Nixon, Rockefeller Agree To Avoid Stepping On Each Other's Toes In Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon and Nelson A. Rockefeller apparently have reached an understanding to avoid stepping on each other's political toes until 1960.

A weekend conference here between the vice president and the Republican governor-elect of New York produced an informal agreement pointed publicly at cooperation between them in rebuilding the GOP from its heavy election this year.

Rockefeller endorsed a thesis Nixon first advanced in October—that the party will be best served if it develops a number of men of national stature as possible presidential nominees for 1960.

Rockefeller Interested

While Nixon makes no secret that he wants that nomination, Rockefeller said he is interested only in doing a good job as governor of New York. Asked if this wasn't the best way to run for president, Rockefller only grinned.

Rockefeller's statement that he intends to confine his activities to New York was taken as assurance he will not personally interfere in the spade work Nixon's supporters are engaged in elsewhere.

Nixon, on the other hand, obviously is not going to intrude in New York, where Rockefeller is expected to have control of the largest of the state delegations to the convention two years from now.

It also seems implicit in the understanding between the two men that Rockefeller will not lend his support to any stop-Nixon move such as Harold E. Stassen is trying to get off the ground.

Stassen Ignores Nixon

Stassen, a former adie to President Eisenhower, pointedly omitted Nixon's name and included Rockefeller's in a personal listing of possible candidates for the 1960 GOP nomination.

In response to a question, Rockefeller said it seemed so obvious Nixon's name belongs on any list of prospects "that it hardly needs my comment to reassure him."

Stassen tried without success to dump Nixon from the GOP national ticket in 1956. Officials of the Republican National Committee said slight reaction the committee has received so far as a result of Stassen's latest move indicates to them he will have trouble getting anywhere with it.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), who won re-election this month in the face of a national Democratic sweep, said Nixon is "my candidate" now for the presidential nomination.

Goldwater said in a radio-TV interview that Rockefeller should receive consideration in 1960 if he does a good job as governor and, as Goldwater put it, doesn't "take up the radical cry of the Democrats."

Escapee From Union County Jail Captured

LA GRANDE, Ore. (AP) — A 22-year-old escapee from the Union County jail surrendered Saturday to a jeep posse of state police and sheriff's deputies who located him in a wilderness area.

State Police Sgt. D. J. Casciato said Paul Brown, the escapee, was recaptured between Powder and Union along the ridge country parallel to Highway 30.

Brown told officers that after he escaped Friday he walked through the Grande Ronde Valley, but into the ridge area when he spotted a Highway Commission truck.

An elk hunter, who previously heard a description of Brown on the radio, spotted him and tipped police.

Brown was jailed about three weeks ago on charges or robbing a Union, Ore., tavern.

A teenager whose auto smashed into a truck when he swerved to avoid hitting a dog was among the six persons that died during the weekend on the state's highways. The deaths brought the Washington death toll for the year to 490, compared to 475 at the same time last year.

Woman Drives To Death When Car Won't Stop

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) A woman drove to her death early today as a policeman in a cruiser vainly tried to tell her how to shut off the ignition of her speeding automobile as it approached a steep hill.

The woman was identified as Myrtle Einhaus, 49.

Officer Elsworth Greiner said he was sitting in a restaurant drinking a cup of coffee when his cruiser was sideswiped. He dashed outside, jumped into his car and gave chase.

"Pull over to the curb," he demanded of the woman driver when he drew alongside.

"I can't stop the car!" she cried out.

"Turn off the ignition key," Greiner directed.

"I can't find it!" she shouted back.

Approaching cars forced the officer to drop back as the woman reached a hill. There is a turn at the end of the hill. Mrs. Einhaus failed to make it. Her car hit a pole and she was killed.

Boy Dies Because Live Cartridge Among Blanks

ST. LOUIS (AP) A 13-year-old boy died Sunday because a live .22 cartridge got mixed up with blank rounds.

The victim was Gary F. Hermeyer.

He and two friends, George Shackelford, 15, and Melvine Brune, 13, had been target shooting in the woods. They were carrying live and blank ammunition.

Walking home, they decided they would see what a powder burn would look like on an Army helmet liner Gary was wearing.

George and Melvine told police that George put the liner on his head and Melvine fired a blank at it. The shot produced only a tiny smudge.

Melvine reloaded and Gary who had first refused to wear the liner, put it on.

