Carlton Wilder of Tucson, Ariz. is spending 10 days in Roseburg attending to business and visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. A. A. Wilder. He brought his mother back to her home here with him. Mrs. Wilder has spent the last several months in Tucson.

Miss Cheryl Ryan arrived back in Oregon via Pan American World Airways Jet plane Saturday, following the last two weeks vacationing in Honolulu with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Ryan, of this city, who are at the Hawaiian King on Waikiki Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Ryan are enjoying a long stay in the islands.

Merrily Wamsley and Linda Strickling, both students at University of Oregon, were here last week to take part in the wedding of Marilyn Todd and Kerwin L. Douglass. Miss Wamsley and the bride are both members of Delta Delta Delta sorority, and had charge of the gifts at the reception and Miss Strickling had charge of the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Aydelott have arrived back at their homes here, following a trip around the world by the British ship "Camberra." The two couples reported the trip was most enjoyable in every way. In Italy they toured points of interest in the southern part of the country with a guide who formerly lived in Portland and was graduated from Linfield College at McMinnville. The Italian family had moved back to Italy to reside, where the father owned a large taxi service.

Scripps Hails Small Papers

SEATTLE (AP)—The vice president of one of the nation's largest newspaper chains called small newspapers the lifeblood of the newspaper business here recently.

E. W. Scripps II, of Washington, D.C., of the Scripps Howard Newspapers, told delegates to a regional convention of Sigma Delta Chi journalistic society that the industry faces a bright future, despite the gloom of critics.

"There are some professional critics who say newspapers are doomed," he said. "That isn't true. New newspapers are being born every year. They are small, yes, but small newspapers are the lifeblood of this business."

Scripps said he believes the next few years will be exciting ones, bringing changes that will enhance the newspaper industry's prospects.

Earlier in the weekend convention a resolution was adopted asking the national society to adopt a new name. Suggested was the "Society of American Journalists." John M. McClelland Jr., Longview publisher and past national president, told the convention the present name "does not tell what we are." The resolution recommended the name Sigma Delta Chi be retained for undergraduate chapters.

Glendale 4-H Health Club Makes Favors For Easter

By MRS. GERALD B. FOX

The Community Kids 4-H Health Club of the Glendale Junior High at their last meeting at the school made Easter favors for patients at the Josephine General Hospital in Grants Pass.

Plans were made for the next meeting when the group will tour the Glendale city water system and sewage disposal plant with Don Blakely, city maintenance engineer acting as their guide. Afterward, the group will hold a picnic in the Glendale City Park.

Here For Holiday

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle McCaslin and children of Ashland were Easter holiday guests at the home of Mrs. McCaslin's mother, Mrs. Fred Williamson of Glendale. McCaslin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McCaslin of Yuba City and their son, Tommy, and married daughter, the former Betty McCaslin, and her baby son also spent the weekend. A family dinner was held at Mrs. Williamson's home Easter Day.

Glen W. Johnson of Star Route, Glendale, left recently for a visit of a week or more at the home of his nephew, George Johnson of Renton, Wash. Johnson plans to attend the World's Fair while he is in the area.

X15 Plane Soars To New Heights

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The X15 rocket plane zoomed to a record height of nearly 47 miles Monday but fell short of its goal, the designed maximum of about 48 miles.

The mark was reported to pilot Joe Walker by ground observers before he landed from the flight.

Other figures on the flight were not at once available.

The old mark of 217,000 feet, or about 41 miles, was set last October by Air Force Maj. Bob White.

The designed maximum is 250,000 feet.

Court Review Denied Cohen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mickey Cohen, former Los Angeles gambling czar, was denied today a Supreme Court review on his conviction and 15-year prison sentence for federal income tax evasion.

Counsel for Cohen, the onetime boss of West Coast bookies, contended he had been twice convicted for what was in substance the same tax charges. His appeal argued the ex-mobster had thus been placed in double jeopardy, in violation of the Constitution's Fifth Amendment.

On his latest conviction, Cohen was sentenced in federal court in Los Angeles on July 1, 1961, to the prison term and fined $30,000. Ten years previously, he was convicted of a willful attempt to evade taxes by filing false returns. He was then fined $10,000 and imprisoned for 3 1/2 years.

After the 1961 conviction, lower federal courts refused to permit Cohen's release on bail pending appeals. But Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court ordered him released on $100,000 bail and commented that Cohen's appeal raised a substantial question for consideration by the highest tribunal.

Justice Douglas noted he favored hearing Cohen's appeal. Justice White took no part in consideration of Cohen's request.

Dixonville Youth Earns Boy Scout Life Award

Frank Weseman, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mullikin of Dixonville, was presented his Life Award in scouting at the Deer Creek Community club recently.

Weseman joined Boy Scout Troop 45 in February, 1959. He has earned 11 merit badges during this period. He is presently senior patrol leader for the troop. Weseman is a Junior Guide High student. He has applied to the Oregon Trail Council for summer work at Camp Melakwa.
