Western Troops Stage Berlin Alertness Test

BERLIN (AP)—Ten thousand men of West Berlin's Allied garrisons rushed to combat positions early today for a test of alertness.

The exercise roused out most of the American, British and French soldiers in West Berlin. It was the largest operational test undertaken since the building of the Berlin wall last summer.

Three American battle groups, three battalions of British infantry and a French brigade, plus supporting tanks and armored cars rolled through the streets.

The Allies said the test was designed to evaluate the mobility of the units and their ability to react to various situations.

American troops had breakfast in the field and returned to their barracks nearly five hours after being alerted. British and French troops pulled back earlier, after being deployed for three hours.

While some of the Western units were still in the field, MIG jet fighters of either the Soviet or East German air forces flew overhead.

Long vapor trails could be seen in the clear blue sky. Sonic booms shook the center of the city as the jets smashed through the sound barrier.

In another military activity, the U.S. Army sent a platoon of infantry rolling along the autobahn lifeline to West Germany. The Army said that the platoon, from Co. A, 3rd Battle Group, 6th Infantry, was going to the West for a brief training period.

Such troop movements are frequently made along the 110 miles of highway across Communist East Germany to demonstrate Western rights to road access to Berlin.

Big maneuvers by the East German army were concluded at the beginning of the week, the East German news agency ADN reported today. The agency said the exercise displayed exemplary combat morale and constant readiness for action.

The agency did not give the location of the exercise, the number of troops involved or how long it lasted.

Father-Son Brokerage Team Indicted By U. S. Grand Jury

NEW YORK (AP) — A father-son team of brokers, expelled a year ago from the American Stock Exchange, has been indicted by a federal grand jury on new charges of conspiring to manipulate and sell unregistered stock.

The pair, Jerry Re, 65, and his son, Gerard, 39, were accused of a $5-million swindle of Swan-Finch Oil Corp. stockholders.

Indicted with them Monday were five others including Lowell W. Birrell, former president of Swan-Finch, who fled to Brazil in 1958 in advance of federal charges involving more than $13 million in stock frauds.

U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau said the Res used their position as specialists in the common stock of Swan-Finch to control the price of that stock for Birrell on the American Exchange and to distribute Birrell's stock to the public.

Birrell, who is under indictment in both state and federal courts on multiple stock fraud charges, acquired control of Swan-Finch in 1954. Two months later, the Res became specialists in the firm's stock on the exchange.

Operations of the Res triggered the shakeup last year of the American Stock Exchange, after the first probe in 23 years of a major securities market.

President Edward T. McCormick resigned under fire last Dec. 12 and was replaced a few days ago by Edwin D. Etherington, designated as a reform leader. McCormick was not accused of any crime.

Others named in the indictment were Charles A. Casagrande, of New York, also known as Charles A. Grande, 67, who acted as a nominee for the Res; Ely Batkin, 45, of Roslyn, N.Y., formerly head of Batkin & Co., a defunct New York City brokerage concern; Jacob Yaffe, 55, of New York, a certified public accountant, and Verna Skogland, 45, of Morrisville, Pa., formerly Birrell's secretary.

The Securities and Exchange Commission last May ordered the Res expelled from the American Exchange, and revoked their brokerage licenses. At issue then were wholesale market manipulations involving millions of dollars.

Three weeks later, the Res were arrested on federal charges of illegally trafficking in securities, and released in bonds totalling $35,000.

No indictment was returned in that case, involving securities of Thompson-Starrett Co. Inc. Instead, Morgenthau said, a renewed investigation was launched while the case was pending and led to the Swan-Finch indictment.

GOP Seeks Backing For Aged Care Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Republican National Committee asked all Republican members of the House today to join him in sponsoring a bill for hospital and medical care of the aged.

The bill, using private health insurance plans, has been introduced as a possible substitute for the measure backed by President Kennedy to provide hospital and similar services financed under the Social Security system.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York wrote a letter to each Republican member of the House saying he has become convinced that some legislation in addition to the existing limited plan for needy aged is needed.

