

War Anniversary To Be Observed

Daughters of the Union Veterans held their meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jess Bowman.

Mrs. Oliver Plumber, president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Plumber appointed Mrs. Bowman and Mrs. George Rooke to the centennial committee to arrange suitable activities for the 100th anniversary of the Civil War.

It was decided that members would make small pillows to be used at the VA. Mrs. Rooke reported on the meeting held there recently for the volunteers.

The birthdays of Lillian Hill, Mrs. Roy Langley, Mrs. James Marr, Mrs. Bob Newman and Alice Baker were honored. A beautiful birthday cake made by Mrs. Plumber, was served. Gifts were received from Secret Pals. Mrs. Joe Sand won the door prize.

The next meeting will be on the evening of March 10 at home of Mrs. Otto Davis.

Wedding Takes Place Feb. 25

Members of two pioneer Douglas County families were joined in wedlock when Miss Violet Mae Newton, daughter of Lawrence E. Newton of Tiller, and James Alvin Marshall pledged their vows in an impressive ceremony Feb. 25, 2 p.m., at the South Umpqua Community Church at Tiller. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Marshall of Tiller. The Rev. Alice May Woolley, pastor of the Days Creek Methodist Church, read the single ring service before a very large assemblage of guests.

The bride was attired in a ballerina-length gown of white lace over taffeta, fashioned with cap sleeves and a flared skirt. Her fingertip veil was of delicate lace, and she wore a single strand of pearls. Her lovely bridal bouquet had been created by Lois DeWald of Days Creek from camellias in shades of pink, accented by white hyacinths and held with a matching satin ribbon bow.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Earl Tibbets sang "Always" and "I Love You Truly." She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Vern Lerwill, who also played the wedding music and incidental selections while guests assembled.

The radiant bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She was met at the altar by the bridegroom, attended by his brother, Robert Marshall, as best man. Preceding the bride down the aisle were her honor attendants, including her sister, Miss Betty Newton, as maid of honor. She wore a white gown of tulle and a rose shade of chiffon over taffeta. Another sister, Miss Clara Newton; three sisters of the bridegroom, the Misses Evelyn, Sharon and Peggy Marshall; and two close friends, the Misses Jolene Hoskins and Pam Skiens, were bridesmaids. Their frocks were in shades of pastel blue with bouffant net skirts over taffeta. All attendants wore floral tiaras in their hair. They carried petite arrangements of artificial flowers fastened with dainty ribbon on white styrofoam hearts, fashioned by Mrs. Don Newman, who also made artificial carnation boutonnières for the men.

Candlelighters were Billy Marshall, brother of the bridegroom, and Jesse Lehnher, his cousin. Ushers were Michael Donovan and Fred Van Norman.

Mrs. Milton Huntley, sister of the bride, wore a two-piece ensemble of skipper blue. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue suit. Each wore contrasting accessories and corsages of white camellias.

Deep pink flowering quince, white spiraea, white carnations and cedar greenery were arranged by Mrs. John Donovan and Mrs. Wilton Hammersly in tall white wicker baskets adorning each side of the pulpit. Smaller wicker baskets containing sprays of delicate pink apricot blossoms accented with evergreen huckleberry branches were placed on each side of the communion table which held an open Bible flanked by single tall lighted tapers.

Mrs. Emmitt Belcher and Mrs. Anton Erlebach had charge of arrangements for the wedding and reception and coordinated efforts of the others who assisted. Mrs. George V. Stone and Mrs. Clifford Marshall took care of preparing the church and Anton Erlebach, Clifford Marshall and Jack Lehnher assisted with seating arrangements. Mrs. J. V. Lewis, Mrs. Ralph Skiens, Mrs. Milton Huntley and Mrs. Pat Jenks assisted with wardrobes for the bride and her party.

Lovely corsages were presented to all women who had assisted in arrangements. They were made by Mrs. Ernest Dahack, who combined violets and tiny sprays of acacia for a striking effect, and by Mrs. DeWald, who used pink and white camellias and other spring flowers in her lovely creations. Mrs. Erlebach and Mrs. Lerwill also helped with floral arrangements.

Flowers for the corsages and for decorations at the church and the reception came from the gardens of Mrs. Ralph Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cooper, and Mrs. Elmer Standley, all of Canyonville; Mrs. Leroy Lowell of Tri-City; Mrs. George Sossie of Riddle; Mrs. Dewey Crispin and Mrs. Rommie Hendrix of Milo; and Mrs. H. B. McNeil and the Dahacks of Tiller.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bridal party formed a receiving line at the church entrance. The reception followed in the auditorium of the Tiller-Drew Grade School. Beautifully appointed refreshment tables had been arranged for the pleasure of guests by Mrs. Belcher, assisted by Mrs. McNeil, Mrs. Gilbert Butler, Miss Sherry Hunter and others.

The three-tiered wedding cake, topped by the traditional figurine ornament, had been baked and decorated by Mrs. Milton Long of Days Creek. Other special cakes were baked by Mrs. William Godwin, Mrs. Frederick Ellis and Mrs. Hammersly. Tiny slices of the bridegroom's cake had been wrapped and tied with ribbon.

After the newlyweds had cut the first slice of the wedding cake, the remainder was cut and served by Mrs. Jack Lehnher, aunt of the bridegroom. Mrs. Erlebach

Potluck Held At Church

A large group attended the Family Night potluck dinner at the Wilbur Methodist Church annex Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Grubbe entertained by showing beautiful colored movies they took on their recent vacation in Hawaii.
