

U.S. Officials Says S. Viet Nam War Will Be Won With Little Loss Of Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials say the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam will be won with a minimum amount of combat and loss of life by Americans.

As this official optimism was being expressed here, there was a report in Saigon the United States is going to triple the length of service of some of its army men in Viet Nam.

About three-fourths of the estimated 4,000 U. S. servicemen there are assigned to a temporary six-month tour of duty, but an informant said this was being extended to a permanent 18-month tour for some key personnel, such as helicopter pilots.

Information Classified

The Saigon dispatch said official information on the extension was classified, presumably to avoid calling more attention to the U. S. military buildup. It is aimed at keeping the Southeast Asian country from falling to Communist guerrillas and infiltrators slipping across the border from North Viet Nam.

The situation will take Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara on another flying trip to Hawaii this weekend for a conference with top officers and diplomats from the Red-pressed country.

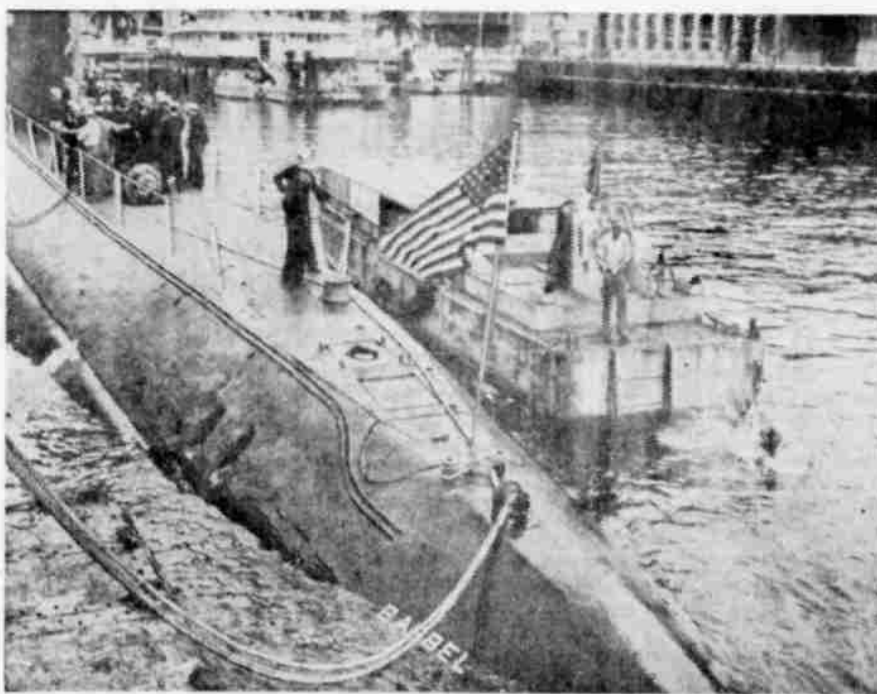

He will leave Sunday, accompanied by Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Assistant Secretary of Defense Paul A. Nitze, and Averill Harriman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, newly appointed U. S. military commander in Viet Nam, arrived in Honolulu Friday to prepare for the talks.

Third Conference

It will be the third such Viet Nam conference for McNamara in two months.

'How To Win Votes By Mail' Subject Of GOP Pamphlet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican Campaign Committee of the House has distributed to GOP senators and representatives a pamphlet with scores of ideas on "how to win votes by mail."

A committee spokesman said while some of the suggestions were in a humorous vein there was enough of value to help new members do their job better.

Cynical, Say Demos

Some Democrats called the pamphlet cynical and an attempt to fool the voters.

The pamphlets contain reprints of eight articles by Homer Lee Krout, administrative assistant to Rep. Joel T. Broyhill, R-Va. They first appeared in Roll Call, a private, weekly publication devoted to Capitol Hill activities.

One excerpt that drew Democratic criticism said: "It's very simple to answer constituent mail supporting or condemning legislation. If you agree, tell them so; if you disagree, don't tell them. The nicest thing about Mr. Average (voter) is that he seldom finds out which way you voted."

This particular article concerned letters to "that fine body of average voters; The uninformed who have no idea what the issues are."

Getting Re-elected Important

The article said that replying to letters promptly was important "because hardly anything is more important than getting re-elected."

"If upon occasion there is no way to avoid saying 'no' to a constituent," the article continued, "spend a full page explaining (courteously and graciously) the whole situation and hide the 'no' in the middle of the last paragraph."

The most recent critic of the Krout articles was Leroy Collins, former Democratic governor of Florida. In a Feb. 5 speech in Atlantic City, Collins called the one quoted above as cynical.

"Now, this is the kind of official party advice being supplied to United States congressmen," Collins said, "who have the responsibility for setting examples of individual integrity for their constituents rather than developing model plans for how to avoid responsibility."

Fisher was mentioned recently as one of several possible candidates after state Rep. F. F. Montgomery, also of Eugene, announced he will not seek the position.

Fisher said he has discussed the matter with his family, some friends, and briefly with Gov. Mark Hatfield. He added that as far as he knows, no group is supporting any Republican candidate "but several people have asked me to try it."

Fisher is general manager and president of radio station KUGN.

After the meeting members worked on a quilt which will be sold by the club.

Lutheran Women Meet

St. John's Lutheran Women's Missionary League held its January meeting at the home of Mrs. Douglas Johnson.

