Umpqua Valley Community College are ended.

How many of the 121 students registered in any of the four courses offered were successful in their venture of higher learning will on known after the "moment of truth."

In this case, the moment will be the evaluation of work during the quarter and the final exams.

But one thing is known of the student body remains.

At the same time it saw established a student body which looks to be of a continuing nature.

Granted the student body might change quite a bit each quarter with students dropping out to attend different schools or for other reasons. But the student body remains.

As far as the athletics are concerned, two of the students could probably be called up to referect the action and keep things honest. They are Douglas County Sheriff Ira C. Byrd and State Police Sgt. Robert J. Keefe. Both men took psychology and might be able to use it in referee roles.

On the scholarship side of the ledger, it would be no problem to call upon Morris Kelley, of Roseburg who, while attending high school, has been able to squeeze in a course in English composition at the college.
