

U.S. Mediator Sets Meeting Of Publishers

PORTLAND (AP) — A federal mediator has scheduled a meeting with management of the Oregon Journal and The Oregonian today in an effort to find a way to end the strike that has cut newspaper production here and idled some 900 union workers.

Papers Delivered Here

Deliveries of the strike-combined Portland newspapers, the Oregonian and Journal, were made in Roseburg this morning.

An Oregonian official said that about 3,600 subscribers in Douglas County from the Drain-to-Canyonville area under his jurisdiction were serviced, and plans are to continue this distribution. The paper arrived about two and a half hours late, at 5 a. m. today. Newsstand sales were limited.

Tuesday, Williams said after a meeting with the union, "Nothing has developed that would make me hopeful."

Other union workers, except for engravers, have respected the strikers' picket line.

The two papers have merged temporarily for the strike and have been putting out two editions a day, carrying the names of both. The combined paper is being published in The Oregonian plant.

M. J. Frey, publisher of The Oregonian, said the press run for last night and this morning would total 385,000.

The previous day's run was 200,000. The newspapers have a combined daily circulation of 422,000.

Frey said there would be no Saturday afternoon or Monday morning papers. He said the Sunday paper would have 48 pages plus Sunday supplements.

Williams said the principal issues of the strikers' dispute are whether foremen should be union members, how many men should be used on a new type of casting machine which The Oregonian has planned to buy, and call-in of replacements at overtime pay when a workman lays off at his own convenience.

Youth Requests Counsel In Charge Of Larceny

An 18-year-old Roseburg youth Thursday asked for appointment of an attorney to defend him in a Douglas County Grand Jury indictment charging him with larceny.

Otho Turner Pippen was advised at arraignment proceedings in circuit court Thursday he will be allowed to consult fully with his attorney before any further action is taken in his case.

He was arrested Tuesday after being named in a secret indictment by the grand jury which charged him with the theft of property worth more than $75 for the alleged Aug. 14 theft of a chain saw.

Former Roseburg Man Due In Sunday Church Concert

Roland F. Wagner, Los Angeles pianist, is being presented in concert at the First Baptist Church Sunday at 3:30 p. m. The Roseburg district of Oregon Music Teachers is sponsoring the concert.

Wagner, a brother of Wayne Wagner, attended the Roseburg public school and studied piano with Mrs. Charles Brand, Miss Gladys Strong and Mrs. Elizabeth Heinline.

He attended San Jose State College and Los Angeles City College, where he was a member of Epsilon Alpha Gamma music honor society. Privately, he studied harmony and composition with Dr. Davis, head of music at Immaculate Heart College.

In 1952, Wagner was the winner of the "Bell-Brook Television Award" in San Francisco. This was a popular TV music show, hosted by the late Armand Gerard, but Wagner won the award playing classical piano music.

At present he is studying in Los Angeles with Cecile Kroell, formerly a teacher at the Conservatory in Bonn, Germany.

India Gets Moral Backing Of U.S. In Border Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States swiftly assured India of its moral backing today in a border dispute with Red China. India says the Chinese forcibly seized some of her territory.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who first told a news conference this country was taking no sides, later issued a statement saying the Red Chinese, in using force, were "wholly in the wrong."

This word was given to the Indian Embassy here and dispatched to the U.S. embassy in New Delhi. President Eisenhower is scheduled to go to New Delhi on a goodwill mission within a month. Officials were afraid that unless Herter's remarks were clarified, resentment against the United States might sour the President's visit.

Replying to news conference questions, Herter said the United States has no way of knowing directly whether India or Red China is right in the disputed territorial claims, and has taken no sides on the issue.

But 35 minutes later he issued a formal statement saying:

"The questions asked me on this subject seemed to me directed at the legal rights along the borders, and my answers accordingly related only to the legality of the rival claims. There is the further and more important point that whatever may be the merits of a dispute, force must not be used to settle it. The Chinese Communist regime has clearly used force and in this respect, is wholly in the wrong."

In taking this position, Herter put the United States more in line with Indian Prime Minister Nehru's policy which calls for settlement by negotiation and condemns the use of force.

At issue is 37,000 square miles of territory which has long been in controversy as to its real ownership although for many years it has been under Indian administration.

Last month the Chinese Communists killed nine members of an Indian police patrol and captured 10 others in what was described at the time as a Red Chinese ambush.

Herter's statement was limited to what his associates called the "moral issue" of the use of force.

All proceeds go to the Kiwanis youth fund.

Pedestrian Dies South Of Eugene

EUGENE (AP) — A pedestrian was struck by a car and killed Thursday night on Highway 99 about one mile south of Eugene. Ingvar Olaf Haugen, 44, Eugene, the driver, told state police the man, who is still unidentified, walked across the highway in front of him.

The victim, about 60 years old, had no identification on him. He was carrying a burlap sack which contained four loaves of bread and a dead cat.

Castro Sees Difficulties Ahead; Cuban Shows Fatigue In Telecast

HAVANA (AP) — Looking grim and haggard Prime Minister Fidel Castro told the Cuban people early today that his revolution faces difficult days.

