

Major Jobs Still Facing Legislature

Budget Balancing, Aid To Education Await Decisions At Salem

By PAUL W. HARVEY, Jr.
SALEM (AP) — Seven jobs remain to be done by the 10-week-old Oregon Legislature, House Speaker Robert Duncan said today.

The lawmakers will have to get on the ball fast if they hope to achieve their desire to wind up the session by mid-April.

In listing the seven tasks, Duncan said he is speaking only for himself. But Duncan's thinking appears to be the composite thinking of most Democrats.

There has been very little action on the seven items. There has not been much action on anything else that's important, either.

Duncan's seven priority items are:

1. Balance the budget without new taxes, if possible.
2. Achieve some reorganization of state agencies.
3. Do something to assure Oregon its fair share of federal power.
4. Set up health and sanitation standards in farm labor camps.
5. Achieve some reform of the state's courts, especially in the handling of juvenile cases.
6. Create an interim committee to study distribution of state school funds.
7. Increase the amount of money in the unemployment compensation trust fund, possibly by making employer contribute.

The farm labor camp bill has been passed by the House. None of the other items has been considered by either house.

School Aid Urged
There are two big hearings next week. Proposals to increase basic school aid to local districts will be considered before the Education committees Monday night.

The bill to create a state Power Commission will be discussed before the House Judiciary Committee Thursday afternoon.

Legislators have been deluged with telegrams to increase school aid. Pearson told the Senate the telegrams are inspired by the Oregon Education Assn., which wants the $105 per child per year aid increased at least to $120.

The Democratic majority, however, is committed against such an increase because it would have to increase taxes to do it.

Legislators also are being besieged with telephone calls and telegrams against the bill to put Oregon on daylight saving time this year.

The campaign against the bill is being financed by water interests. The House probably will vote on the bill next week.

Palm Sunday Observance Scheduled By Christians
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Palm Sunday—the celebration of Christ's triumphant arrival in Jerusalem five days before His crucifixion—will be observed throughout the Christian world Sunday.

The day marks the start of Holy Week at thousands of churches culminating in prayers and special services on Good Friday, and preparation for the high point of the Christian calendar—Easter—on the following Sunday.

Palms, commemorating the tree branches strewn before Jesus, will be distributed in many churches.

PLAIN TRUTH
By Glen W. Lundy: Gospel Evangelist
Our guest writer for today, John M. York, will complete a series of vital spiritual discussions tomorrow with "Who Are Our Enemies?" at 11:00 A.M. and "We Have Forsaken All For Thee" at 7:30 P.M.

"MUST THE BIBLE say, THOU SHALT NOT?"
There are two basic laws of Christian conduct found among professed Christians today. Almost every professed believer claims to be governed by one of these rules. The first that we consider is: We may do ANYTHING which is NOT EXPRESSLY FORBIDDEN in the scriptures. In other words, anything is harmless and pure, so long as the Bible does not say, "THOU SHALT NOT . . ." This rule, when followed, permits the use of mechanical instruments of music in worship to God, for the Bible does not say, "Thou shalt not use mechanical instruments of music in worship." But observe the ABOVE RULE would permit the SUBSTITUTION of cake and ice cream for the bread and fruit of the vine at the Lord's Supper. Yet SINCERE CHRISTIANS would NOT QUESTION the EVIL of such an act.

The other rule is the only one that may be CONSISTENTLY FOLLOWED with no danger of embracing impure practices. That rule is, "We may do ONLY THOSE things which the BIBLE AUTHORIZES." This would forbid the use of mechanical instruments of music in the worship, for GOD has AUTHORIZED us to use VOCAL MUSIC. Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord." (Ephesians 5:19) This, of course, also RULES OUT THE SUBSTITUTION of cake and ice cream or anything else, for the bread and fruit of the vine at the Lord's Supper. It would be completely impractical for God to attempt to write a "thou shalt not . . ." in the Bible for every evil act. How much easier it is to specify those THINGS that are RIGHT and leave it to SINCERE people to be CONTENT with THOSE THINGS.

With what are we concerned? Are we endeavoring to perform the will of God? The Bible clearly teaches us His will. Let us arise and be about the Father's business.
You are urged to attend services when the Church of Christ meets, and especially the conclusion of the present meeting. Listen to KYES at 9:00 o'clock on Lord's Day morning.

