

Gov. Faubus To Meet With Little Rock Board

Hints At Calling Legislature If Session Fails

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus and three Arkansas Legislative leaders will meet with the Little Rock School Board tonight to discuss the integration problem.

Faubus indicated that unless the board takes some action quickly to forestall the return of Negro pupils to Central High School Sept. 2, the Legislature probably will be called into special session next week.

The governor took time out to comment on President Eisenhower's implied warning that federal troops might again be used to enforce integration if circumstances warranted it.

"What Mr. Eisenhower and many others who express similar viewpoints fail to realize is that they are supporting a court decision which is not constitutional and there are millions of people in every section of the country who know it," Faubus said.

Coolness Noted

The meeting with the board was set up in a conversation between Supt. of Schools Virgil Blossom and the governor, who have been publicly critical of each other.

A coolness between the board and the governor has been apparent since last fall when Blossom blamed Faubus for much of the Central High trouble.

Faubus refused to be pinned down on an expected special session of the Legislature but did say only action of the board can prevent a special session and time is getting short.

Blossom said the board planned to ask the U.S. Supreme Court to intervene in the Little Rock case and would ask the St. Louis Appeals Court to stay its decision which wiped out a 2½-year delay in integration.

Two Deny Guilt Upon Arraignment

Two more men indicted by the recent Grand Jury have entered pleas of innocent at arraignments before Circuit Judge Carl E. Wimberly.

They were Lloyd Kealand of rural Reedsport, 29-year-old resort owner, and William Lawrence Dodson, 31, a Selma, Calif., welder.

Kealand is charged with receiving and concealing stolen property, and Dodson with non-support.

The indictment alleges Kealand hid a log boat dock, some timber and planking in Loon Lake on or about April 27 of this year. The property belonged to Curtis L. Baker, Al Furchau and Don Troxell, according to the complaint.

Dodson allegedly has failed to support his five minor children beginning about July 18, 1957, the indictment reads. He is represented by attorney Donald S. Kelley. Daniel R. Dimick is representing Kealand.

WARM WEATHER SEEN

Temperatures will average above normal with maximums generally from 80 to 90 degrees and minimums ranging from 52 to 60, according to the five-day outlook issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau today. Sunday's high was 87 degrees.

Truck Owners, Teamsters Set Meet Wednesday

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Representatives of Western long line trucking companies and the Teamsters Union meet Wednesday for the first time since the strike-lockout in the Western trucking industry started Aug. 11.

Three mediators of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service will join in the discussion of issues and an attempt to reach a settlement.

George Hillenbrand of San Francisco, one of the mediators, said he thought 20 to 22 persons would attend the meeting.

Einar O. Mohr of San Francisco, an international vice president of the union and chairman of the Western Conference of Teamsters, will head the union committee at the exploratory session. Hillenbrand said the companies had nine negotiating committee members and nine alternates.

About 1,000 trucking firms in 11 Western states and 100,000 drivers and warehousemen have been affected by the shutdown.

The California Trucking Assn. called the shutdown in retaliation for a strike by some 2,300 Sacramento-San Joaquin Valley teamsters.

Congress Pushes Top Measures Before Quitting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress increased its tempo today with the Senate taking up a broad bill to curb the powers of the Supreme Court and the House continuing debate on minerals legislation.

There were signs legislative leaders were redoubling their efforts to adjourn later this week.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas announced plans for an early test vote on the Jenner-Butler bill, which is aimed at offsetting the impact of recent Supreme Court decisions involving communism.

Two priority pieces of legislation still must be handled by the Senate—the foreign aid bill and measure to put a temporary limit of 288 billion dollars on the federal government's debt.

President Eisenhower called in congressional leaders of both major parties last night in an effort to gain a foreign aid measure carrying close to 3½ billion dollars.

The President has been pictured as feeling this much is necessary to enable the United States to meet possible new commitments growing out of the Middle East crisis.

Lightning Hits E. Oregon But Leaves No Fires

Several small interruptions when transformers were hit.