Castro took only a sideways at the United States—usually his favorite target—but lashed out in a three-hour telecast at his enemies at home and called them "hypocrites who once posed as friends of the revolution."

"Rats are going to abandon the ship when things get rougher," he declared. "This is going to remind me of the bad days of the revolution, when many gave up the fight."

He predicted that the revolution would march on even if its enemies "try to mobilize God against us."

"This won't work," Castro said, "because one cannot have a good idea of God if he doesn't have a notion of what it is to love his neighbor."

Obviously weary from his hours of directing the search for Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos, his missing army chief, Castro showed only occasional flashes of his usual fire and spirit. At times his customarily free-flowing orator lapsed as if he was grasping for a word. Bags under his eyes were clearly visible.

U. S. Contention Rejected
He rejected the U. S. contention that there was no evidence U. S.-based aircraft bombed and strafed Havana in a leaflet raid over the capital Oct. 21. Castro reiterated his charge that Maj. Pedro Diaz Lanz, former commander of the revolutionary air force who defected, was responsible for the raid. He claimed again that two persons were killed and scores wounded.

Diaz Lanz was arrested in Miami on a Cuban government warrant seeking his extradition. He is now out on bail awaiting a hearing on whether he should be sent back to face charges of murder, but the United States informed Cuba the bomb bay on the plane he flew was inoperative and there was no evidence the plane did any bombing or strafing.

In an obvious reference to the United States, Castro declared neither "threats, calumnies or insolence will intimidate us. We are happy just where we are because reason is with us. Reason is not with those who have more money, more resources or more news agencies. If they want to discuss matters quietly and treat us right, we'll treat anyone right."

Trouble Traced To Law
Castro charged that the Platt amendment, giving the United States special privileges in Cuba, was the chief source of Cuba's economic and social ills.

This amendment to the Cuban constitution—drafted in 1901 and canceled in 1934—gave the United States naval bases in Cuba, prohibited Cuba having commercial relations with other nations, and gave the United States the right to intervene in Cuban affairs if American property were endangered. The only remnant of it today is the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo.

Castro sharply criticized American news agencies and some American newspapers. A member of the panel in the TV studio read a Washington newspaper report claiming Soviet submarines were secretly delivering arms to Cuba.

If we need arms, we will not bring them in like contraband but through the open port of Havana because this is a sovereign country," he shouted.

Arctic Cold Grips Rockies After Snow

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—An arctic blast plunged temperatures far below zero in many parts of the Rocky Mountains today on the heels of a 25-inch snowfall that buried Montana.

Drummond, in the Helena-Butte area of western Montana, recorded 24 below zero, the coldest reading in the nation.

Montana's warmest minimum was 6 below zero at Glasgow. Butte had -33, Helena, the state capital, charted 32 below.

Subzero temperatures also were common throughout Wyoming. Sheridan and Cody in the north each had 18 below. Moorcroft had -14. At Cheyenne, the capital, it was 3 below.

Eastern Colorado temperatures remained slightly above zero. Limon and Akron, the coldest places and near the Colorado-Kansas line, each reported 4 above zero.

Denver was 7 above. The Continental Divide formed a barrier that moderated temperatures west of the mountains.

The extreme cold in the eastern Rockies was the core of a huge cold air mass with a leading edge extending from northern Texas and thence northeastward into Pennsylvania.

Strong gusty winds pushed cold air into the southern plains. Poncha City, Okla., had puffs of 60-mile wind.

The cold spread a snow blanket of 4 to 8 inches in the northern plains and the Midwest.

There was freezing rain and drizzle in an arc from southeastern Colorado through the Texas Panhandle and northeastward into southern Michigan.

At least 15 deaths have been attributed to the massive storm which rushed out of Canada and now has engulfed much of the nation's midsection, from the mountains to the Midwest.

Seven deaths within a week have resulted from Montana's whiplash storms. Four were airmen who died in the crash of three jet fighters. Two motorists were killed and a Butte man died of exposure.

Ice roads caused seven highway deaths in Illinois, and another accident took the life of an Iowa motorist.

Two hunters are unaccounted for in mountain terrain near Missoula, in western Montana.

The snowfall tapered off along southern Montana Thursday night, leaving 20 inches of snow on the ground at Billings.

The Weather Bureau issued heavy snow warnings today for the area from Michigan through Iowa. Snow and freezing rain fell throughout the Midwest and into Kansas and Nebraska.

Travel facilities were slowed and, in some places, suspended. Schools were closed in scores of towns in Montana and Wyoming.

Lumber Concern Asks End Of Forest Loss

SEATTLE (AP) — The loss of forest lands to encroaching civilization, power lines, highways and dams must be stemmed, an official of the Weyerhaeuser Co. told the Pacific Logging Congress Thursday.

George Weyerhaeuser, a vice president of the firm, said the Pacific Northwest each year loses 70,000 acres a year to spreading urban areas and other causes.

Weyerhaeuser stressed the need for multiple use of forest lands to provide for recreation and protection of wildlife, as well as for timber and water resources.