The topic entitled "Stewardship" was led by Mrs. Meryl Murphy and Mrs. Naomi Bennett.

Various committees were assigned for the coming year. Under discussion was the sponsorship of a missionary in a foreign field. Mrs. Elva Egli was appointed to write for the name, address and needs of a missionary, preferably in New Guinea.

A skit was presented in verse form to explain the importance of the missionary mite boxes.

Attending the meeting were nine members and Pastor Baldwin of Trinity Lutheran Church in Cottage Grove.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul Urben of Umpqua Feb. 26 at 1:30 p.m. Those interested in transportation are asked to call Mrs. Keith Dies.

U.S. Officials Tensely Waiting Soviets' Next Move On Geneva

An AP News Analysis
By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Diplomatic Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials are awaiting with intense interest Soviet Premier Khrushchev's next move on preparations for the forthcoming 18-nation disarmament conference at Geneva.

A new message from Moscow to the Western powers is expected within a few days.

There is growing doubt in some well-informed quarters here that Khrushchev, having been rebuffed on his call for opening the conference on the summit level, will decide to go to Geneva anyway.

Two reasons are advanced for this doubt.

In the first place the five Western allies who will participate are unanimously opposed to Khrushchev's proposal. Even more importantly, it has failed to evoke enthusiasm among the neutral nations involved.

In the second place, a decision by Khrushchev to go to Geneva with support only from chiefs of Soviet satellite countries would be interpreted as simply a propaganda maneuver and thus damaging to the prospects for progress in the disarmament talks.

In diplomatic discussions with nations outside the Soviet bloc, the United States and Britain have contended that the participating countries should get the negotiations off to a serious start. President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk are known to favor an absolute minimum of speech-making at the outset.

A new message from Khrushchev is expected because he has not yet replied to messages from Kennedy and British Macmillan, turning down his summit proposal.

The exchanges began ten days ago with a proposal by Kennedy and Macmillan that foreign ministers open the Geneva negotiations. Khrushchev replied that he thought the heads of government themselves should open the con-

'Bob Doesn't Remember Alamo' GOP National Committee Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee said Friday Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's remarks about the Mexican War are "another startling example of the Kennedy administration's ominous obsession with catering to 'neutralist' opinion."

The GOP committee expressed this view in its publication "Battle Line" under the headline: "Bob Doesn't Remember the Alamo."

Kennedy, now touring the Far East, told an Indonesian student the U.S.-Mexican War of 1846-48 was not a very bright page in American history and that he would say the war was unjustified.

The remark has stirred up a discussion pro and con, with some historians saying that Kennedy's position is tenable but not now generally accepted. Texans have reacted generally with cries of rebuke.

"Previously," the Republican publication said, "the Kennedy administration has not hesitated to take action which went against the interests of our major allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, in order to court so-called 'neutralists.'"

"Now apparently, the Kennedy administration is even willing to hearken to American history and its heroes to please individuals and nations who are basically out of sympathy with our policies and objectives."

"Battle Line" said further: "Apprentice Statesman Bobby made a basic error in accepting the premise of the student's question—that Texas became part of the Union as the result of U.S. aggression."

"If Bobby holds to his views when he gets home, perhaps he will recommend that the Alamo be torn down to make way for an urban renewal project so the 'neutrals' will have absolutely no reason to get annoyed."

Action Seeks End To Credit Company

SALEM (AP) — A suit was filed Friday morning by Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Thornton which seeks to dissolve Credit Savers, Inc., of Portland and Eugene.

The suit actually will be handled by William Barlow, a special assistant attorney general.

Barlow said the complaint alleges that the firm, a debt consolidating agency, has abused its corporate authority.

He said the complaint filed in Marion county circuit court also alleges that there is a shortage in the funds of clients held by the corporation.

The complaint states that the company is short more than $10,000 in clients' funds and that the officers have been shut down and that the officers have failed to continue to operate the business.

Marion County Circuit Judge Val Sloper appointed Frank A. Dudley of Portland as receiver.

Anyone interested is welcome to attend the meetings which are held on the second Tuesday and the fourth Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Oak Tree Inn.

Toastmistress Club Has Meeting At Oak Tree Inn

The Roseburg Toastmistress Club met at the Oak Tree Inn Wednesday night. Two members were absent.

Mrs. Nell Morgan was guest toastmistress and Mrs. Wanda Commons was evaluator.

The toastmistress introduced Mrs. Lois Krug who spoke on Africa. Mrs. Alice Larson spoke on the origin of Valentine's Day.

Julia Cantwell was topicmistress for the evening.

The purpose of Toastmistress Club is to develop individual potential in gaining confidence and poise, skill in club procedures, leadership in committee functions, effective speech communication, and responsible citizenship.

Anyone interested is welcome to attend the meetings which are held on the second Tuesday and the fourth Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Oak Tree Inn.

Fisher Considers Congressional Bid

EUGENE (AP) — State Rep. Carl Fisher R-Eugene, said Friday he is considering running for the Republican nomination to the 4th District seat now held by Rep. Edwin Burno of Medford.

Burno will run for the U. S. Senate next year and the Republicans need a House candidate to replace him.

Fisher was mentioned recently as one of several possible candidates after state Rep. F. F. Montgomery, also of Eugene, announced he will not seek the position.

Fisher said he has discussed the matter with his family, some friends, and briefly with Gov. Mark Hatfield. He added that as far as he knows, no group is supporting any Republican candidate "but several people have asked me to try it."