Lightning struck a transformer behind the J. H. Wilson residence in Klamath Falls and followed a power line into the house, melting nails in wallboard. A spark jumped to a bed and burned a blanket, but the Wilsons were able to extinguish the blaze before it spread.

Grants Pass again claimed the state's highest temperature Tuesday with 97 degrees. It was 96 in Medford, 92 in Baker and Pendleton and 90 in Roseburg. Newport had a coastal cool 67 degrees.

President Sees Test Ban Accord As Groundwork

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today tentative agreement by East-West scientists on ways to police a nuclear test ban is the sort of thing that could lay the groundwork for a summit conference.

His news conference statement was in response to a question.

Eisenhower said the agreement, which he said may be signed Thursday, is most encouraging, and raises hope for more important steps toward easing cold war tensions.

The United States welcomes any constructive step in this direction, he added.

The Soviet-Western agreement on means of setting up a global monitoring network came in seven weeks of secret talks now drawing to an end in Geneva.

There was no effort by the 16 scientists from four Western and four Communist nations to reach any political decisions on whether there should be an agreement to halt nuclear testing.

However, American officials said the Kremlin can be expected to point to the Geneva agreement as committing the United States to end tests.

The interpretation has been rejected in advance by President Eisenhower.

The American position, as set forth in the past by Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, is that any agreement by East-West scientists might lead to suspension of testing, but that the United States refused to be bound in advance.

France Throws Support Behind Western Plan

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville today threw France's full support behind a Western plan to hand the Middle East problem over to Dag Hammarskjold.

The French diplomat, who arrived here only Tuesday, urged the emergency U.N. General Assembly to place its confidence in the secretary general and leave it to him to find ways to ease tension.

Couve de Murville addressed the 81-nation body as intense behind-the-scenes activities continued on behalf of rival Middle East plans.

Seek Impressive Vote

The Western resolution, backed by Norway and six other small countries, apparently had enough support to give it the required two-thirds majority, but its sponsors were trying to roll up an impressive vote.

India, Ceylon and several other Asian countries were pressing a rival plan calling for the early withdrawal of U.S. troops from Lebanon and British forces from Jordan.

Salem Club's Pigeons Released At Fire Fall

Roseburg firemen released 170 homing pigeons about 6 a.m. Sunday.

The birds were brought to Roseburg Saturday by a Salem club. The organization asked the firemen to release the birds Sunday morning. Firemen said the birds circled the firehouse several times and flew north. It was expected to take them 3½ to four hours to make the trip to Salem.

Roseburg police inherited two pigeon eggs Saturday night, a gift to the firemen.

Last week the birds were released from Eugene and next week they will be released from Grants Pass.

Second Largest Timber Sale Of 1958 Is Recorded

The second largest Umpqua National Forest timber sale of 1958 was made Tuesday with a total of 18,700,000 board feet going for $210,390.

The timber is on the Diamond Lake Ranger District 74 miles east of Roseburg on 354 acres. The total appraised price was $161,440—$18,550 less than it brought. Douglas Veneer Co., Roseburg, was the successful bidder.

The block of timber contains 13,500,000 board feet of Douglas fir appraised at $9.15 per thousand board feet; 1,700,000 feet of western white pine, sugar pine and ponderosa pine appraised at $13.35 per thousand, and 350,000 feet of white fir and other species at $3.20. Douglas Veneer bid $14.65 on Douglas fir and the appraised price on the other species groups.

There were two other bidders: Klingson Lumber Co., Klamath Falls, and Comifer Logging Co., Roseburg.

Geddes Strongly Criticizes Demos

Strong criticism of Gov. Robert D. Holmes, Howard Morgan, Public Utilities Commissioner, and Rep. Charles O. Porter was leveled Monday at Medford by Paul E. Geddes, Republican candidate for Congress from the 1st District.

At a GOP picnic, Geddes claimed the officials were "shirking their responsibilities by failing to take a stand on the reduced freight rates proposed by Southern Pacific."

He went on to rap what he termed their "ridiculous position of neutrality" and said "Holmes, Morgan and my opponent should not talk about a lack of job opportunities and high-cost transportation, then turn their backs upon an opportunity to do something about it."