COMMEMORATING a century of service, these members of Philatitan Lodge No. 8, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Roseburg, met Thursday night to cut a birthday cake that, coincidentally represents an organization as old as the State of Oregon. a work stoppage, and not that of the general public.

Their resolution was in the form of a recommendation to the Oregon State Public Welfare Commission, welfare policy making body.

Democratic leaders, along with their resolution, produced a copy of a letter from Martin Bros. to Jeanette Jewell, state welfare administrator, dated March 10 suggesting the ending of welfare benefits to idled workers. Copies were sent to the County Court and County Welfare Commission.

In the party's resolution it was stated: "That the Democratic Party of Douglas County request the resignation of V. T. Jackson from the County Court of Douglas County, thereby removing himself from the Welfare Commission; and that, should he not resign, that the Democratic party of Douglas County request the Hon. Mark Hatfield, Governor of Oregon, to remove the said V. T. Jackson from his position for malfeasance in office."

The attack on Mrs. Baker asked for her "immediate removal" from office "for the reason that she has lost the confidence and respect of a large portion of Douglas County residents and those unfortunate she is employed to serve."

It said further she "followed the Martin Bros. request . . . in a press release . . . placing the commission on the side of the company . . . by stating the number of employees receiving public assistance and the amounts received by them."

Lynch, earlier this week, disavowed the commission action and stated he was not aware the matter would be on the March 11 meeting agenda.

The Democratic executive board resolution said the action of Jackson, Huron Clough and Robert Kelly, all party members, "reflect upon the Democratic Party."

Communist-Held-Tibet Torn By Internal War
NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Fighting is raging in Lhasa, capital of Communist-held Tibet, the Indian Foreign Ministry reported today.

A terse midnight radio report from the Indian representative in "The Roof of the World" said: "Fighting in immediate vicinity of consulate. Situation tense and rising."

This was all that was received here suggesting the possibility that the radio — only free world link with Tibet — may have been cut off.

REBEKAH Lodge No. 41 of Roseburg was represented Thursday night at the celebration marking the 100th anniversary of Roseburg Odd Fellows. Dressed in Centennial costumes, they served the birthday cake and took part in ceremonies. ## Budget Cuts Evoke Ike's Denunciation

$8,310,000 less than the Treasury asked but the same amount sought by the Tax Court.

Passage of the bill cleared the way for a House vote and an almost certain floor fight next week on an omnibus appropriation bill which had contained Eisenhower's loan fund request.

The bill now earmarks $2,479,340,494 to finance miscellaneous federal agencies and departments for the remaining three months of the 1959 fiscal year.

Altogether, the Appropriations Committee slashed the omnibus measure by $385,614,032—of which the loan fund rejection was the biggest cut.

At least part of the fund may be restored later when the House considers the 1960 foreign aid appropriation. But this would charge the loan fund money against the new budget which Eisenhower is trying to balance.

The administration had requested the money be included in the current year budget, which is already heavily unbalanced.

U. S. Plane Crash Kills Two Men In Germany

PFORZHEIM, Germany (AP) — A two-engine U. S. Army liaison plane crashed just off the Stuttgart-Karlsruhe highway today. Two officers aboard the plane were killed, American and German military authorities said. Names of the victims were withheld until their families are notified.

FOUNDERS of Philatitan Lodge No. 8 of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Roseburg, more than a century ago included Rufus Mallory, prominent attorney and school teacher in the Roseburg area. He later was elected to Congress from Oregon, serving from 1867 to 1871. His picture was displayed prominently Thursday night when the local lodge marked its 100th anniversary. The fancy Centennial IOOF birthday cake was designed by Jack Dent, and lettered and garnished at Weber's Bakery by Mrs. Albert Kronke.

History Of Odd Fellows Told By Judge Jackson

session here May 19-20 in conjunction with the state wide meeting of Rebeccas and the Encampment and Auxiliary of the order.

Lodge Founders Recalled

Six prominent farmers and Roseburg business men signed the lodge charter that night more than a century ago when the chapter was founded. Some of them had ridden a day on horseback to get to town, Jackson said in his talk.

Heading the list was Crawford Gaddis, a local farmer whose family later established and ran a creamery in Roseburg. The 16-acre plot called Gaddis Park which the city has acquired on the river between 99 and NE Stephens St. is part of the old homestead.

