District NAIA Meet Slated in Portland

PORTLAND (AP) — The District 2 NAIA track meet will be held on the Lewis and Clark College campus Saturday with seven individual champions back to defend their titles.

They are Skip Spence, Williamette, in the high jump; Conrad Sundholm, Lewis and Clark, mile; Howard Henderson, Linfield, shot put; Colin Morse, Oregon College of Education, pole vault; Bob Crane, Linfield, javelin; Len Lukens, Portland State, two-mile; and Pedro Colley, Southern Oregon, discus.

Jeff Wins All Crowns

PORTLAND (AP) — Jefferson High School Tuesday accomplished what no other Portland team has in modern times—won all major sports championships of the year in the city league.

Those are the football, basketball, track and baseball titles.

The baseball title is not yet Jefferson's alone. But a 6-3 victory over Cleveland Tuesday gave Jefferson at least a tie for the crown, and a win over Grant Wednesday would give Jefferson undisputed possession.

Franklin, the only team with a chance to tie Jefferson, meets Benson.

Relief From Hemorrhoids Possible Without Surgery!

Persons suffering from hemorrhoids (piles) need no longer resort to painful hospital surgery, thanks to a relatively new electrocure method of treating rectal and colon disorders, practiced by the Dean Clinic in Portland, Oregon.

The Dean Clinic treatment is proving more effective than surgery in many cases and requires no hospitalization or confinement. Uncomplicated cases are

Dykes Needs Good Bull Pen

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Dykes says there is nothing wrong with his Detroit Tigers that a good bullpen wouldn't cure.

"It's a good ball club," the veteran of many managerial and coaching jobs says of the team he suddenly found himself directing about three weeks ago when Bill Norman was fired.

"The one thing wrong is that when we have to go to the bullpen we're in trouble. We could use one or two more starters, too."

The Tigers' bullpen trouble traces to the inability of Paul Foytack to perform as expected. He's started eight times and has yet to go the route.

With Foytack faltering, it was necessary to bring in Don Mossi from the bullpen to take up the slack. Mossi has been doing fine in his new role, but is sorely missed in relief.

The original Tiger bullpen had as its standbys Mossi, Ray Narleski and Tom Morgan. Morgan has been ill. Narleski got away to a terrible start, but has been good in two of his last three relief stints.

Dykes makes no secret of his hopes that a deal might be made for a pitcher or two.

Dykes declines to take credit for the club's improved showing since he took over as manager. Prior to that time it had won 2 games and lost 15. Under his direction it has won 10 and lost 5.

"The hitting is good," he observes. "But unless we get complete games from our starters we're in for a tough time."

Journeys Have Bit Of Pioneer Spirit

PORTLAND (AP) — Two boat trips, each with a tinge of pioneer spirit, are slated to begin Thursday.

Two men leave New York City for a cross-country boat trip, to include a 400-mile portage by truck over the Rocky Mountains. They plan to arrive in Portland about Aug. 1.

The older of the two, John Edwin Hogg, is 67. His partner, John Dahl, is 30.

Hogg was one of two who made the same trip in 1925 in an 18-foot craft from Oregon to New York. This time the boat will be 19 feet.

Hogg's craft the first time was bore the inscription "Headed for Heaven, Hell or Hoboken."

The other trip—by two Portland State College sophomores — 84 miles down the Nehalem River from Vernonia to the sea.

David Hain and Buzz Haag will follow the stream out of the Oregon mountains by canoe and rubber raft.

"We think that is probably one way the Indians reached the ocean from inland," said Hain. "We thought we would try it, too."

Vacancies Pose Education Gap

SALEM (AP) — State Superintendent of Public Instruction Rex Putnam said Tuesday that his secondary education section faces a crisis because of three vacancies among the four general supervisory divisions.

He told the state Board of Education that he either must employ inferior persons or leave the positions unfilled.

Clyde Martin, one of the secondary supervisors, quit his $7,200-a-year job to become curriculum director for the Milwaukee Union High School District at $8,300 a year.

Another secondary supervisor, Clifford Moffitt, quit his $6,300-a-year position to become South Eugene High School principal at $10,143.

The third supervisor vacancy was created when John Conway became director of the section.

"There is no guarantee that we will not lose others," Putnam said. "School administrators of the state, knowing the calibre of these men and the training afforded them by their state service, and realizing the salary differential, seek out the highly qualified men in state service."

