

Parr Is Movie Industry Hate For This Week

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jack Parr is the movie industry's hate of the week, thanks to his performance at the bastions of Berlin.

Parr's penchant for trouble bounced back on Hollywood. Congress and the Pentagon hit the ceiling at reports of troops being used as extras for Parr's show from Berlin.

Some congressmen aimed their complaints at the use of troops in movies, especially Darryl Zanuck's current "The Longest Day." There were calls for a review of the practice of service cooperation with movie makers.

All this pained the producers and no doubt the Pentagon, too. For 20 years, Hollywood and the services have been working together in an alliance that was both smooth and little known. Both sides claim it has been mutually profitable.

The alliance hasn't been noised about for an obvious reason. Too much publicity would cause politicians to question—with some justice—about such use of taxpayers' money. That is exactly what happened in the Parr case.

How does the system operate? A producer sends his script to the Pentagon with a request for service cooperation. A board reviews the script with an eye toward how the service is portrayed. If in a bad light, cooperation is refused.

OLC's Food Ruling Valid Says Court

SALEM (AP)—The Oregon Supreme Court ruled today that the Liquor Commission's food service rule is valid.

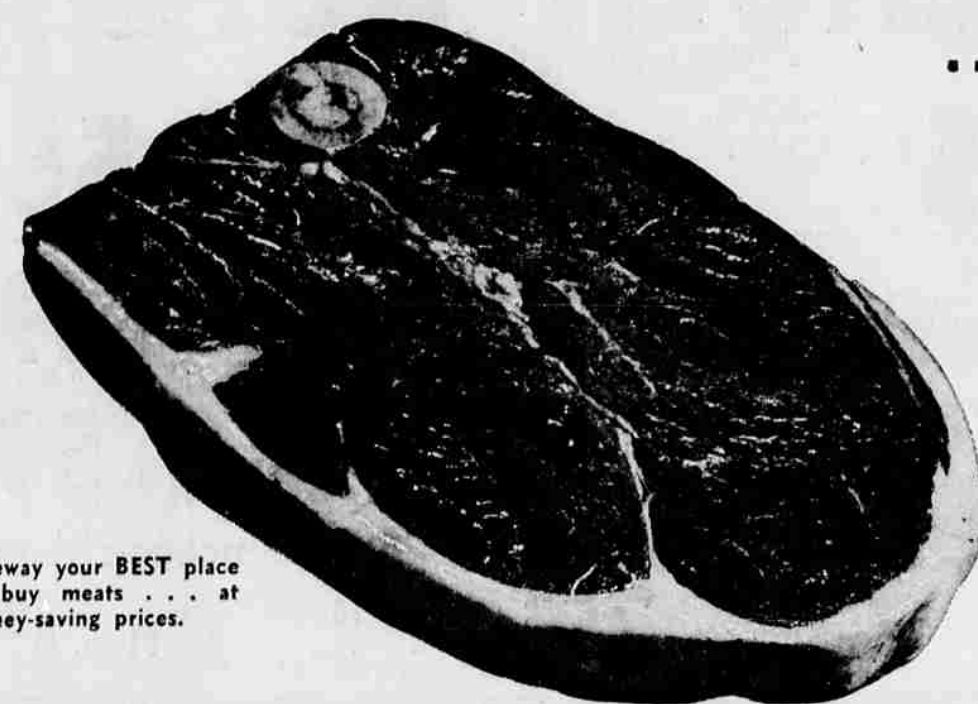

The decision, by Justice George Rossman, reversed Circuit Judge James W. Crawford of Portland. The high court ruled that when the people amended the Constitution to allow liquor to be drunk, they voted to permit such sales only in connection with food sales.

Thereafter, the decision continues, the Liquor Commission "can fill in interstices in the legislation and thereby aid the statute to accomplish its purpose."

It seems manifest that in using the words, "food is cooked and served," the voters thought of it as eating establishments as contrasted to saloons.

Man To Pay Big Fine On Installation Plan

CHICAGO (AP)—Donald H. Kahn, 27, a real estate salesman, is going to pay his parking ticket fines on the installment plan—$3 a week for 33 weeks for 106 tickets.

The weekly payments were approved Tuesday by Traffic Court Judge Alphonse Wells after he fined Kahn $2,659 for ignoring 106 parking tickets issued by police since 1959. Wells fined him $25 on each ticket. Usual fines for parking violations are $3 to $5.

Kahn told Judge Wells the tickets had been accumulated by persons to whom he had lent his car. But Wells told Kahn that he was alone responsible for the tickets and must pay the $2,659, which was believed to be a record fine in Chicago for parking violations.
