usually ahead of their classes. They will check out books, usually non-fiction, and make oral reports on them in about two weeks time. All of them have previously selected categories. (News-Review Photo)

Army Engineers Slate Fallout Shelter Survey

PORTLAND (AP)—A survey of community fallout shelters in the five Pacific Northwest states is being conducted by the Army Engineers and the Navy Bureau of Yards and Docks.

This was disclosed today by the North Pacific Division of the Army Engineers, which will supervise the survey.

This survey is in line with President Kennedy's new program to earmark shelter space for 50 million Americans in large buildings in every city and town.

The Northwest and Alaskan Divisions of the Navy Bureau of Yards and Docks and the Seattle, Portland, Walla Walla and Alaska districts of the Army Engineers will make the regional field surveys.

Contracts now are being negotiated with architect-engineer firms for marking public and privately owned buildings and other facilities in the region which might be used for community fallout shelters in case of a nuclear attack, the Army Engineers said.

December, 1962, is the scheduled completion date for the survey and community shelter marking program in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Alaska. Army engineers said that the community shelter program does not replace the family fallout shelter program.

Camas Valley Grange Holds Election, Slates Activities

The regular meeting of the Camas Valley Grange was held this week at the Grange Hall. Overseer, Lee Banks presided, reports Mrs. William Banks, Camas Valley correspondent.

Obligations Given
Byron Baker was re-instated into membership, and Mrs. Baker was elected to membership. The degree obligation was given the pair by the overseer.

Mrs. Leslie Catchpole presented $20 to the Grange general fund from the members of the Grange Home Economics Club.

Milo Cloughton, Grange Insurance Agent for Camas Valley, reported on the insurance program and the Juvenile Grange. The members of the Juvenile Grange will stage the seating drill at the annual Booster Night program Saturday, according to Cloughton.

Education and community service chairman Guy Moore announced that out of 122 entries throughout the state of Oregon in the Community Service Contest, Camas Valley placed eighth. This was the largest number of entries ever received in the annual Sears-Grange contest.

Mrs. James Combs reported on the compilation of the Grange History booklet that she is preparing.

Election of officers for the coming year was held and the following were elected: Russell Harwood, re-elected master; Lee Banks, re-elected overseer; Mrs. Lee Banks, lecturer; James Combs, steward; Byron Baker, assistant steward; Mrs. Edgar Markham, chaplain; Ernest Booth, treasurer; Leslie Catchpole, re-elected secretary; Haydon Taylor, gate keeper; Mrs. Homer Spurlock, Cerer; Mrs. Byron Baker, Pomona; Mrs. Louis Papp, Flora; Mrs. Leslie Catchpole, lady assistant steward; Mrs. Ebel Brown, chairman, executive committee; and Mrs. James Combs and Edgar Markham, executive committee members.

It was announced that the regular meeting of the Douglas County Pomona Grange will be held at Sunnyvale Grange Hall on Oct. 28 beginning with a potluck dinner at 7 p.m. and followed by the business meeting at 8 p.m. Visiting Grangers are asked to bring either salad or dessert and everyone is asked to furnish his own table service.

Mrs. Homer Spurlock and Mrs. Milo Cloughton were hostesses and served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

The annual Booster Night program will be held on Saturday and is open to the public. The next regular Grange meeting will be the social evening Oct. 24 at the Grange Hall.

Church Women Meet
The October meeting of the Winston Christian Church Christian Women's Fellowship was held at the home of Cecilia Carter. Twenty members and guests were present.

Reports Phoebe McGuire, Winston correspondent.

The theme of "New Spirit in New Times" was demonstrated with the educational part of the program. The devotions were given by Lois Mary Veatch. The next meeting will be held Nov. 6 at the home of Susan Davis on Civil Bend Ave. All women of the church are invited to attend.

Warren Releases Convicted Gambler On $100,000 Bail

WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court has granted Mickey Cohen, Los Angeles gambling figure, release on bail of $100,000 pending appeals from his conviction of income tax violations.

Cohen was sentenced on the income tax charges to 15 years in prison and fined $30,000.

The U. S. District Court in Los Angeles and the U. S. Circuit Court in San Francisco refused to permit release of Cohen on bail.

Douglas, in permitting Cohen's release, commented that before conviction Cohen was out on bail and made no effort to escape.

The justice said that Cohen did help to secrete Candy Barr, a stripteaser, in Mexico while in a case against her was pending in this country. She subsequently returned to the United States.

That episode, said Douglas, was emphasized to him as showing Cohen's "proclivity for evasive conduct." It also was pointed out,

W. German Parties OK Longer Draft Periods

BONN, Germany (AP)—Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss revealed the two parties expected to form West Germany's new government have agreed to lengthen the period of service for draftees in the armed forces.

Strauss said this probably meant that starting next year draftees in the army, navy and air force would serve 18 months instead of the present 12. He said agreement had been reached on an extension but there remained some slight doubt about how much.

The defense minister told a meeting of fellow Christian Democratic Bundestag (Parliament) members that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the Free Democratic party chairman, Erich Mende, decided on the longer service in their negotiations for a new coalition government.

