Atomic Weapon Exploded Today At Nevada Site

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—A nuclear test weapon exploded with shattering impact today over the atom-blasted sands of the Nevada proving ground.

The explosion outshone the rising sun and sent a heavy shock wave rumbling across the desert. Newsmen clustered on a hill 10 miles away felt the jolt.

Light winds carried the fallout from the mushroom cloud directly toward the observer's post. Forecasters had warned of this.

The test was the second in the current series being conducted by the Atomic Energy Commission. It has been postponed twice.

Firemen Deliberately Burn Home In Practice Sunday

Firemen, who usually don't get to practice their profession, had a "fireman's holiday" Sunday afternoon. They burned a house.

It was a climax to an area firemen's training school. Several hundred spectators were attracted to the location during the day. The home, located in the Winston Orchard Tract area, was donated to the Roseburg Fire Department by Mrs. Lowell Rhoden.

The school had also been held on two previous consecutive weekends. It was the first such school of this type to be held in Roseburg, Don Starmer, Roseburg drill master, said. It was sponsored by the Roseburg School District Department of Vocational Education and the state Department of Vocational Education.