President Says Citizens Must Obey The Courts

responsibility of the federal government in such an event. My feelings are exactly as they were a year ago."

Eisenhower recalled he had said at that time:

"The very basis of our individual and corporate sense of civic responsibility 'must eventually come into play if we are to solve this problem.'"

The integration statement came at the outset of the news conference. After reading it rapidly and emphatically, Eisenhower announced he would have nothing further to say on the subject in view of still pending litigation in the courts.

However, he did lift that embargo momentarily a bit later in saying it would be wrong—and would complicate his job—for him to say how he stands on the integration issue.

Eisenhower dealt with these other topics:

DEFENSE—Eisenhower said he believes U.S. defense forces are not only adequate but the most powerful in American history. They act as a deterrent to war, as they are intended, he added.

New inventions constantly make them even more powerful, Eisenhower said. But he went on to say he does believe that in certain defense areas the government is spending too much. He did not specify those areas.

PRICES—A reporter told Eisenhower some people think he has not displayed vigorous enough leadership in trying to hold down prices.

Eisenhower said, as he has many times, that the only things he can do are appeal to business and labor to keep the wage-price spiral in check and try to make sure government spending does not get out of line.

Price and wage controls, Eisenhower said, would lead to a controlled economy. He said he is not yet ready to suggest to anyone that a system of controls should be imposed.

GENEVA—Discussing the East-West agreement at Geneva on policing of any nuclear test ban, Eisenhower said it provides grounds to hope we will be able to take still another step toward eventual disarmament.

RED CHINA—Eisenhower said that in his opinion it is not necessary to include Red China in any agreement, such as the technical one reached at Geneva, on policing of a nuclear test ban.

President Doesn't Consider He's In Political Camp With Opponents Of Views

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he could not consider himself in the same political camp with any Congress member at odds with him over three major pieces of legislation. The measures: Reciprocal trade, foreign aid and defense legislation.

Eisenhower told a news conference he regards them as absolutely vital.

Therefore, he said, he could not feel close political kinship with anyone completely opposed to his views on these questions.

The President had been asked whether he would decline to campaign this fall for any Republican Congress members who balked at these bills.

Made Point Before

Eisenhower didn't go that far. He said he has made the point before that no one vote or expression would make it impossible for him to ever support any political figure.

Asked whether he has any plans to take part in the campaign, Eisenhower replied he had no detailed plans and no specific projects.

But, he added, it would be strange if he didn't have something to say during the course of the big contest for control of the House and Senate.

Another questioner asked Eisenhower to appraise the passage by Congress of a farm bill which the newsman said closely parallels the policies of Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Policies Have Sense

The President said he believes the Congress members are learning that Benson's policies—often attacked by Democrats during past campaigns—have a lot of sense in them and are good for the country.

Eisenhower also was asked a question about former President Harry Truman—whom he hasn't seen since his inauguration day.

Didn't think he was advisable, he was asked, to include Truman and other former presidents as members of the National Security Council.

Eisenhower said Truman had escape questioning in a waterfront killing here, and added: "I don't think he could go back until after Gov. Harriman was elected."

Baker's former wife, Mollie Baker, had testified similarly Tuesday. She said Baker had fled after the killing of Anthony Hintz, a pier boss.

The senators have heard testimony earlier of associations between Baker and Eddie (Cockeyed) Dunn, a mob leader who was convicted in the Hintz case and executed.

Giggles On Stand

Mrs. Brougher, who often giggled as she spoke, laughed outright as she testified she knew Baker had served jail terms—ones of "for killing Joe Penner's duck."

Penner was a famed comedian. So was the duck he used in his act.

Mrs. Brougher said Baker told her he had served time for killing the duck. "I think by throwing a stink bomb on the stage of a theater."

She said she also knew that as soon as Baker got out of jail, in that case, he borrowed some hoodlum's car, "went to the waterfront and whipped the man who had testified against him."

Mrs. Brougher's testimony mentioning Harriman unfolded under questioning by Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, and Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD).

Mundt asked what connection Harriman's election could have with whether Baker could go back to New York.

"Very friendly"

"I never asked him," she said, but added that Baker's letters and his conversations with her convinced her "they were very friendly."