Oregon Safety Record Best Ever In 1960-61

SALEM (AP)—Oregon's industrial safety record was the best ever in 1960-61, Commissioner Emily P. Logan of the Industrial Accident Commission said Thursday.

Miss Logan, addressing a Salem group, said that in 1960-61 there were 343 accidents per million man hours worked.

In the 1960-61 year, she said, there were only 36.15 accidents per million man hours worked.

Miss Logan said the commission will take in some $28.8 million in premiums this fiscal year from 38,500 employers for industrial accident insurance with the state.

Jackie, Lady Bird To Visit Northwest

SEATTLE (AP)—President Kennedy and Vice President Johnson probably will be accompanied by their wives when they visit Seattle Nov. 16. The Seattle Times special Washington correspondent said Thursday.

"Mrs. Kennedy's plans are not certain yet, but at this date I would suspect she will go to Seattle with the President," Andrew Hatcher, assistant White House secretary, told the newspaper.

Mrs. Kennedy usually does not announce her plans more than a few days in advance.

Beth Abel, personal secretary to Mrs. Johnson, said Mrs. Johnson's "present plan is to go to Seattle with her husband."

The President will speak at the University of Washington and again at a dinner honoring Senator Warren G. Magnuson for his 25 years of service in Congress. Seventeen years have been spent in the Senate.

Besides the President and Vice President, 22 senators and several congressmen plan to attend the $100-a-plate dinner for Magnuson.

Highway Engineers In Race With Weather On '99' Job

DUNSMUIR, Calif. (AP)—Highway engineers, racing against the oncoming rains of winter, are confronted by a moving mountain.

They are the men who are building a six-mile segment of U. S. 99, a new four-lane divided highway in the Sacramento River canyon between Redding and Dunsmuir.

The river rushes between narrow canyon walls after pouring from glacial springs near Dunsmuir.

The engineers realized they were confronted with a mammoth task when they started the job of squeezing four lanes of pavement into this sheer canyon.

Then they encountered the moving mountain about nine miles south of Dunsmuir. An unstable section of earth and rock is making it necessary to remove—above original estimates—about 400,000 cubic yards of soil and rock.

When Slate-Hall Hamilton of Purdland, contractors on the section between Shotgun Creek and Castella, started work in June, 1960, engineers figured it would cost $125 million a mile.

Almost at once, heavy equipment operators began to run into soil and rock that just wouldn't stay put. To date the original estimated cost of the six miles has been revised upward to $878 million.

Herb Miles, district engineer for the California Division of Highways at Redding, says that moving the 400,000 additional cubic yards of rock and soil, together with additional clearing, possible required drainage and other related work, may run the extra cost on this one cut up to $30,000.

The state now is looking into the possibility of changing the highway alignment to move the new freeway away from the major slide area at the north end of the project.

This would require moving the Sacramento River into a new channel and realigning the Southern Pacific mainline tracks for a short distance.

Miles said this could realize a saving in final costs and should eliminate or reduce further maintenance problems in the slide area.

Giant searchlights are being used at some of the work areas so earth moving can continue at night.

Jim Leinbach, superintendent for the contractors, said the original anticipated completion date was Nov. 1, 1962. Now it appears construction may be going on through the summer of 1963.

Seventy-five years ago, building a railroad in the Sacramento canyon presented tremendous engineering challenges when Southern Pacific tracks were pushed northward from Redding.

In the 1920s, building U. S. 99 from Redding to Dunsmuir was considered an engineering feat when the canyon walls were pushed further apart to accommodate a surfaced road with many grades and many curves.

This part of U. S. 99 became a bottleneck in the north-south traffic by the mid-1930s.

Since World War II, California, with federal help, has been converting this 35-mile stretch of highway into a four-lane freeway.

Prosecutor To Ask Fall Boehme Trial

PORT ORCHARD, Wash. (AP)—Gordon L. Walgren, Kitsap County prosecuting attorney, said Thursday he will ask that the trial of Dr. Robert E. Boehme, Port Orchard physician, be held at this fall's jury term.

Dr. Boehme, 41, is charged with attempting to poison his wife, Dorothy, 34, under the guise of taking a blood sample from her arm.

"We'll have our case ready by November," Walgren said. "I don't see any reason why the case can't come to trial immediately."

Ray R. Greenwood, 69, Port Orchard, chief defense attorney for Dr. Boehme, said he would move that the case be put over until next spring's jury term.

"The prosecution admits it has been investigating this case for at least six months," Greenwood said. "Surely, we ought to be given an equal time to prepare the defense."

Dr. Boehme's arraignment is set for Oct. 23. He is charged with first degree assault with intent to kill.

What is a PROTON?

A proton is the positively charged nucleus of an atom.

Study of the proton may be a key to scientific progress in the United States. Yet many potential scientists may never study it because they may never go to college.

Many colleges are overcrowded and in 10 years applications will double. We will need more and better college laboratories and thousands more of the highest quality professors.
