Special Education Head At Winchester Meeting

Bill Williams, director of special education for the Roseburg schools, will be speaker at the evening at the coming Wilbur Winchester PTA meeting. He will discuss problems pertaining to the field of special education.

The date for the meeting has been changed from Monday evening to Tuesday, Dec. 5, at 7:30 at the Winchester gym. The change was made because the building will be unheated while school is dismissed on Monday.

Senate Row Draws Hatfield Comment

SALEM (AP)—Gov. Mark O. Hatfield said the election of a presiding officer in the state Senate is not a party matter.

"A presiding officer there is an objective role," Hatfield said. "The governor made the statement at a Thursday news conference in answer to a reporter's question on the conflict over the Senate presidency between Democratic Sens. Harry Boivin, Klamath Falls and Alfred Corbett, Portland.

Corbett has the support of 13 of the 20 Democrats but Boivin has bipartisan support as president.

Hatfield said the partisan role is that of the elected minority leader and the majority leader on the legislative floor.

He said that although officially there is no majority leader, certain legislators generally are accorded that role, on various issues.

College Students Visit In Riddle

Many college students visited in Riddle over the holiday weekend, reports Erma Best, correspondent.

Visiting from Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif., was Noralou Preston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Preston. From Oregon State College, Corvallis, were Patricia Preston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Preston; Bob and Nancy McCoy, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McCoy, and Ralph Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Carter, and his wife and two children.

Visiting from the University of Oregon, Eugene, were: Jim Carhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Carhart; Bruce Minnaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Minnaugh; Scott Woolley, son of Lewis Woolley; and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Keele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Keele and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Patrick.

Oregon Technical Institute, Klamath Falls, students home were: Richard Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Jones and Howard Barlow Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynda Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Myers; and Sylvia Sutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Sutton.

Darlene Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Knight, came home from Pacific Union College, Astoria, Calif. Judy Buckley of Bozeman, Mont., and a student at SOC spent the holiday with her sister, Mrs. Marlow Kitzner, Mae Wagoner, a student at Warner Pacific College, Portland, spent the vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wagoner.

Canadians Plan Arms Revisions

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Canada is planning minor revisions in its proposal to set up another disarmament committee in hopes of winning U.S. support for the move.

U.S. officials took exception to Canada's original version. They said the United States might abstain or even vote against the plan put forth by its neighbor.

Canada wants the General Assembly to recommend that a small committee of non-nuclear countries be set up to help big-power disarmament talks started again. U.S. sources have said they could see no sense in setting up one more committee on disarmament when the Soviets walked out of his last one in Geneva June 27.

A Canadian source said today that after consultations between Washington and Ottawa, the United States suggested a few changes in the Canadian plan and Canada said they would be considered in drafting a revision.

The source did not elaborate, but he said the differences involved "a matter of phrasing" and not the idea of the non-nuclear committee itself.

Democrats Get Phony Checks

SPOKANE (AP)—Phony checks bearing names of three prominent Spokane men turned up among Democratic National Committee contributions.

The bouncing checks carried the forged names of former U.S. Sen. C. C. Dill, attorney Ben Kizer, longtime director of the United Nations relief program in China, and insurance man Thomas Volk, police disclosed.

Reports that similar checks were sent to the Republican National Committee were being investigated.

Two of the checks bearing Kizer's name totaled $500. One for $750 was sent with Volk's name and he received a "thank you" acknowledgement. A $250 check carried Dill's signature.

The forgeries were discovered because Dill does not have an account at the bank where the checks were drawn, police said. The other checks were accepted. Kizer and Dill said the scheme may have been somebody's idea of a joke.
