

LOREN OLSON, Tribe center and co-captain, will be seen in action tonight at Finlay Field on both offense and defense as the Indians meet Springfield in the second Midwestern League fray. Olson has handled the kickoff chores for the Tribe and in 14 kicks has compiled a 42.7 yards-per-kick average. (Paul Jenkins)

Yanks Beat Burdette, Win '58 World Series

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The New York Yankees were back on the baseball throne today, possessors of the most brilliant triumph in their long World Series history. Casey Stengel reigned supreme as the greatest manager in the game today and as one of the surest manipulators of manpower the sport has ever known. The perennial American League champions climaxed a courageous uphill battle Thursday when they defeated former nemesis Lew Burdette and the Milwaukee Braves 6-2. It was their 18th world title in the last 28 years, their eighth in the last 12.

But neither Stengel nor the front office was fooled. They know this is not one of the better Yankee teams. It had too much of a battle on its hands before overcoming only a fair Milwaukee club in seven games. It had to surge back from a 3-1 deficit after looking like champs in the first two games.

It had to receive super pitching to offset mediocre hitting. It had to get help from the opposition in the way of poor base running, faulty fielding, errant throwing and horrendous hitting in the clutch in order to win.

Stengel Gives Praise
Stengel praised his athletes to the skies after their final victory, their third in succession and their fourth in the last five games. Only one other World Series club had ever made such a comeback.

But it is safe to assume Stengel has not forgotten the promise he made a week ago, after his players had lost 13-5 to the Braves. "I'm going to make some changes on this club," he vowed then. "There are several men on this club who don't deserve to be on it. I promise you this. They won't be here next spring."

It was the pitching that won the pennant for New York. And it was pitching that won the series. The team batting in the series was only .211 despite the 10 home runs, half of which came in losing games. Only Hank Bauer and Gil McDougald hit over .300.

The Yankees managed to comb Burdette and relief pitcher Don Skowron for eight hits Thursday, half of them coming in the decisive eighth inning when they scored four runs to snap a 2-1 deadlock. Elston Howard's tie-breaking single following Yogi Berra's two-out double and Bill Skowron's three-run homer supplied the coup de grace. Up to then Burdette's pitching with only two days rest had permitted but three hits.

The Yankees had managed to stay even with Milwaukee by the grace of a couple of wild throws by first baseman Frank Torre and failure of the Braves to come through in the clutch. They scored two unearned runs against Burdette without the aid of a hit in the second inning to take a 2-1 lead.

The Braves had two good shots at starter Don Larsen and winner Bob Turley but muffed both. Even the 46-year-old Milwaukee die-hard sensed they had had it despite a game-tying home run by Del Crandall in the sixth. It was the same Crandall who twice came up with the bases full and twice failed to come through.

The Braves' catcher struck out in the first inning after his team had taken a 1-0 lead against Larsen and filled the bases on three walks. In the third, Turley replaced Larsen after singles by Bill Bruton and Henry Aaron. He retired Wes Covington on a run-scoring grounder, purposely walked Eddie Mathews to fill the bases, and disposed of Crandall on another grounder.

37 for the seven games. The Yankees left only 40 on base. Milwaukee hit only three home runs with such sluggers as Mathews, Hank Aaron, Covington and Joe Adcock hitting nothing longer than a double.

Turley was superb Thursday, just as he was Monday when he shut out the Braves on five hits, and Wednesday when he came in to retire the last batter on three pitches and preserve Ryne Duren's 4-3 triumph. He gave up only two hits in the final 6-2-3 innings for his second victory in two days and was voted a new automobile as the series' outstanding player.

Cubs' First Baseman Helping Prep Coach

ADAMS, Mass. (AP) — Dale Long, Chicago Cubs first baseman, is assisting Coach Chet Zerk with football practice at Adams High School. Long was a three sport letterman at Adams. Long has been giving particular attention to punters on the squad and left-footed one kick 70 yards in the air Thursday while demonstrating the art. He once was given a tryout with the Green Bay Packers of the NFL.

Sidelights Of World Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hank Bauer of the Yankees compiled the highest World Series slugging average. The veteran outfielder collected 22 total bases in 31 at bats for a .710 mark. Billy Bruton paced the Braves with .588.

Yogi Berra of the Yankees and Frank Torre of the Braves were the only players who did not strike out among those who participated in all seven games. Berra had 27 official trips and Torre 17.

It was "unlucky" seven for Lew Burdette of the Braves Thursday. Burdette allowed the Yankees seven hits in each of the three games he beat them last year and seven the first time he won over them this year. Thursday he allowed seven safeties but left the game trailing 6-2.

Moose Skowron of the Yankees homered in the first and last games. In between he managed only five singles and wound up with a .238 batting average. Skowron's four runs batted in Thursday were only one short of the record set by Tony Lazzeri and Bill Dickey on Oct. 2, 1936, when the Yankees walloped the Giants, 18-4.

The Yankees left 40 men on base — only one under the record for fewest in a seven game series set by the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1920.

ANSWER: AN ESTIMATED THREE HUNDRED MILLION!
That's roughly two classified ads for every man, woman and child in the nation. Could there be a more striking testimonial to the effectiveness of newspaper advertising? The daily newspaper is worth so much more than the few cents it costs that it could probably be sold for a great deal more — yet its price is purposely kept down so that practically everyone can benefit from it.
