NEW YORK (AP) — Refugees from the 1956 Hungarian revolution who came to this country without visas have a right to full protection of the U.S. Constitution, the U.S. Court of Appeals has ruled.

A government contention that such refugees could be deported without a hearing was overruled by the court Thursday in a 2-1 decision.

The court held that the Hungarian refugees have a special status, because they were invited to come here under U.S. foreign policy as announced by President Eisenhower.

In normal cases, aliens residing here while in the technical custody of the attorney general may be deported through revocation of their parole by the attorney general.

Involves Army Captain

The ruling involved the case of Gyula Paktovics, 44, a former Hungarian army captain who is now living in Baltimore with his wife, Szereen, 44, and their two daughters. He is a milkman.

Some time after the family's arrival here as refugees, immigration officials learned that Paktovics had been a member of the Communist party after his release from a concentration camp in 1953.

Immigration officials, charging that the refugee had concealed the Communist party membership, revoked his parole on Aug. 14, 1957. Paktovics has denied any concealment.

The entire family was ordered deported to Austria. The family sought a writ of habeas corpus to halt the deportation. The government, shifting tactics, then dropped that phase of the case and acted against the family on the ground that they lacked visas.

Issue Before Judge

The new issue was taken before U.S. Dist. Judge Irving R. Kaufman here. He granted a writ of habeas corpus to Mrs. Paktovics and the children and they were thus enabled to stay in this country. The judge ruled, however, that the attorney general had the right to revoke the husband's parole.

The decision by the appeals court sends the case back to the Immigration and Naturalization Service for a full hearing.

This year, legislation gave the refugees status as permanent residents—instead of parolees—after approval by the Immigration and Naturalization Service. In their new status, they later will be able to start proceedings to become citizens.

The case ruled on Thursday was stated before a panel of the residence legalization, and Paktovics has not been granted status as permanent resident.

Roseburg Churches Plan Observance

World Community Day, sponsored by the Roseburg Council of United Church Women, will be observed at the First Church of the Nazarene Friday beginning at 1:30 p.m. The theme is, "Exchange: Good—Ideas—People."

Mrs. Robert Hempel of the Nazarene Church is general chairman for the observance. She will be assisted by women from several churches in the city. A special offering will be taken to help further the work of Christian women in the South Sea Islands. Material gifts of yarn and yardage of materials will be dedicated during the program. These will then be sent to Pakistan, Hong Kong, Austria, Germany and the Middle East to assist refugee families.

Mrs. James Jenkins of the First Methodist Church will have charge of installation ceremonies for the new officers of the council. This will be presented during the brief business session immediately preceding the World Community Day program. The Roseburg council holds its annual meeting traditionally at the World Community Day observance, at which time the budget for the next year is presented and new officers are installed.

Glendale Christian Club Slates Wiener Roast

The Glendale High School Christian Club will hold a wiener roast on Saturday evening, which will be followed by a talk by Willis Valech, high school teacher.

Youth from all churches of the area are invited to participate. They will meet at the Azalea Community Church at 6:30 p.m. If the weather permits, the wiener roast will be held across the bridge from the church and to the right, down on the river. The food will be prepared in the church, in case of rain. There will be a free-will offering to help defray expenses of the wiener roast, reports correspondent Mrs. G. B. Fox.

Arms-Carrying Women May Have Aided Capture

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—The rebel capture of a Cuban airliner and its 28 occupants may have been aided by arms-carrying women.

This possibility was raised today with the disclosure by a qualified informant that the 15 men passengers, but not the 10 women, were searched for arms before the Cubana Airline DC3 took off from Havana Wednesday for interior points in Oriente province.

Radio messages from the plane Thursday reported that it had landed at a rebel air strip in Oriente and that all aboard were safe.

Cubans announced Thursday night that it is stopping flights over rebel territory in the eastern province of Oriente, the center of activity by Fidel Castro's insurgents.

Producer Of '21' Arrested Today On Lying Charge

NEW YORK (AP) — Albert Freedman, 36, producer of the defunct television show "Twenty-One" was arrested today on a two-count indictment charging that he lied in denying that he supplied questions and answers to contestants on the show.

Freedman, of New Rochelle, N.Y., became the first to be indicted in the probe of television shows after rigging charges were brought against them.

He is employed by Production Services, Inc., the corporate name of the firm owned by Jack Barry, a master of ceremonies; and producer Dan Enright, owners of "Twenty-One."

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said Freedman had been named in two first degree perjury indictments returned by a New York County grand jury.

