November Pork Prices Dropping; Turkeys In Good Holiday Supply

NORTHWEST FOOD REVIEW
By MARTHA A. POGLTON

(Written for Associated Press)

With Thanksgiving fast approaching, markets are taking orders for the traditional holiday turkeys. A plentiful supply of fresh frozen turkeys of all sizes are available this year. Stores carrying fresh birds, also, will begin receiving them the week of Thanksgiving.

Pork prices are declining this month with a good supply coming to market now, and both fresh loins and bacon are showing slightly lower price levels. Right after the holiday consumers here in the Pacific Northwest can look for even more features on fresh pork.

Beef prices are steady this week with attractive buys on chuck cuts, particularly. You will find some good values in lamb, too, with prices similar to last week.

At the current low prices fryers continue to be a popular choice for the men with the many interesting ways they can be prepared.

Excellent quality fresh fillet of red snapper, sole and cod are in ample supply at the fish counters this week. Pacific oysters are at their prime and supplies are ample to meet the increased demand at this season of the year. Although fresh salmon is in short supply now, some silvers are still coming in.

Among the best values in vegetables this week are cabbage, carrots and cauliflower.

Local winter squash of the Hubbard variety is low in price, also, along with potatoes, spinach and celery. Acorn squash and red cabbage are available, too, at reasonable prices.

In the moderate buy group are artichokes, zucchini squash and Kentucky Wonder beans from California. Broccoli and Brussels sprouts are in good supply for other choices in green vegetables. You will find bright, firm green peppers of very good quality, though prices are generally a little higher, now. Lettuce of all types and local greens are in the moderate price group with cucumbers from California and Florida, green onions and radishes. Vine-ripened tomatoes have shown an increase in price this week, with tube pack tomatoes more attractively priced in some stores.

Dry onions are holding steady in price with medium sizes a slightly better value. Other items in the medium price range are mushrooms, sweet potatoes, and the root vegetables, parsnips, turnips, and rutabagas.

Jonathan apples are still available this week; however, remaining supplies of this variety are fully ripe and should be used soon after purchase for good eating satisfaction. Winesaps are on the market, earlier than usual this year and they are reasonably priced.

Rome Beauties are moderately priced, and with the shorter crop of Delicious, this variety will command higher prices throughout the winter months.

Red grapes, particularly the Emperors, are a good value, while other varieties, including the Ribiers and Ladyfingers, are higher. Bananas and small pink grapefruit from Florida and Texas are attractively priced.

Some juice oranges may be good buys this week, with some stores featuring the Hamlin variety from Florida. In general, oranges and medium or large grapefruit are moderate buys.

Avocados, Anjou pears, persimmons, pomegranates and Santa Claus melons add interest to the list of fruits in the moderate price group. Fresh cranberries are plentiful, too.

Harvests have been exceptionally good for pecans which have set a record in production this year and the yield has been notably high for almonds. Stores are offering the new crop nuts at moderate prices with filberts, peanuts and Brazil nuts included in the selection.

$3 Million Price Tag Set On Cost Of Fighting Blazes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The City Council estimates the cost of fighting the two mammoth fires in the Santa Monica Mountains at more than $3 million.

Losses in private property have been estimated in excess of $15 million—not including furnishings and personal effects.

More than a dozen planes have doused "hot spots" with the fire-retarding chemical known as borate. Authorities say the bombers are invaluable in extinguishing flames in otherwise inaccessible areas.

Investigators have not determined whether the fire outbreak resulted from accident, arson or spontaneous combustion of tندی brush.

The flames destroyed the Bel-Air home of Dr. Willard F. Libby,

Ex-Ambassador To Ireland Dies

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—R. Scott McLeod, 47, a former newspaperman who rose in government service to become ambassador to Ireland in the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration, died Tuesday night.

McLeod, general counsel to the Republican members of the U.S. Senate Appropriations Committee since last January suffered a heart attack at his home in Sutton, near Concord, in the morning.

McLeod's nomination to be ambassador stirred a Senate controversy in May, 1957. Democrats criticized his record as State Department security chief and Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., called him a "symbol of the witch hunter" of 1953 and 1954.

Clark condemned McLeod's handling of security clearance of State Department and foreign service officers.

Sen. Styles Bridges, R-N.H., for whom McLeod had worked, and former Sen. William Knowland, R-Calif., who was then the Senate Republican leader, came to McLeod's defense. Knowland quoted Eisenhower as saying he had full confidence in the nominee and Bridges said McLeod was the victim of a "smear campaign."

The Senate voted 34-22 to reject a motion to return the nomination to its Foreign Relations Committee for further inquiry, and confirmed the nomination 60-20 on May 9, 1957.

McLeod was born in Davenport, Iowa, and was a reporter on the Cedar Rapids (Iowa) Gazette, until he became an agent for the FBI.

He resigned from the ambassadorship last January when President Kennedy took office.

Nobel Prize-winning scientist and UCLA professor. The Libbys evacuated their home Monday, returned Tuesday and found nothing but rubble. It was at this home that Dr. Libby built a fallout shelter for $30, consisting mainly of sandbags and timbers. The fire left the shelter shrouded in ashes, but otherwise intact.

The Santa Monica Mountains run 10 miles north and west of Los Angeles, separating the downtown and Hollywood area from the San Fernando Valley to the north.

Stars and movie executives have lived for three decades in the area known as the Hollywood Hills. The Hollywood Hills are dotted with scenic canyons—Benedict, Laurel, Coldwater, Beverly Glen, Rustic, Mandeville, Laurel Canyon was slightly scorched, Benedict and Coldwater virtually unscathed. The others were heavily damaged.

TV actor Richard Boone and bandleader Lawrence Welk spent all night Monday watering down the roofs of their homes. Both houses were saved.

Fred MacMurray had to evacuate his wife, former actress June Haver, and their two daughters from his home—but firemen managed to save most of the house. The actor was so grateful that he prepared dinner for the fire fighters Tuesday night.

Budget Drafters Sharpen Pencils

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. John J. McFall, D-Calif., said here President Kennedy's budget drafters are sharpening their pencils on water projects in line with a general effort to balance the budget next year.

McFall conferred with Budget Bureau officials here on a program of flood control, navigation and irrigation works in his congressional district.

"I do not believe that water projects are being emphasized in the budget balancing effort," McFall told a reporter. "But I was informed that every item is being considered carefully and that water development will bear its share of necessary cutbacks in spending."

Budget drafters are in the final phases of hearings on money requests for the 12 months beginning July 1, 1962. The budget is to be sent to the printer in mid-December and submitted to Congress in mid-January.

McFall said that despite a possible slowdown in spending for water development, he does not expect the Kennedy administration to request a general moratorium on new projects.
