

Hearing Examiner Would Void Award Of TV Channel 10

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special hearing examiner today recommended that the Federal Communications Commission void its 1957 award of TV Channel 10 at Miami, Fla., to Public Service Television, Inc. He gave alleged pressure tactics on FCC as the reason. The special examiner, retired Chief Justice Horace Stern of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, reported to the commission after a review of the four-way contest for the channel. Stern said both Public Service Television, owned by National Airlines, and WKAT, Inc., sought the use of improper influences in their efforts to obtain the award. Stern asserted a third applicant, North Miami Video, Inc., composed of Miami businessmen, sought to enlist the aid of senators and congressmen in obtaining the grant. But he held there was no evidence of any illegal action by this applicant. The fourth applicant, which came in for no criticism, was L. B. Wilson, Inc., operating Radio Station WCKY, Cincinnati. The special examiner recommended further proceedings by FCC without stating whether this review should permit additional applications for Channel 10, as recommended by the Justice Department.

Thanksgiving Holiday Deaths Below Estimate

(Continued From Page One) year was 38,500, an average of about 105 a day. The Associated Press, for comparison purposes, made a survey in a 102-hour non-holiday week in earlier last month and counted 394 traffic deaths. Other violent deaths for the period showed 32 in fires and 121 in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 247. The record over all accident deaths during the four-day holiday period was 884 set at Christmas 1956. Of the total, 707 were killed in traffic accidents. At least four states, New York, Alabama, California and Illinois, each reported 20 or more deaths on the highways. New York led all states in total violent deaths with 56. Rhode Island was the only state not reporting any violent deaths.

Third Child Is Born To Woman On Nov. 29

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—For former Portlanders Mr. and Mrs. Frank Willey, a one-in-a-million chance happened. Mrs. Willey, 26, gave birth to a son—her third after two girls. But this child, like the first two, was born Nov. 29. "It baffles me," said the father, a 28-year-old aircraft company movie cameraman. "Karan, our oldest is 5 today—and she was born seven weeks prematurely." "Kathy, who is 3 today, was two weeks overdue when she was born. And now Richard, who arrived today— he's about eight days overdue. "This triple birthday every Nov. 29 just a few weeks before Christmas—is going to get a little rough on the pocketbook in a few years. "Just the same, we're happy to have everyone of our kiddies."

Counting Votes Goes Slowly In Uruguay Election

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—Counting of votes from Uruguay's national elections went slowly today with the opposition National Blanco (White) party taking a slight lead in early returns. Regardless of the outcome, government policy was not due to change much. Both the Nationalists and the government Colorado (Red) party are pledged to a conservative policy and continued friendship with the United States. It was estimated that about a million persons voted out of a total of 1,410,103 registered. But at midnight only 76,733 votes had been tallied. National party and 23,547 to the Colorados. At stake were the nine seats on the National Council, which heads the government instead of a president; congressional seats; and provincial offices. The voters also were asked to say whether they wanted to change the present council government back to the old presidential system. No disorders were reported. The Colorados have governed Uruguay for 93 years. Their leader, 61-year-old Luis Battle Berres, is Uruguay's most prominent political figure, but economic troubles have cut into his popularity.

Student Will Not Attend Funeral Of Family He Slew

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Husky Lowell Lee Andrews said today he will not attend funeral services for his parents and sister whom he shot to death in a burglary-disguised plot to inherit the family farm and bank account. Andrews, a University of Kansas sophomore, is being held on a charge of first degree murder. He calmly admitted Saturday he killed his father, W. L. Andrews, 50; his mother, Opal, 41; and his sister, Jennie Marie, 20, as they watched television Friday night in the living room of their home in suburban Wolcott. The 6-foot-2, 260-pound student told officers his motive was to inherit the 250-acre farm and an $1,800 savings account. Authorities planned to resume a search for the rifle and pistol the 18-year-old said he used in the killings. Young Andrews said he threw them in the Kaw River near Lawrence, site of the university, but skin divers were unable to find them Saturday. Officers said the weapons may be sunk in mud.