He recommended the bill introduced by Rep. Frank Bow, R-Ohio.

"I ask you to give it your most careful consideration and if you approve its provisions to join me in cosponsoring it," he wrote.

The Bow bill would provide a credit against income taxes of $125 for premiums paid for private insurance affording the specified hospital, surgical and medical benefits. Persons with incomes insufficient to create a $125 tax liability would receive a federal subsidy for the difference, up to the full $125.

Eligibles would have to be 65 years or older.

Post For Mrs. Green Fitting, Says Hatfield

SALEM (AP) — Gov. Mark Hatfield said today the appointment of Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., to the cabinet of President Kennedy would be a fitting recognition of both women and Oregon.

"President Eisenhower gave recognition to the important role of women in public life by appointing one to his cabinet," Hatfield said.

"He also honored the state of Oregon by a cabinet appointment, the late Douglas McKay.

"Should the present administration see fit to give the same recognition to women and the state of Oregon, the appointment of Mrs. Green would accomplish both."

Mrs. Green is reportedly being considered for the post of secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

E. German Diplomat Finds Job Not Easy

BERLIN (AP)—Being a diplomat for Communis East Germany is no easy job, says an unofficial West Berlin intelligence agency.

Information Bureau West said a member of the East German trade mission in Cairo decided he couldn't take it any more and defected.

He reputed that members of East German missions in capitalist or neutral countries must send and receive all private mail through the office where superiors can check the letters.

They must surrender passports and air line tickets to the office. Anyone who wants to spend more than two hours outside his home after 8 p.m. must notify the mission chief.

White House Probes Offer To Spacemen

NEW YORK (AP)—The White House has begun an inquiry into the propriety and legality of the seven Mercury astronauts' acceptance of completely furnished $24,000 homes from the Houston Home Builders Association, the New York Times and the New York Herald Tribune said today.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, a Washington dispatch to the Times added, had earlier given its tacit consent to the astronauts' accepting the houses.

A spokesman said the agency had found that there was no law or regulation to prevent the astronauts from taking such gifts, the story said.

When the offer was first disclosed last week, White House officials tended to dismiss it as an advertising promotion on the part of the Houston builders.

The free homes were offered earl ylast month in a letter from Angelo Mascari, president of the association, to Lt. Col. John A. Powers, the Project Mercury spokesman.

The space agency is building in Houston a $90-million center for manned space flight, and the astronauts are expected to move to that area this summer.

Of Course You're Coming

. . . but please say when!

Like any other thoughtful host awaiting invited guests, Seattle and Washington State are anxious to see that everything is provided to make your stay comfortable and enjoyable. Especially that you may anticipate suitable housing accommodations upon your arrival.

Toward that end we have set up a non-profit, public service operation known as "Expo-Lodging" for the sole purpose of processing housing reservations. This organization has assembled all housing facilities in the area . . . millions of room nights . . . and is the official clearing house for housing of all types and times.

Truly we expect visitors in the millions . . . spread over the six months of our Fair . . . but we also have housing facilities capable of handling millions over the same period. Accommodations to meet practically every preference, every purse and every purpose. Metropolitan hotels and motels, modest hotels and motels, hotel-apartments, rooms in selected private homes, group facilities in dormitories, parking parks for trailers, appropriate facilities for campers! Accommodations amidst the hurry and bustle of the downtown Fairgrounds, or perhaps half an hour away in the relative peace and quiet of one of Seattle's nearby peripheral cities. Yes, accommodations in great number and variety, and Expo-Lodging will do its best to place you happily. But we should know "what" and "when."

The service is yours for the asking and there is, of course, no charge. Clip the handy coupon below. Fill it out to tell us what you would like—and when. Paste the coupon on a post card or slip it in an envelope and address to Expo-Lodging, Seattle 9, Washington. You'll get a prompt response—probably by return mail.