Freedman had been employed as producer of the show from November 1956 until it closed last month.

Hogan said Freedman's job was to interview prospective contestants and to assist in the selection of program questions.

The indictment charges that Freedman "knowingly lied" when he denied having revealed questions or answers to contestants on the show. The indictment further said "he had, in fact, revealed questions and answers" to contestants "prior to their appearance on 'Twenty One.'"

Each count in the indictment is punishable by a maximum five year prison term or a $5,000 fine, or both.

The rigging charge against "Twenty One" was brought by Herbert Stempel, of New York, a former contestant.

Stempel said he had been coached on some questions and had been told to lose to Charles Van Doren, who became a national figure on the program by winning $29,000.

Later, James Snodgrass, another former contestant, said he had received answers before appearing on the show.

As the handcuffed Freedman left the District Attorney's Office to be booked, he denied the charges. "Everything I told the grand jury is the truth," he said.

Sen. Johnson Pledges Work With President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) pledged victorious Democrats today to meet President Eisenhower at least halfway to avoid partisan warfare in the two years ahead.

The Senate majority leader said that a nation "cannot exist in the field of foreign affairs and defense when it speaks with two voices."

At the same time, Johnson sketched the broad outlines of a 12-point legislative program, some parts of which are certain to draw Eisenhower's fire.

Johnson also took obvious note of Eisenhower's campaign speeches calling some Democrats spend-thrifts, radicals, boomdoggers and gloomdoggers, but said his party would not seek revenge.

"Every campaign, of course, produces its exaggerations and its heated remarks," said Johnson, who with House Speaker Sam Rayburn will lead the next Congress.

"Some people will say things—when they see a few votes fading away—which they would never say upon reflection."

Speaks In Texas

Johnson's speech was prepared for a Texas Business Education Day at Big Spring, Tex. Copies of his address, his first since Tuesday's elections greatly increased Democratic congressional strength, were given out at Johnson's Capitol office.

"The Democrats will give the President the same type of cooperation that he has received from us ever since he came into office," Johnson said.

When the Democrats agree with the President, they will try to support him, Johnson said, and when they disagree, they will try to present constructive alternatives.

Some of the proposals Johnson outlined today appeared certain to win opposition from Eisenhower, who emphasized at a Wednesday news conference what he called the dangers of reckless spending.

Doesn't Specify Plans

Without specifying what he had in mind, Johnson called for a new farm program, saying, "There is something wrong when the government must spend 53 cents for every net dollar the farmer takes in."

Eisenhower told reporters Wednesday he contemplated no change in the administration's farm policy.

Johnson called for legislation to help areas of chronic unemployment. Eisenhower vetoed an employment development bill passed at the last session which far exceeded his own recommended program.

And the senator called for stepped-up water development in the West, a lowering of interest rates he said are slowing down economic growth, a "bold housing program which will set as its goal a home for every American family," and an expanded airport building program.

"Our country is heading into one of the greatest expansions of history," Johnson asserted. "There just won't be time for the partisan bickering and the petty political warfare that the columnists fear."

and the home base for the Air Force rescue.

The 10-foot-thick ice floe, first manned as an IGY scientific station in the spring of 1957, was ripped into two sections by the storm.

The men were marooned on one piece about 1,000 feet square. A 4,000-foot runway on the other piece had been used to supply the station.

At Seattle, Prof. Phil E. Church, executive officer of the University of Washington Department of Climatology, said the island on which the station was originally set up was about a mile by two miles in size. This was the third or fourth time since last April that sections have broken away, Dr. Church said.

The marooned men were informed of the rescue plane's approach by radio. They made a dash by small boats across a mile and a half of open water to the runway half of the island.

The scientific station, under command of Air Force Capt. James F. Smith, Oklahoma City, was engaged in a wide variety of IGY studies.

The chief scientist was George Cikanovich of Columbia University, New York. Another one of the civilians was Father Thomas Cunningham of Barrow, Alaska, an expert on polar ice conditions.

The Air Force said there probably would be no attempt to get personnel back on the island this winter, because of the danger of carrying out such an operation in total darkness.

The Air Force said the abandoned floe or another like it would probably be manned next April.

Uses Radio Phone

Later, after he and Bergen had failed to find the others, Bergen used a radio-phone in a truck to ask for help from a company camp eight miles away.

Within 30 minutes, men and equipment had started looking for the two missing men.