"Gaddis probably was the outstanding leader in the early days of the lodge from the standpoint of service," Jackson said. "For years every motion considered for lodge action was either made or seconded by Crawford Gaddis." The judge continued. Several of the founders children and grandchildren still live in the Roseburg area.

L. N. Choyinkie, an itinerant merchant in the early days of the territory, was another charter signer. His son, Joe, later became a prize fighter and once fought the fabled Bob Fitzsimmons.

Also there for the founding was Rufus Mallory, an attorney and school teacher, who later was elected to Congress from Oregon. He served from 1867 to 1871.

Joel Thorn, who held one of the original donation land claims near Canyonville, was among the charter signers. He rode by horse to Roseburg with J. Q. C. Anderson-Bosch to attend the first session.

Sixth member of the charter group was E. S. Kearney of whom little is known today.

James F. Gazley and John Fullerton, IOOF members from other lodges, came to Roseburg to help set up the chapter. Bert Riddle, prominent Riddle resident, is the grandson of Gazley, Jackson noted.

The new lodge took form in the Masonic Lodge Hall which was used by Odd Fellows for meetings during the first two years of activity. Later they moved to their own building located where Central Junior High School now stands.

Odd Fellows throughout the world are known by the three links in a chain which symbolizes the organization. It now embraces 1,345,000 members in the U.S., Canada, Latin America and eight countries abroad.

The three chain links stand for love, friendship and truth in the fraternal order. The Bible is the guide for conduct of the membership who pledge to stand by the Christian credo.

In his anniversary talk, Judge Jackson said no one really knows where the organization was founded or when. "Its origin is lost in the haze of antiquity, although some say the term was used in the Roman army, and that Legionnaires of Rome had a secret way of identifying one another which earned for them the term Odd Fellows."

Earliest date of a known and organized organization was 1745 in Manchester, England, where the first unit was established. Thomas Wildy, in 1819, put an ad in the newspaper, Baltimore American, saying he'd be glad to meet with any brothers of the area at a certain Baltimore tavern and coffee house on a certain date. Five Odd Fellows showed up, forming the nucleus for the first chapter of the order in this county.

The organization grew and spread to other cities, and in 1840 the U. S. Sovereign Grand Lodge was organized, succeeding from the parent order abroad.

Jackson, who has been a member of the Roseburg lodge since 1915, has held all the offices and became State Grand Master for the IOOF, said there may be other reasons why members were called Odd Fellows, besides those attributed to Roman soldiers.

"In early days, before hospitals, nurses and doctors were prevalent, members visited the sick and often took care of them. They also had among their duties the burial of the dead and the education of orphans. I suppose this would make them seem odd to a lot of people," the judge recalled.

He went on to name a long list of early day members who were among Douglas County's most prominent citizens, many of whom have descendants living today in this area.

These early day members included Mortier Howe, Asher Marks, W. R. Willis, J. R. Noah, J. S. Fitzhugh, D. L. Watson, F. Moffitt, John Lohrert, Virgil and George Conn, William Carl, J. G. Deardorff, J. S. Van Buren, S. S. Williams, D. C. McClellan and J. M. Wright.

They were joined by Binger Herman, J. H. Dixon, George M. Brown, T. B. Kent, John Arzner, E. Stephens and J. J. Farquar, the judge reported.

HOSPITAL BEQUEST
PORTLAND (AP) — A probate court official said Friday that Mrs. Albert York left an estate appraised at $265,000 when she died Jan. 18. She was 80.

Mrs. York willed all but $100 of the estate to Doernbecher Hospital for Children in Portland.

Sutherland To Get New Bowling Alley, Service Station

Plans to construct a bowling alley and a new service station in Sutherland were announced this week by Selmar Hutchins, Roseburg contractor.

Scheduled for completion by July 1, the new development will be installed across Central Ave. from Gilkeson's Chevron Service Station near the Highway 99 cloverleaf, according to Hutchins.

A corporation, under the name of Four Winds Bowling Alleys, will be formed by Hutchins, Henry Miller and Harold Davidson, all of Roseburg.

The bowling alley will be housed in a 100 by 150-foot, pumice block structure with truss roof, according to present plans. Provision will be made for 16 bowling lanes, but only 12 will be put in at first. Automatic pin setters will be installed. There will be provision for a light refreshment booth.

The station, a Union service, will be similar to the present one across from Safeway in downtown Sutherland. It will occupy the front part of the property.

