

Summit Policy Views Diverge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Differences between the United States and Great Britain over summit policy are bubbling to the surface once again.

Although diplomats don't like to talk about it, President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan still don't see eye to eye on the questions of timing and negotiations.

A week-long exchange of top-secret, top-level messages has made this evident.

Apparently Macmillan is trying to rush Eisenhower and President Charles de Gaulle of France into a conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at the earliest possible moment.

The British leader's insistence has surprised American officials. They had thought his earlier urgency about a summit conference was only campaign oratory. With the recent election victory in his pocket, they reasoned, he would not pressure so much. But this has not been the case.

Officials here are concerned about more than the timing. They think they have detected a willingness on Macmillan's part to soften the Western stand on the Berlin issue.

Informants say that Macmillan would like a summit conference next month, at the latest in December. President Eisenhower reportedly has suggested a meeting in early December but, if de Gaulle requests a delay, would be willing to put it off until next year, probably in February.

These differences have made diplomats feel that there must be a Western summit conference in advance of the East-West meeting. There was no confirmation, however, of a Bonn report that Eisenhower had proposed such an advance session for the end of this month.

Quadruplets Thriving

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Englehart quadruplets—two boys, two girls—are a year old and thriving.

And the mother, Mrs. Edward G. Englehart, is doing a bit of extra work to help her sanitation department employ husband provide for the quads and the six other children.

She babysits five neighbor children in her home.

Gen. Marshall's Character Highly Praised Abroad

LONDON (AP) — "Britain owes a monument to George C. Marshall," a London newspaper headline declared.

The words expressed the feelings of millions of Britons who joined the rest of the free world in mourning the death of America's soldier-statesman.

"Twice in our lifetime," said the London Daily Mail, "the world has come to the rescue of the old and each time the instrument of recovery was George C. Marshall."

In Paris, French Marshal Alphonse Juin said of Marshall: "He not only was a great soldier but also in the years following the Second World War victory a shrewd and wise statesman, and author of the generous plan which was precious help to the nations of Western Europe impoverished by the war."

Jun referred to the Marshall Plan which strengthened the free nations of the West with massive economic aid from America.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said Marshall "will be remembered for his outstanding services as the U.S. chief of staff which contributed so much to Allied victory during the war."

Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said the general's name will be "forever attached to a humanitarian endeavor without parallel in the history of mankind."

Commiss Criticize

The Japanese government described Marshall's death as "a great loss to the free world."

West German President Theodor Lübke said Marshall "will never be forgotten in Germany." West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said Berlin will honor the general's memory.

The official Communist East German news agency ADN blasted Marshall as the initiator of a plan "whose object was American leadership in Western Europe and which laid the basis for the aggressive policy of NATO."

ADN said Marshall bore "a large portion of responsibility for the Korean War unleashed by the United States and the rapid pace of the arms race forced by the United States."

Minor Illnesses Harass Men More Than Women

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Men die sooner than women, perhaps because men carry on through minor illnesses — right to the grave.

The women suffer or report more episodes of disabling illness during their lives, a team of physicians reported today.

But women can more easily take to bed with a cold, stomach upset, headaches or other ills. Women are more expected to do so in our culture, said Drs. Lawrence E. Hinkle Jr., Ruth Redmond, Norman Plummer and Harold G. Wolf, of the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center.

Bad Effect

"One is led to wonder whether the tendency of the American male to 'carry on no matter what' may not, indeed, have something to do with the greater longevity among women, but there is no easy answer to this speculation," they said.

They analyzed 25-year health and work records of 116 men and 96 women of comparable ages, background and economic status employed by the New York Telephone Co.

The women reported much more bona fide illness, the researchers told the American Public Health Assn. annual meeting here.

Their excess illness consisted mainly of colds, grippe, sore throat, stomach upsets, muscular pains, cuts and bruises, headaches, and minor upsets of mood, thought and behavior.

Acting Veteran Ends Long Run

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If Neely Edwards seems bereft today, there's good reason. He has just finished what must be by far the longest run of any actor in American show business.

"The Drunkard" finished its historic run at the Theater Mart last weekend. The Victorian melodrama, first produced by P. T. Barnum, began its run in 1933, when the nation was engaged in New Deal alphabetics.

Through earthquake, flood, recession, war and prosperity, the show continued its light-hearted preaching against demon rum. Rising costs and dwindling business finally caught up with "The Drunkard," putting Neely Edwards out of a job for the first time in 26 years. But he isn't worried.

"I never had to look for a job in my life," said Neely, now a spry 76. "Even when it looked like a catastrophe for me, something always came up. I'll let God take His course."

The entertainer fell into the job by chance. He had started his professional career in New York in 1904, worked his way up through burlesque to bigtime vaudeville as partner with Ed Flanagan, sire of Dennis O'Keefe, and also Bunny Granville, Bonita's father.

"I had made comedies at Universal for six years," Neely recalled, "and then I went East to appear with Ed in the last 10 or 12 weeks of bigtime vaudeville. I came back to free-lance in pictures when they offered me the job in 'The Drunkard.'"

He started on New Year's eve in 1934, a few months after the show opened. There he remained, playing the comic bartender and singing and hoofing in the after-show.

Bride Of Cleric Omits 'Obey' At Ceremony

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (AP) — Sister Barbara Alcorn promised to love and cherish but didn't promise to obey, as she was married Saturday morning to the Rev. Robert Laidlaw Rolfs, 39, rector of St. Martin's Anglican Church in Niagara Falls, Ont.

The 27-year-old night club performer was composed except for shedding a few tears as she stood before the altar during the Anglican Communion service.

The 27-year-old St. Thomas' Anglican Church was not quite filled for the marriage service. More than 100 persons thronged around the jubilant couple as they left the church.