Lincoln County Sheriff Jack Waterman said "the men were only about 25 feet from safety when the slide overtook them. They were under three feet of dirt. It appeared that both died instantly."

The accident occurred about 13 miles north of here.

A company spokesman said that the landslide, which contained about 100,000 feet of bucked logs, apparently had been loosened by heavy rains.

Major Earthquake Felt Strongly

TOKYO (AP)—A major earthquake spawned deep in the Pacific rolled over northern Japan in a thunderous wave today. It smashed windows and broke power lines.

No casualties or serious damage were reported, however.

A tidal wave alert was flashed immediately across the main northern island of Hokkaido and northern Honshu but was canceled later.

Unusual wave action was reported from Wake Island, east of Japan. A weak tidal wave hit Hawaii. The Hawaiian islands of Hahu and Kauai reported rises of about a foot along their shores. There were no immediate reports of injuries or damage.

The quake rumbled and jerked across Hokkaido for two terrifying minutes, beginning at 7:58 a.m. Lesser shocks surged as far south as Yokohama, a distance of some 600 miles.

WEALTHY RULER TO RETIRE

BOMBAY, India (AP) — The Nizam of Hyderabad, who once ruled 18 million people and was known as the richest man in the world, announced today he is retiring from public life.

He said he would devote all his time to his big family. The last census showed the 72-year-old prince had more than 200 children by the many women in his harem.

She said the program outlined by Bing was "too routine."

"I cannot do old, decayed routines and I told Mr. Bing that," she added. "He has 60 artists to do those things—they would be happy to do them."

She said she wanted at least one new opera in her schedule.

The tempestuous Miss Callas' entire career has led from one squabble to another.

In 1955, she broke with the Lyric Opera of Chicago in 1957, both the Vienna and the San Francisco operas dropped her. Last January Miss Callas walked out of the Rome Opera part way through a performance, attributing her quitting to voice trouble. Later she publicly apologized to Italian President Giovanni Gronchi, among those in the audience.

Last June she announced she was shunning Milan's famed La Scala because of a disagreement with the management.

Miss Callas made her debut at the Met on opening night of the 1956-57 season.

Bing said Viennese-born Leonie Rysanek will replace Miss Callas this season.

Witness Claims Caril Wore Victim's Clothes

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Murder defendant Caril Ann Fugate, when taken into custody last January, was wearing the blouse and jacket of one of Charles Starkweather's slaying victims, a jury was told today.

Mrs. Gertrude Karnopp, wife of the Lancaster County sheriff, said Caril, on the ride to Lincoln from Wyoming, identified the items of clothing as belonging to Mrs. Laurie Ward of Lincoln, one of the 11 persons the condemned Starkweather has admitted slaying.

Caril is on trial for first degree murder, charged with aiding and abetting Starkweather in one of the killings.

Mrs. Karnopp rode with Caril from Gering, Neb., to Lincoln on Jan. 31, two days after Caril, then 14, and Starkweather, 19, were taken into custody.

Starkweather's own testimony stands as the most damaging to date against Caril.

Starkweather completed a dramatic two-day appearance at Caril's trial Thursday. Prosecutors expected to rest their case today after introduction of a statement taken from Caril after her capture. Its contents have not previously been divulged.

Starkweather pictured Caril as his willing accomplice on a killing spree last January.

He disowned as "a bunch of hogwash" his earlier statements which portrayed her as an unwilling helper.

He lied to protect the girl, he said.

In fact, he related, some stories he told were fabricated jointly by Caril and himself while they lived together for several days at Caril's home after Starkweather killed three members of Caril's family.

Of his present feelings toward Caril, Starkweather said, "I don't dislike her" but "I don't make no difference to me" whether she is alive or dead.

Oakland To Install Tile On City Street

(By EDITH DUNN)

The Oakland City Council decided at its regular meeting Wednesday night to install tile on upper Locust Street to improve drainage.

The decision came after a move was suggested by John Edwards, street superintendent. Lee Treadwell will be contracted for the job.

In other action, the council approved renewal of dispenser liquor licenses for Oakland Tavern, Adams' Apple and Best Cafe. Renewal of retail package licenses was approved for Oakland Shopping Center and Bert's Food Market.

The council took note of a letter from the state Highway Commission which reported no funds will be available in the coming year for paving of Oakland streets.

The council plans to send several members to the League of Oregon Cities convention in Eugene Nov. 16-17. Councilmen also voted to pay expenses for Fire Chief Fay Stearns to attend an instruction school in Roseburg.