Hutchins and Miller also now have under construction a restaurant and modern, 24-unit motel on their property to the rear of Gilkeson's station. Completion is expected early this summer.

Hutchins said today that two houses now on the site of the proposed bowling alley will be removed next week, and construction will start soon after.

Mrs. Ruth Schwab

Funeral services for Mrs. Ruth Faye Schwab, 49, of Myrtle Creek will be held in the chapel of Ganz Mortuary on Tuesday at 2 p.m. Interment will follow at the IOOF Cemetery, Myrtle Creek. Mrs. Schwab died in Roseburg Thursday.

She was born on Dec. 11, 1909, at Rainier, Ore., and was married to Frank Joseph Schwab on Jan. 9, 1929 in Vancouver, Wash. They have lived in this area since April, 1951, moving here from Willamina. She is a member of the Assembly of God Church.

Survivors beside the husband include a daughter, Mrs. Betty Jones of Boise, Idaho; son Donald and Lloyd Schwab of Myrtle Creek; and three sisters, Mrs. Floyd Jackson of Roseburg, Mrs. Gertrude Dennis of Portland, and Mrs. Grace Orgon of Longview, Wash.

Prays For God's Advice.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Her suffering was just too much for me to bear. So last night I prayed all night. I asked God what to do."

That, said detective Sgt. John J. McBride, was the explanation 90-year-old George Hope gave Friday after the fatal shooting of his wife. Ad 88, she slept in their North Philadelphia home.

McBride said Hope planned to kill himself also. But his .32-caliber pistol fell from his trembling hands and the moment for suicide was passed.

Hope told police his wife had been in poor health for 10 years. Hope was charged with homicide.

Hope retired as a streetcar motorman more than 20 years ago.

Palm Sunday Music Play Planned At Days Creek
A musical drama, "And Peter's Wife," will be presented tomorrow evening, Palm Sunday, at the Days Creek Community Methodist Church.

The cast will include the three choirs of the church, adult, junior and children, as well as other individuals, reports correspondent Edith Moore.

The public program will start at 7:30 p.m.

Claude H. George

Funeral services for Claude H. George, 49, of Myrtle Creek will be held in the chapel of Ganz Mortuary on Monday at 2 p.m. Glen Lundy and Milton Anderson of the Church of Christ will officiate.

George was killed Thursday on his own logging operation, when a log slid down the hill and struck him. He saved the life of his son David in the tragedy.

George was born Jan. 2, 1910 in Gore, Tex. He had been a resident of the Myrtle Creek and Roseburg area for the last four years and has spent the last three years at Agness, prior to that time living at Newburg. He was a member of the Church of Christ, Canyonville. He was married Dec. 24, 1927 at McLean, Tex.

Survivors besides his wife May include three daughters, Mrs. Dwayne Edwards of Myrtle Creek, Mrs. William McCoy of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Mary Ellis of Lubbock, Tex.; a son, David, of Myrtle Creek; his father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. George of Newburg; a brother, Ralph, of Lafayette, Ore.; three sisters, Mrs. Clara Mae McClelland of Seligman, Ariz., Mrs. Charles Fitzgerald of Portland, and Mrs. Geraldine Aschner of Newburg.

Roseburg Group Sets Observance

Roseburg Jehovah's Witnesses will celebrate the memorial of Christ's death Monday at 8 p.m. at 1069 NE Willow St.

C. V. Stefanich, presiding minister in the group, reports "March 22" this year corresponds with Nissan 14 of the Jewish calendar. For that reason it is celebrated by Jehovah's Witnesses once each year on that anniversary date.

The occasion will be observed in all the 1778 congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses world wide. More than one million people gathered together last year for the observance.

The memorial discourse will be given by Stefanich, who has made a study of the Bible. He will draw especially on Corinthians 11:25, 26 and Matthew 26:17-27 as well as other scriptures to show why the Witnesses celebrate this event but once a year and what it means to them.

All meetings of Jehovah's Witnesses are free and open to the public. No collections are taken.

7 YEARS FOR WIFE KILLER

PORTLAND (AP)—Barnet Pollock, 41, Troutdale, was sentenced Friday to seven years in prison on his plea of guilty to a manslaughter charge.

Polley admitted beating to death Gladys Stambaugh, 43, in Troutdale last November.