Sticky Youth Tells Of Slaying Aunt In Frenzied Fight

VALLEY STREAM, N. Y. (AP)—A sticky eighth-grader has admitted the frenzied slaying of his 23-year-old aunt, mother of two children. Police said Richard C. Mazzotti, 14, told them he killed Mrs. Mary Lou Wright, a slender brunette, "because of a sudden urge I can't explain." The boy's father, Novie Mazzotti, brother of the slain woman, found Mrs. Wright's body late Saturday night in her basement apartment, which showed signs of a terrific battle. Her children, Robert Jr., 5, and Michael, 3, were asleep and unharmed. Authorities said Richard had battered Mrs. Wright with a large soda bottle, a lamp, a power paint sprayer and a large jar with an electric cord. Then, they said, he stabbed her repeatedly with a carving knife and twisted the cord around her neck. Mrs. Wright's husband, Robert, 26, was on a weekend hunting trip. He is employed by the sanitation department of this Long Island community. Nassau County authorities pieced together this account of the slaying. Richard visited his grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Mazzotti, 90, Saturday evening and then called on his aunt. He watched television while Mrs. Wright, dressed in a housecoat, rested in a bedroom. She asked Richard to leave and he refused, flying into a frenzy. After the attack, he slipped from the apartment, eluding his grandmother. She had become worried when no one answered her call at the Wrights' apartment, which is beneath hers. Richard was charged with juvenile delinquency because of his age, and was held for an arraignment today.

Legislature To Be Asked To Rule On Steelhead Status

EUGENE (AP)—The coming Legislature will be asked to rule on the Frank Walton League's years-long contention that steelhead is a game fish that ought to be barred from commercial fishermen's nets. The league at its annual Oregon convention Saturday adopted a resolution calling on the Legislature to designate steelhead a game fish. In another action, the league proposed that the U.S. Forest Service and the Bureau of Land Management require access agreements before issuing leases to public lands for grazing or other purposes. This is intended to prevent private land owners from blocking hunters from public lands. The group honored Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) for his sponsorship of the Klamath Indian Termination Act, and heard him call for endorsement of the Wilderness Preservation Bill, subject of a recent hearing at Bend. Luit Jensen Jr., Hood River, was elected president. Vice presidents named were: Allen Kelly, Portland; Vic Withrow, Salem; Tom Thayer, Maupin; Ivar Masterson, La Grande; Dr. Don Sorell, Portland; Henry Devoss, Talent; and Ted Turell, Eugene.

The meeting with Dr. Bullen was set up by Dr. Herbert Muth attached to the veterinary staff of Oregon State College.

De Gaulle Followers Sweep To Victory In France

(Continued From Page One) beyond the desires of De Gaulle, who refused to lend his name officially to any party or candidate in an effort to remain above politics. He had hoped for a more balanced representation of moderates to effect a liberal settlement of the four-year nationalist rebellion in Algeria. It now appeared that the Premier was the only brake to the rightist movement running under his colors but without his consent. Included in Soustelle's following in the new Assembly are four generals and five colonels who used the rightist insurrection in Algeria last May as a springboard to politics. Leftist and moderate candidates were hurt by many things. They were identified with the discredited Fourth Republic and its constantly changing governments. Many had opposed De Gaulle and his new constitution or were late in getting on the bandwagon. They suffered the loss of seats through the abandonment of proportional representation. Duclos and many Communists were the victims of the new runoff system which permitted the weaker candidates in a district to drop out on the second round and throw their strength against the Reds.

East-West Agree To Draft Ban On Nuclear Tests

GENEVA (AP)—East-West negotiators have agreed to start negotiations on a treaty on a controlled nuclear test ban even though they are still far apart on the main issue. After four weeks of sparring on which must come first, the ban or a system to enforce it, the British, American and Soviet delegates agreed Saturday to bring their first real negotiations of the conference. Each side gave in a bit. The West temporarily dropped its demand that the Soviet Union first commit herself to the details of a control system to detect sneak tests. Instead, the British and Americans proposed that the conference discuss a test ban which they said would be linked inseparably with the control system. The Soviet Union agreed to the discussion, after having previously held out for a permanent ban as the first step. But Western delegates saw no chance of ultimate agreement on a treaty if the Soviets remain adamant against accepting an international system to detect tests. The 10-nation conference on preventing surprise attacks remained deadlocked, with the Soviets refusing to discuss Western technical operations. The West refused to take up political questions on disarmament and the cold war that the Soviets have proposed.