The board indicated it would rather leave the positions unfilled than reduce the qualifications for the jobs.

The board approved the appointment of Arnold Granville as supervisor of curriculum in the Anchorage office of the Alaska Department of Education.

Granville holds a master's degree from the University of Oregon, and has served as principal of Clackamas County and Washington County schools.

Irma Roberson, new member by affiliation, was escorted, introduced and welcomed.

Worthy Patron, Ted Roadman, introduced Harry Smith, Associate Guardian of Oakland Bethel No. 42. Vera Smith, program chairman, read a poem entitled "Our Mother," and introduced the Reverend John P. Ginter who gave a short talk entitled "Mothers."

Ruth Bridges and Mary Barker were escorted to the East where they were each presented with a pin from members of the Drill Team in appreciation of their work with the team.

Fertilizer Tested In Fir Cone Yield

SWEET HOME (AP) — Whether fertilizer will yield more fir cones in forests may be answered by an experiment at the South Santiam Tree Farm of Timber Service Co.

The company used a helicopter to spread 200 pounds of fertilizer on five acres, 400 pounds on another five acres and 600 pounds on a third five-acre tract.

The tracts, which the foresters now plan to thin out, prune and weed of brush, are in an old burn area where trees 12 to 15 years old have come up naturally.

The immediate hope is that fertilization will increase the cones so much that the heavier seed harvest will more than pay the cost.

The foresters also hope for higher seed quality and seek also to find whether fertilizer increases Douglas fir growth.

Concrete Strike Parleys Slated

PORTLAND (AP) — Negotiations will resume Thursday at Salem in an effort to end a work stoppage at mid-Willamette Valley sand, gravel and ready-mix concrete plants, Federal Mediator Elmer Brown said Tuesday.

The announcement came in the wake of a charge by a project engineer at the Federal Aviation Agency Laurel Mountain radar station that the tie-up was halting urgent work there.

Ralph Riley, the engineer in charge of the project near Dallas, said the work would be hurting for concrete by Sunday.

The Valley Concrete Co., Independence, had been supplying the project until it was closed by the stoppage. In addition, four plants at Salem and two at Corvallis are closed down.

"The need for radar control of aircraft along the airways is far behind the demand," said Riley to the Oregonian. "We are racing to catch up."

The Laurel Mountain station would fill the gap between Seattle and Klamath Falls to control both civilian and military air traffic.

Pat Blair of the Cascade Employers Assn. said his group believed there was no more urgency for the project than for others such as the SAGE installation at Camp Adair near Corvallis.

Blair said after a meeting of the employers' group Tuesday night in Salem there was nothing to report on the meeting, but did add that no agreements had been reached.

Nebraska Ex-Con Held In Slaying

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Authorities headed toward Vale, Ore., this afternoon with Edward J. O'Connor, 28, a Nebraska ex-convict accused of murdering a San Francisco man at Rome, Ore., last week.

O'Connor was picked up here Saturday on a check-cashing charge before local police were notified he was wanted for murder.

Thomas Potter, 62, San Francisco rail worker, was found dead in a Rome motel room he and O'Connor had shared. Police here said O'Connor denied killing the older man, but admitted taking his truck and money.

Returning O'Connor to Vale were Malheur County Sheriff John Elfering and Oregon State Police Sgt. Russell Haines.

Moonlighting Legal

PORTLAND (AP) — City Atty. Alexander G. Brown Tuesday declared Portland's charter holds no blanket provision against municipal employees holding a second job during off-duty hours—a practice known as moonlighting.

But, Brown added, the city council can impose such restrictions.

By MRS. EDITH BUSH

It was announced that although the state public relations contest will be discontinued, the Sunnydale lecturer Mrs. Paul Bean Sr. will continue to keep a scrap book of grange activities for local use and record.

The 12 folding tables have been finished, and grangers thanked Mrs. Dick Parsons and Mrs. F. Hedrick for their work in sanding and varnishing them.

Home Economics chairman Mrs. C. Rydell announced a baking contest in which members will take part, she hopes. Date will be announced later.

Grant Levins, accompanied by Mrs. Levins, sang "Mother Mac-Crea," and the men served refreshments in honor of Mother's Day. A large cake beautifully decorated in honor of mothers was served.
