County Pupils To Compete For A Grant

The Oregon Nevada California Freight Lines-sponsored $500 Step To Knowledge scholarship program is now under way, reports Bill Greenfield, company manager of the Roseburg terminal.

Greenfield said today the scholarship is open to high school students in central Douglas County who will graduate this spring. Complete information and applications may be obtained from high school principals or offices.

The winning student will be selected by a judging committee comprised of area residents with school superintendent, chairman. Applications will be judged on a competitive basis. Deadline for having applications to the county school office is May 1.

The deciding factors will be scholastic standing and achievement, extra curricular activities, and educational aptitude. The $500 grant will be made through the company terminal in Roseburg.

This program has spread to include graduating students in over 180 cities throughout Oregon, Nevada, California and Washington. It will award 36 students, who will attend a college or university next fall, with a $500 scholarship, Greenfield said.

Carroll J. Roush, owner and president of the company who is directly responsible for the Step To Knowledge program, said, "with increased business, social and population growth comes the greater necessity for additional educational opportunities to deserving students. We believe that students desirous of attaining a higher education should be encouraged in every way and that any aid from private enterprise is a sound investment in our nation's future."
