Death Of Vaudeville Spells Like Fate For Succeeding Entertainment, Singer Says

By JAMES BACON AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Singer-actress Pearl Bailey believes the entertainment business has been slowly devouring itself since the death of vaudeville. "We're the only industry in the world without apprentices," she moans. Pearl, 37, the septa star, one of the top draws in the plush saloon circuit, got her start in shows that played throughout Pennsylvania in the thirties. "Young performers have no place to be lousy anymore," says Pearl. "How can you become a headline act if you don't start as an opening or second act?" It's become a crusade with Pearl—a crusade that her agent estimates cost her $300,000 last year. Fortunately, her work in such movies as "Porgy and Bess" and "All the Fine Young Cannibals" kept the grocery bills paid. A year ago, the Coconut Grove here signed Pearl for a solo engagement at her regular price. She showed up with a whole show employing 40 people, all of whom she paid out of her own salary. The show was such a success that the Grove brought it back this year and this time is paying the freight. Pearl's show is in for six weeks at the Grove, about double the usual time for attractions. Next she plans to take the show—a complete musical revue—to theaters. "We played one theater in the South Side of Chicago that had been closed for 24 years. Since we played there, it's opened up with live entertainment and has been going strong ever since. "Maybe old Pearl can bring back vaudeville," she said. "Nothing ever killed vaudeville but lazy performers. The people want live entertainment."

Peterson Leaves Agriculture Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—The resignation of E. L. Peterson as assistant U. S. secretary of agriculture was accepted by President Eisenhower. Peterson is a native of North Bend, Ore., and before becoming a federal official served for several years as Oregon Director of Agriculture. Peterson, who has been assistant secretary of agriculture for nearly six years, is quitting as of Sept. 10. He told President Eisenhower in his letter of resignation that he plans to go into private industry, but he gave no additional information.

Kennedy Fund Aided 31 Cribbing Cadets

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman said here the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation supplied funds to continue the education of 31 West Point cadets expelled nine years ago in a cribbing scandal. Pierre Salinger, press secretary for Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy, said in response to inquiries that the money was supplied anonymously to the cadets, several of whom enrolled at Notre Dame University. He pointed out that not all of the 50 students who were expelled had cheated. The academy dismissed some because they knew of the cribbing and did not report it. The foundation was created 14 years ago by Joseph P. Kennedy Sr., father of the presidential nominee, in memory of his eldest son who was killed in a Navy plane explosion over the English Channel in 1944.

Applying Sees Lower Local Property Tax

MONMOUTH (AP)—Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr. said Tuesday the anticipated state surplus paves the way for reduction of local property taxes by the 1961 Legislature. He predicted the surplus would total $40 million at the end of the biennium next July 1. Appling told a political meeting here that high property taxes discourage home ownership and are a severe burden on those with low or fixed incomes. "Relief to the homeowner is a priority of the highest order," he said. Appling, a Republican candidate to succeed himself, also said the state budget could be balanced without additional state taxes. He also said the state has saved millions of dollars by adopting modern management practices and eliminating waste.

Transcript Ordered On Powers Spy Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) has called on the State Department to make public a full English text of the trial of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, along with comment by experts on Soviet affairs. Keating said in a statement he has written Secretary of State Christian A. Herter suggesting the text, commentary and an analysis would be "informative to the general public" and invaluable to Soviet specialists. The senator contended the trial was "a political rather than a personal show" and that the motivation for it was "propaganda not justice."

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (AP)—A 16-year-old camper was killed when a flag pole snapped and fell on him during a prank. Officials at Camp Owaissa-Bauer said Charles J. Step To Ease Business Borrowing Taken By Country's Top Banks

NEW YORK (AP)—How far and how fast will the trend toward easier money spread? Short-term interest rates turned downward months ago. The first signs of easier mortgage terms have been reported. But it was only this week that the banks took the first step toward making business borrowing cheaper. The stock market greeted the cut in basic interest charges by many top U.S. banks as a promise that easier money would need a sluggish economy. The bulls saw it as inspired by government financial agencies and aimed at getting business on the go again. But many brokers aren't so sure that the easier money trend will spread to all bank borrowers soon. The cut to 4 1/2 per cent from 5 per cent was in the prime rate. And that is afforded only to a relatively few of the biggest corporations with the best credit ratings. These are the ones that are said to suffer least when money is tight and dear. The majority of bank loans are made at higher rates. And each bank—with an eye on what his competitor is doing—determines how prime a customer is and how much he should pay for whatever money the bank is able and willing to lend him. Even the narrow circle of those enjoying the prime, or lowest, interest charge is subject to contraction in times of tight money, or to expansion when the banks have idle money on their hands they need to put to work. Many banks complain that they are loaned up at present. This is especially true in some booming sections, such as the Pacific Coast, where bankers are saying there's no slackening in demand for loans and no reason for them to cut interest charges. And lending conditions and rates are often quite different in the big cities and the smaller ones. While these banks may drop the prime rate, they can prune the prime list. And some say they may.

Tax Receipts Drop