Harriman has said Baker did some presidential nomination campaigning for Harriman in 1952 and 1956, but that he has no recollection of talking to Baker and that they never were friends.

Baker, a 300-pound aide to Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa, was expected to follow Mrs. Brougher to the witness stand, and to face questioning, among other things, about the whereabouts of the missing $300,000 of Greenlease kidnap ransom.

Funeral Services Held For Former Local Resident

Funeral services were held Tuesday in Portland for Zellen G. Hesselguesser, former Roseburg resident who was killed Friday in a fall from a girder on a construction job in Portland.

Hesselguesser, 53, moved to Portland from Roseburg about six months ago to take a job with a construction company. He had worked in the lumber industry in this area.

He is survived by his wife, Flora, Portland; two sons, Delmer, Denver, Colo., and Donald E. of Sutherland, a brother, Leo of Yakima, Wash., and four grandchildren.

The body was taken to River-view Abbey in Longview, Wash. for burial.

Forest Danger High In County

Fire danger in forests of Douglas County is high according to officials of the Douglas Forest Protective Assn. and U.S. Forest Service.

Thunderstorms are expected in the southern part of the county late today and Thursday. Most logging operators are starting work early in the morning and quitting in the middle of the afternoon, Forest Service officials said.

Humidity near Tiller Monday dropped to 28 per cent about 4:30 p.m. Several logging operations in the Umpqua National Forest were closed Friday and Tuesday about 3 p.m. when humidities dropped to 30 per cent or below.

A thunderstorm hit the Rogue River National Forest Tuesday, but the storm missed the Umpqua Forest. The Rogue area also had 30 mile an hour north winds.

Woman Critical From Burns After Car Catches Fire

Listed as in critical condition in a Canyonville hospital is Velma Carr, 42, Anchorage, Alaska, who was badly burned Tuesday when her ditched car burst into flames.

She suffered second and third degree burns over approximately 35 per cent of her body in the blaze. Gasoline ignited some time after she had wrecked the car on Glendale Road about three miles east of Glendale.

Mrs. Carr, the daughter of Mrs. David T. Marlin of Sutherlin, had escaped injury when the car went into a ditch and had returned to the scene after a wrecker was summoned. A truck driver had taken her to Azalea to call a wrecker and had brought her back to the accident scene.

He said he had advised her not to get into the car because of spilled gasoline and then left to go to Douglas County Sheriff Ralph Haggard. When they returned, they said, she was in the car.

While she was in the car, gasoline exploded, setting fire to her clothing. Haggard and the wrecker driver said they believed the fire was started when she lit a cigarette.

Hutcheson Slated For Ouster From AFL-CIO Council

FOREST PARK, Pa. (AP)—Carpenters Union President Maurice A. Hutcheson, under fire on corruption charges and cited for contempt of Congress, is reported due for ouster from the AFL-CIO hierarchy.

Top AFL-CIO sources predicted today Hutcheson will be asked to supply an explanation of his refusal to answer U. S. Senate Rackets Committee questions about expenditures of union funds.

Fellow labor chiefs said privately they expect Hutcheson to refuse the demand and probably resign as a member of the AFL-CIO Executive Council, the federation's top policy-making group.

The council members already have figured on Hutcheson's resignation in selecting Painters Union President Lawrence M. Rafferty, Lafayette, to replace James Petrillo, resigned Musicians Union president.

There is an informal understanding that when and if Hutcheson, a building trades leader, leaves the council his successor will be from the building trades union group, as was Petrillo.

It was learned, moreover, that the AFL-CIO plans to launch labor's own investigation of Hutcheson's Carpenters Union to determine whether the union should be ousted from the federation for corruption.

Hutcheson has been charged in Senate hearings with mishandling union funds in paying for a book lauding him and his father, the late William (Big Bill) Hutcheson, and with profiting in Indiana's road right-of-way deals.

The net effect would be to keep the proportional representation of the building trades the same as in the past. Painter Rafferty, succeeding musician Petrillo, would counterbalance a nonbuilding trades successor for carpenter Hutcheson.