Young Shackelford took over the weapon, aimed and fired.

Gary died in a hospital three hours later.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Creek Set Afire When Oil Spilled Into It

Firemen, who extinguished the blaze early today, had to fight through the thick black smoke that clogged the area on the northwest edge of Washington. Two firemen were hurt slightly.

The oil company that owned the tanks took the entire loss. No residential property was damaged.

Detroit Tigers Mulling Trade With NY Yanks

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers are trying to trade pitcher Bill Hoeft to the New York Yankees for infielder Jerry Lumpe.

The Tigers would throw in another player along with Hoeft in order to get Lumpe, who could solve Detroit's third base problem.

General Manager John J. McHale would like to have shortstop Gil McDougald, but realizes the chances of getting the Yankee captain are remote.

He feels New York might be persuaded to give up Lumpe, who shared the Yankee third base job with Andy Carey last season.

Fathers of players, Lions Club members and other guests heard Dyson recap the season, which saw the Bulldogs win six games, tie a pair and drop only one. The lone Sutherlin loss came two weeks ago when Eagle Point eked out a 19-18 decision in a state class A-2 playoff curtain-raiser.

Bears Squeak Past Tribe To Clinch Berth In Rose Bowl

Iowa figures to knock off California in the Rose Bowl. But don't be too certain. The Bears weren't even supposed to be in the final Pacific Coast Conference race. Yet they won the PCC title, pulling out squeakers week after week.

One of the squeakiest for Pete Elliott's unknowns was Saturday's 16-15 "Big Game" victory over Stanford, giving the Berkeley, Calif., boys the trip to Pasadena.

Had they lost, Washington State would have been in the picture since the Cougars wound up their season at Spokane beating Washington 18-14. That gave the northerners from Pullman a 6-2 PCC record to California's 6-1.

Oregon upset Oregon State 20-0 and Southern California and UCLA battled to a 15-15 tie at Los Angeles.

Have Held Own

Actually, California hasn't done so bad in their three Rose Bowl battles against the Big Ten. Granted the Midwesterners have won 11 of 12 since the Jan. 1 Big Ten-PCC series started, but none of the three Bear losses were by more than a touchdown.

The scores: 1949 Northwestern 20 California 14; '50 Ohio State 17 California 14; '51 Michigan 14 California 6.

Pappy Waldorf didn't get back after the Michigan game. He made the Rose Bowl in his first season at California.

It took two seasons for Pete Elliott, a 31-year-old exponent of the split T offense who had quarterback Joe Kapp to make it go.

Stanford almost stalled it, however, before 81,490 spectators in Memorial Stadium. The Indians, winners of only two games all year, held a 9-8 halftime lead, and Dick Norman's 21-yard touchdown heave to end Joe Freis came with just 1½ minutes left in the game. The Cal line piled up Skip Face as Stanford elected to go for the victory instead of a tie.

Hart Rambles

Jack Hart was the big gun in the California attack, plunging for both touchdowns, carrying the ball 22 times for 103 yards and catching three Kapp passes for 48 yards. Kapp ended the season as the second highest gainer in California history. Only Paul Larson, much more of a passer, has more total yardage on the books.

Washington State had to rally in the second half to beat Washington, 1-6 in PCC activity. The Cougars were behind 14-12, but moved 79 yards for the go-ahead touchdown on the third quarter kickoff and dominated play thereafter. They got to the Washington 3 twice but failed to score.

Southern California finished third in league standings 4-2-1 and also had to come from behind. A fourth quarter 74-yard kickoff return by Luther Hayes and a two-point conversion run by Tom Maudlin tied the battle. UCLA finished with a 2-4-1 conference mark.

It's Tale Of Woe Again For This Prep Grid Team

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—Cambridge High which hasn't won a football game since 1956, set out to end its winless ways Friday night.

Against Northhampton of Eastville, Va., Cambridge ground out one touchdown and kicked for the extra point. Then it went over for another TD and decided to run for a two-pointer.

A Cambridge back plunged over from the two - and there were whoops and hollers of joy from the home stands. But the play was called back. Illegal procedure. They went over again, this time from the seven. But. . .illegal procedure again.

The third try failed.

The final score: Cambridge 13 Northhampton 13.

Cambridge's record since Oct. 5, 1956: no wins, one tie, 21 losses.
