nearly 2,000 workers at 50 mills in four Northwest states.

Jet Bomber Crashes Into Jap Village, Three Killed

TOKYO (AP) — A U.S. Air force jet bomber making a forced landing crashed into a small Japanese village today, killing the pilot and two Japanese boys.

The navigator of the twin-engine B57, 1st Lt. Norman H. Silver, 27, Portland, Ore., a Japanese woman and her two children were seriously injured. Air Force doctors treated 23 other villagers for lesser injuries.

Newspaper Story Leads To Recovery Of Gear

Carl Smith, Douglas County undersheriff, said today a report published this week in The News-Review was instrumental in his recovery of a rubber diving suit stolen from the department's garage sometime Tuesday.

Smith reported that in less than an hour after the article appeared he had been given the names of two suspects by residents who telephoned the office. Wednesday night another phone tip sent deputies to the St. Dillard Motor Co. on SE Stephens St. where the $69.50 underwater suit was found behind the building.

An inspection revealed the article was "in good condition and not cut," Smith said.

Khrushchev Boasts Russia Could Destroy 6th Fleet

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
CAIRO (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev boasted to President Nasser the Soviet Union has weapons which "could easily turn the (U.S.) 6th Fleet into coffins of molten steel," a Cairo editor said Friday.

Mohamed Hassamein Heikal accompanied Nasser to Moscow for his secret meeting with Khrushchev last week. He gave readers of his paper, Al Ahram, an account of what he said took place in two days of meetings.

Heikal quoted Khrushchev as calling the 6th Fleet commander, Vice Adm. Charles R. Brown "an exceedingly stupid and foolish admiral." He meant Brown was stupid for bringing the fleet within range of Soviet atomic missiles.

Once at the luncheon table, Heikal said, Khrushchev remarked that Western foes "would gladly give up half of their lives to get at and destroy Nasser, but they will never get that chance—never."

can see their defeat quite clearly. "The West cannot imagine how strong we are. This 6th Fleet they are playing with in the Mediterranean like kids and whose command they gave to an exceedingly stupid and foolish admiral, how easily it could be destroyed. We have weapons which, if we should use them, could turn the 6th Fleet into coffins of molten steel for its sailors."

But when Soviet Security boss Ivan A. Serov planned Nasser's return flight he told Heikal: "Your plane dare not fly over the sea because they could shoot it down with rockets with which some of their ships are equipped."

Danger Prevents Body's Recovery At Brownlee Dam

BROWNLEE, Idaho (AP) — Danger of further drownings Friday kept Morrison-Knudsen Co. employees from trying to recover the body of the last of four workmen who drowned in the Brownlee Dam diversion tunnel earlier this week.

Efforts to recover the body of Charles Hewitt, 43, of Kennewick, Wash., were halted by direction of Dale Thomason, coroner for Washington County which includes the Idaho site of the gateway to Hells Canyon.

The tunnel carries Snake River water past Brownlee until the dam can be completed. Hewitt and three other M-K iron workers drowned inside the tunnel Tuesday night while they were working on preparations to seal it off.

The bodies of Richard Emig, 38, Plummer, Idaho; Fred Spalding, 38, Pendleton, Ore.; and Richard T. Steppe, 36, Klamath Falls, Ore., were recovered Tuesday. The body of Hewitt was located Wednesday but was not brought out.

M-K Co. spokesmen said the upstream end of the tunnel will be filled in with earth and rock in a matter of days, shutting off the turbulent flow of water and permitting a safe search.

Hope Of Finding Wickie Mouse All But Gone

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Specially equipped ships and planes continued searching the Atlantic today but hope dimmed that Wickie the space mouse would be recovered inside a nose cone after an intercontinental range flight.

The tiny white mouse was enclosed in the nose cone of a Thor-Able rocket that streaked 6,000 miles through space Wednesday.

The recovery unit resumed the search in the south Atlantic near Ascension Island.

The hunt was called off temporarily last night when darkness closed in and the searchers failed to receive signals from a beacon transmitter inside the nose cone recovery package.

The transmitter, signal lights and a dye marker were included in the recovery package to pinpoint the location for the searchers.

Once the nose cone hit the water after a blazing, 12,000 m.p.h. re-entry from space, a 27-inch orange and blue balloon inflated automatically. The Balloon floated on the surface with the nose cone suspended 30 feet below, but it appeared as a dot in the wide expanse of ocean.

Teamsters, Contractors Agree On New Contract

PORTLAND (AP) — The Teamsters Union and the Associated General Contractors Thursday reached a tentative agreement on a new contract. The deal ends a one-phase of a labor dispute that has tied up 400 million dollars worth of construction in Oregon and Southwestern Washington.

Federal Mediator LeRoy Smith said the Teamsters and contractors were meeting to ratify the new three-year contract.

Settlement of this dispute paves the way for continued negotiations between the contractors and the Operating Engineers Union, which put pickets out July 10.

While Smith has withheld details of the AGC-Teamsters agreement, a reliable AGC spokesman said that management had offered an immediate wage increase of 25 cents an hour—retroactive to June 1.

In addition, the spokesman said, the AGC offered wage boosts of 5 per cent on both Jan. 1, 1959, and Jan. 1, 1960.

Two Bandits Arrested In Bank Holdup Attempt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two young bandits were arrested Thursday while trying to rob a branch of the Hibernia Bank.

Patrolman Jack Toomey, summoned by a police radio alarm, rode over to the bank on a three-wheeled motorcycle in time to catch the pair. They had $25,074 in a pillow case when he arrived.

They identified themselves as Ronald Lacroix and Wayne J. Rux, both 20.

Both said at first they were from Baton Rouge, La. Later they said they had attended high school together at Tucson, Ariz., and that Rux still considered Phoenix his home. Lacroix said his mother lives at 7570 East Carlisle, Spokane, Wash.

CORVALLIS (AP) — George L. White, 46, Philomath logger, was killed in a logging accident Wednesday near Edenville in Lincoln County, the Benton County sheriff's office reported Thursday.

Sheriff's deputies said the man was killed when a falling tree caused a rock slide and the falling rock struck White on the head.

He was employed by the Jones Logging Co. of Newport.