City Judge L. F. Stearns reported $25 in fines was received by the city last month. The council canvassed and approved city ballots in the only other order of business.

Sanitary Districts To Elect Directors

North Roseburg and Green Sanitary Districts each will elect two directors for three-year terms Dec. 1.

The last day for receiving petitions for the offices is Monday, according to the secretaries in each district.

At Green, the terms of Robert Boehm and Kenneth Gum expire. A petition for re-election of Boehm has been received, but Gum has declined to run again. A second petition containing the name of Floyd Warner has also been received, according to Secretary Orpha Eutan. Other petitions must be received by 8 p.m. Monday.

Alta Bartram, secretary of the North Roseburg District, says only one petition has been received for election to the two director positions there. It is that of George Niday, who was appointed by the Douglas County Court to replace Dr. A. E. Dalros. Dalros moved away from the district. The second expiring term is that of Charles Peterson.

Petitions for director candidates must contain the names of 10 registered voters in the districts. The elections will take place from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Dec. 1. At Green the polling places will be Green School. At the North Sanitary District, it will be the district office at 691 NE Alameda Ave.

Woman Succumbs Following Fast In Religious Rite

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—"We fast when God tells us to," said a retired newspaperman whose wife collapsed and died in the 14th day of one of their fasting periods, a day of one of their fasting periods, Thursday night.

Wright Welker, 50, told police that he and his wife, Frances, 38, entered a hot bath at their home Thursday as part of a religious ritual. "She said, 'I am very tired,'" Welker told officers, "and slumped forward in the tub."

An autopsy did not disclose the cause of death.

Welker said he and his wife frequently fasted, taking "nothing more than water and juice." Two years ago, he said, they went without food 40 days.

Welker said his wife began her latest fast two weeks ago after quitting her clerical job and telling him: "The adherence to the principles of making money is destroying me."

Welker said he fasted to combat "the sin engulfing the world." He and his wife belonged to the West Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints here. A Mormon spokesman said the church advocates a day of fasting each month but does not permit longer fasts.

The Welkers had four children, ranging in age from 2 to 15. Police said the family ice box was full and the children apparently were eating normally. Welker said they didn't take part in the fasts.

Thornton Asked To Rule On Recall Of Sen. Morse

GRANTS PASS (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Thornton was asked Thursday to rule on the legality of a possible recall movement against Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.).

State Rep. Fayette I. Bristol (R-Grants Pass) said that if it is possible to recall federal officials, such as a senator, under the state constitution a move will be initiated in Southern Oregon to recall Morse.

Bristol asked Thornton, a Democrat, for the ruling.

In an 11th hour attack before Tuesday's election, Morse questioned the integrity of Hatfield when he resurrected a court decision which stemmed from a civil suit after Hatfield's car killed a girl 18 years ago.

The state Supreme Court rejected an appeal by Hatfield after a jury awarded the victim's parents $3,000 damages.

Morse said Hatfield had lied under oath in court.

Chair Shatters Under Jack Paar

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A movie stunt chair shattered under Jack Paar on his coast-to-coast television show Thursday night. The comedian was thrown backward—hard—to the floor.

Paar lay there briefly, wincing, his left arm and elbow bruised. Then he was helped up by Harvey Parry, Hollywood stunt man, who was interviewing comedian Cliff Arquette replaced Paar in the interview. But Paar returned for about 40 minutes more of the show.

Arquette took over for the last half hour of the 1-hour, 45-minute program after Paar told aides he felt nauseated and thought he might faint. He was taken to his hotel, where a doctor examined him and found only bruises.

Lions Hear Tax Talk, Make Plans For Anniversary

Re-elected County Assessor Morris Bowker spoke on the Oregon tax system and its problems, stressing especially the hassle over forest timber assessments at the Roseburg Lions Club meeting Thursday night.

In club business further announcements were made on plans for the club's 30th anniversary observance Nov. 15. Some 300 Lions and guests from various parts of Oregon are expected for the occasion, with immediate past president of Lions International Ed Barry as the principal speaker.

Club members will hold a work party next Thursday night during their regular meeting to arrange for the anniversary program.

The annual banquet honoring members of Roseburg High School's football team and its coaches will be held Dec. 4, announced Roland Edie, chairman. Del McKay, representing the Indian Club, will arrange for the speaker, a top sports personality to be announced later.

The Lions also stressed plans for their light bulb sale Nov. 20 and 21. The club will have a booth in the Country Store, community project for Christmas fund raising, at the Fairgrounds Community Building.