President Calls Vital Defense, Space Meets

(Continued From Page One) meeting at the White House will deal with the issue raised by a proposal by the new National Aeronautics and Space Administration to take over the Army's ballistic missile agency. That would mean transfer of about 2,000 scientists to the civilian agency. The proposal touched off a storm of Army protest when it was first made a few weeks ago. But there now are reports at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters that the controversy has been resolved—and that a decision satisfactory to both the space agency and the Army may be announced soon. The space administration plan was for it to take over the Army Redstone Arsenal team of scientists at Huntsville, Ala. The team is headed by German-born Werner von Braun. On the agenda at the National Security Council meetings Wednesday and Thursday will be the big question of how much to earmark for starting spending in the fiscal year starting July 1. The council also will study over-all foreign air plans, particularly whether military assistance should be curtailed in favor of greater economic aid to other nations. After a conference with Eisenhower here last Friday, Secretary of Defense McNamara left open the possibility that defense spending next year will run about one billion dollars more than the $40,800,000 estimated for the year which started July 1.

Foreign Ministers Sweep Ahead In Principle

LONDON (AP)—Foreign ministers of the Big Three Western Allies and West Germany were reported agreed today in principle on an early meeting to coordinate a policy on the Soviet Union's threat to Berlin. Diplomatic officials said they may arrange to have their talks in Paris. Officials of the four powers are studying the Soviet note which last week proposed that West Berlin be turned into a free city. Present thinking among the Western Allies is that they should turn down the Soviet proposal and offer to consider Berlin's future only in the wider context of a German peace settlement.

Widow Back After Making Friends With Auca Slayers

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Three years ago primitive warlike Auca Indians murdered five American missionary men who sought to teach them the Gospel in the deep jungle of eastern Ecuador. Today the widow and 4-year-old child of one of the slain men and the sister of another are on their way back to civilization after making friends with the Aucas who killed their men. They spent 53 days in their village. The women are Mrs. Betty Elliot, 32, Portland, Ore., and Rachel Saint, 40. With them is 4-year-old Valery Elliot. The two women plan to return to the Aucas after a short rest. Other missionaries may accompany them. After Mrs. Elliot's husband and Mrs. Saint's brother were killed with three other missionaries, the two women decided to take up the work of their men. On the missionary outpost of Arajujo, in the Amazon jungles, they won the friendship of an Auca woman who had quit the tribe and six other Auca women and their three children who had come to Arajujo on a peace mission. Friendly Quichua Indians finally took all the women to the Auca village on the Curaray River, a three-day canoe trip from Arajujo. Mrs. Elliot and Miss Saint kept in touch with Arajujo by short-wave radio. A missionary plane dropped supplies to them regularly. Four days ago the Quichuas left for the village to bring out the two white women and the child.

Mexicans Mostly Ignore Communist Whistle Plea

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexicans mostly ignored Communist pleas for derisive whistles to greet U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on his arrival for Mexico's 57th president. Dulles arrived Sunday at the head of a 15-member delegation. Among the others are President Eisenhower's brother Milton and Gen. Curtis LeMay, deputy chief of staff of the U.S. Air Force. The Communists had asked all Mexicans to whistle—an expression of derision in Mexico—when Dulles appeared. But the only whistlers at the heavily guarded airport were a group of youngsters on top of a building. Others cheered as the U.S. military air transport landed. Milton Eisenhower said he brought special messages from his brother to Lopez Mateos and outgoing President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines. President Eisenhower, he said, "desires fuller, more sincere and closer relations with Mexico."

Young Man Shot By Police After Speeding Car Chase

PORTLAND (AP)—A young man was shot here Sunday after police chased a speeding car over one Willamette River bridge and then back across another. Police said they had placed a guard around the hospital room where Herman Henry Clay, 21, lay with his left leg shattered by a pistol shot. Policeman R.W. Bowley said he fired that shot after Clay flashed a pocket knife, and then started to run. Only minutes before, two police cars had forced the speeding vehicle to a halt and its driver had jumped out and darted to a nearby warehouse.

