

Hatfield Explains Office Functions

Secretary of State Mark Hatfield explained the functions of his office at a Roseburg Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday.

He told of how he reorganized the office by letting the addressing of the voters election pamphlets out on contract and disposing of "tons" of outmoded records. When talking about the disposing of the records Hatfield said "We conveyed the idea to other departments and they followed suit."

Hatfield explained that the secretary of state is on the board of control, state land board and state banking board. "We use so much of the cost of operating out government because of outmoded techniques. We must keep abreast of new methods," Hatfield said.

The secretary went on to say that because of "dirty" politics he could not replace old bookkeeping machines in his office with IBM equipment, saving money and expanding services.

Hatfield attended a two-hour "meet-the-public" session at Umpqua Park Tuesday evening.

Donna Clough To Go To Cuba To Teach School

Donna Clough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Huron W. Clough, 1108 SE Washington Ave., will leave Thursday for Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, to spend a year there teaching school.

Miss Clough, a 1948 graduate of Roseburg High School, taught English at Roseburg High School during the past school year. She will be a business education instructor in Cuba.

Her new teaching post will be at William T. Sampson School, a high school for children of Navy personnel. She will spend a few days at Washington, D. C., then disembark for Guantanamo Bay from Norfolk, Va.

Miss Clough is planning to remain in Cuba until next summer, when she will return to Roseburg. Guantanamo Bay lies about 500 air miles from Havana in southwest Cuba, she said.

Her father currently is a county commissioner.

Two Roseburg Doctors Assume Business Name

Doctors A. B. Munroe and J. M. Hutson of Roseburg have filed an assumed business name certificate with the county clerk for the Roseburg Medical-Dental Clinic at 880 SE Jackson St.

The clinic will be devoted to medical and surgical services, according to the certificate. At the same time, the physicians and their wives, Mrs. Florence Munroe and Mrs. Martha Hutson, filed a certificate to enter the business of renting office space.

Long Distance Rower Hits Immigration Snag

ABERDEEN (AP)—Ray Farland, the long-distance rower, was in the custody of U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service agents here Wednesday.

The intrepid oarier, who was attempting to make it the 363 water miles from Seattle to Portland, was apprehended by the agents when he pulled his 12-foot boat into Westport Tuesday night.

Walter Douglas, U.S. Immigration agent here, declined comment on the action Tuesday night.

Bid Openings Postponed On Prineville Project

PORTLAND (AP)—The Bureau of Reclamation Tuesday postponed bid openings on the Prineville Dam Project, because of a heavy construction tie-up throughout Oregon.

The bureau said it postponed the opening from Aug. 12 to Aug. 26 at the request of the Associated General Contractors, which said the dispute made it impossible to compute labor costs.

An estimated 25,000 men have been idled by the dispute between the AGC, an employer group, and the Union of Hoisting and Portable Engineers.

WINNER of two $25 savings bonds in a daily contest being conducted during the labor convention in Roseburg is Mrs. Regina Klingman of Portland (right). Shown with her are Adeline Lettow (Miss Buttons of the Retail Clerks) and J. D. McDonald, president of Oregon State Labor Council. Each day, the clerks are awarding a bond to the person who locates a clerk in a Roseburg store who has the answer to the day's key question. Monday, Mrs. Klingman only had to quiz four clerks before she found the right one. Tuesday, it took 22 queries. The key question is: Are you a union retail clerk?

Williams, Symington Come Through Election Uncathed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two Democratic presidential prospects — Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Sen.

Stuart Symington of Missouri — did as expected Tuesday and scored easy victories in their state primaries.

The twin triumphs highlighted primary contests in four states. There were no major upsets. The advance favorites generally prevailed in balloting that took place in Kansas and West Virginia as well as Michigan and Missouri.

The 47-year-old Williams beat back his first intraparty challenge in 10 years to win the Democratic nomination for a sixth trip to the governor's mansion. He quickly rolled to a 6-1 margin over William L. Johnson, a radio broadcaster from Ironwood, and held it as the vote total mounted.

Williams' Republican opponent in November will be Paul D. Bagwell, 44, a Michigan State University professor who was unopposed for his party's nomination.

Potter Nominated
Sen. Charles E. Potter gained GOP renomination without opposition too. He faces the prospect of a general election race with Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, a Williams running mate who captured the Democratic senatorial nomination.

It was strictly no contest in Missouri where Symington, 57, jumped to a runaway lead and buried opponents Lawrence L. Hastings and Lamar W. Dye.

Symington's November foe will be Miss Hazel Palmer, retiring president of the National Assn. of Business and Professional Women.

Former Rep. Jennings Randolph, 56, and Rep. Robert C. Byrd, 40, won Democratic senatorial primaries in West Virginia. Randolph will face Sen. John D. Hobbitt Jr., who was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

Byrd's November match will be with Sen. Chapman Revercomb, who had no opposition for Republican renomination.

The Kansas nominations were highlighted by the Republican primary for governor, won by Clyde Reed Jr. of Parsons, Reed, 44, a newspaper publisher, piled up a better than 3-1 edge over former Gov. Fred Hall.

Gov. George Docking, the first Democratic governor in Kansas in 20 years, had no opposition in his bid for renomination.