Colest Weather Hits Northeast Southern Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The season's coldest weather blanketed the Northeast and sent an icy chill deep into the South today. The Midwest got a brief respite from the near-zero cold and snow. The Northeast was hit by the frigid blasts in the wake of the heavy snowstorm which swept the region over the weekend after leaving near record early season falls in the Rockies and Midwest. Temperatures dropped below zero in northern New England and near zero in parts of New York state. One of the lowest readings was -14 at Mt. Washington, N.H. The mercury edged toward the zero mark in areas southward across western Pennsylvania into West Virginia. The freezing line extended southward toward the mid-Gulf Coast, including northwestern Florida. Subzero marks were in prospect from the eastern Great Lakes to the mountain regions of eastern West Virginia and through the interior sections of New England. Snow was in prospect during the day in the north Atlantic states. After several days of cold, snow and strong winds, a warming trend developed throughout most of the Mississippi Valley, the eastern Plains and the West Great Lakes. BOSTON (AP)—A civilian who never before piloted a plane was charged today with trying to steal an Air Force jet to fly it to India. Donald L. Lutman, 35, unemployed, of Bound Brook, N.J., was arrested Sunday at Hanscom Air Force Base, Bedford, when he pulled a wrong lever and set off an explosion which knocked the canopy off the jet. FBI agents quoted Lutman as saying he wanted to take the plane to India so he could be at the bedside of Thakur, ailing Hindu religious leader. Lutman was quoted by the FBI as saying he became a follower of the Hindu religious leader when he was serving in India with the American Field Service during World War II. The FBI said Lutman strode to the plane—a T33 jet trainer—entered the cockpit and then fiddled with the controls in an attempt to get it off the ground. A lever he pulled, the agents said, sent the plane's canopy flying. The Air Force said the same lever was supposed to eject the seat and its occupant but mechanical trouble prevented that, thus possibly sparing Lutman's life. Air Force personnel rushed to the plane from nearby hangars. They quoted Lutman as asking if the plane was "gassed up and ready to go." A military spokesman said the question led to Lutman's arrest because "no one who knows anything about jets would ask a question like that." A tremendous amount of ground equipment is needed to start a jet.

Mother Of Three, Boy Friend Held In Husband's Death

CHICAGO (AP)—A mother of three and her ex-convict boy friend are charged with murdering her husband in what police described as a plot to collect a double indemnity insurance policy. Police said 23-year-old Richard Lansing, whose criminal record began when he was 15, admitted shooting Peter Saisi, 30, in the head as the insurance agent lay bleeding on the basement floor of his West Side home the night of Oct. 27. Lansing and Mrs. Mary Saisi, 33, started at each other coldly Sunday moments before police charged the pair with killing Saisi. Lansing said, according to police, that he shot Saisi at the woman's instigation for part of a $12,000 double indemnity insurance policy and Saisi's 1958 model car. Earlier, Mrs. Saisi told calmly that she had plotted with Lansing on robbing her husband because Lansing needed money. But she insisted she never suggested the killing. Blamed Negroes After Saisi was killed, Mrs. Saisi told police he was shot by two Negroes who broke into and robbed her husband's basement office. She aided a police artist in drawing sketches of the two men. Police said they were skeptical. They couldn't understand why robbers would take only $180 from Saisi's pockets, leave an expensive watch and order Mrs. Saisi upstairs as she claimed. Robbers would have forced her to remain in the basement, they theorized. In recent weeks, the investigation turned up numerous reports that the woman and Lansing had frequented neighborhood taverns together. Both were arrested Saturday. Police found in Lansing's car a .25-caliber automatic. Ballistics tests showed it matched with the slug taken from Saisi's head, they said. Mrs. Saisi said she met Saisi after he withdrew from St. Mary's Seminary at Cape Girardeau, Mo. in 1950. They were married in 1951, divorced in 1953 and rewed later that same year. Lansing also is married.
