Umpqua Grove Dinner Held To Celebrate Anniversary

Teepees and Indian dolls, representing the Umpqua Squaws drill team, highlighted the table decorations for the 10th anniversary dinner of the Woodmen Circle Umpqua Grove Saturday evening. The affair was held at the Evergreen Grange hall.

Other table appointments included white lace place mats, bouquets of lilacs and candelabra holding lavender and green candles.

The invocation by Ethel Fearnow preceded the dinner which was prepared by Roy Walker and members of Umpqua Grove.

Phebe McGuire, mistress of ceremonies, introduced as visiting guests from Portland: Mr. and Mrs. Owen Puckett, the latter being the state manager and national committeewoman; and Gwendolyn Lohr, Mary Clark, Clara Pope and Doris Elwell. Members introduced families and friends, guests for the evening.

Following the dinner, tribute was given to all past presidents of the grove by Mrs. Puckett. The past presidents, Vivian Borgae, Bunny Albertus, Lucy Benson, Jessie Thomas, Mozelle Welch, Beula Bixby, Besse Cornish, Bea Cornish and Phebe McGuire, stood in a large picture frame, individually, as tribute was paid and introductions made, after which each received a lovely corsage from Mrs. Puckett, a gift from the grove members. A duplicate corsage was then presented to Mrs. Puckett by Phebe McGuire in recognition of the assistance given by her for institution of the grove 10 years ago.

Alma Walker, musician, played appropriate musical numbers during the ceremony.

A unique resume and tribute then was read by Mrs. Puckett for the "Woman of the Year," who was announced as being Viola White. She was given a gold trophy cup for being selected the most outstanding member for the past year. She was crowned with a crown of lavender and white flowers and received a beautiful bouquet of colorful tulips.

A humorous skit was presented by Bea Cornish, Bella Holm, Ethel Fearnow and Jessie Thomas. The Umpqua Squaws, Ann Strong, Bella Holm, Bea Cornish, Besse Cornish, Jessie Thomas, Robbie Lee Cooper, Agnes Veach, Beula Bixby and Ethel Fearnow, entertained by giving a dance in Indian costume.

Toastmistresses Meet Wednesday

"How To Put People At Ease" was the title of table topics selected by Vivian Laurance at the Winston-Dillard Toastmistress Club dinner supper meeting Wednesday evening at the Birdsong Cafe.

President, Mrs. Alfred Daniels, conducted the meeting, introducing the toastmistress, Mrs. Don Weinberg.

Darlene Waldrip chose "How Latin America Can Save Itself From Castroism" as her speech, in keeping with the theme of the year, "South of the Border."

Lexicologist was Mrs. Ray Talbert, who conducted a word quiz. The educational feature was given by Mrs. Fred Albertus. Timekeeper was Ethel Strine. Speech critic was Mrs. Leonard Hanson and general evaluator was Mrs. Ned Wagner. The inspirational was rendered by Mrs. James Parrett.

The table, with Mrs. Strine in charge, was beautifully decorated with arrangements of lilacs and yellow Japanese roses. Large vases of dogwood blossoms were placed on tables bordering the entrance to the dining room.

Halo Squaws Have Meet

The Halo Squaws held their monthly meeting at the Yoncalla Gun Club Wednesday. Six members were present for a potluck dinner at noon. The afternoon was spent visiting. Two guests were present.

Mothers Tea Decorations Depict Pretty Dutch Theme

The theme, "Dutch Holiday" was carried out in charming, colorful decorations for the annual mothers tea Friday by members of the Girls' League of Riddle High School in the school auditorium.

Tables were arranged with pastel runners, place mats in the shape of a Dutch wooden shoe embellished with tulips and handmade tulip nut cups in varied colors. Each table was centered by a bouquet of tulips. The table of the league officers and their mothers was ornamented with a beautiful bouquet of red and white carnations, a gift from Mrs. Roscoe Ball.

Back of the officers' table was a Dutch windmill built by the shop class under the direction of John Zarnke, instructor, and bordered with tulips and a low white fence. Lilacs were used as room decorations. Carolyn McCoy was chairman of the decorating committee.

Ann Johnson announced the entertainment numbers. Participating in the program were Rena Pedem, Beryl Brown, Debbie Roberts, Carolyn Mauck, Sandra Shurtz, Pat Cyphert, Jack Gent, John Cassidy, Joyce Jordan, Arlene Gibson, Liz Sutton, Sandee Craig, Rosie Young, Sharon Addis, Laquetta Skeleton and Mike Schofield.

The home economics class had prepared the refreshments and gave a style show of wearing apparel made during the year under the supervision of their teacher, Miss Julie Wheelock.

Moiselle Morrison was narrator for the style show with the following modeling: Lorraine Cam,

'Pattern For Fun' Theme Of Annual Church Banquet

On Saturday 160 women and girls attended the annual mother-daughter banquet at the First Baptist Church of Roseburg.

The theme, "Pattern For Fun," was carried out in decorations and in a most delightful fun-type program. Button trees were used on the tables and a tree hung with novelty pin cushions and other sewing items was a center of attraction.

Miss Cheryl Peterson of Oakland played piano selections before dinner. Larry Hearin sang during the dinner hour. He was accompanied by Miss Peterson. Miss Donna Shelton, vocalist, was accompanied by Irene Patterson at the piano.

The invocation was given by Kay Kenworthy. Melva Mobley, president of the Missionary Society, welcomed the group. Miss Gladys Strong, founder of the Fellowship Guild Girls' organization in the local church, was guest of honor.

Ann McLain and Dortha Webb, counselors, and girls DeeAnne Sims and Glenda McLain gave the early history and presented a gift to Miss Strong on behalf of the

Janet Sedam Circle Has Installation And Banquet

The Janet Sedam Missionary Circle for business and professional women of the First Baptist Church of Roseburg, held its annual banquet and installation of officers at the Birdsong Cafe recently.

One of the members, Eta Orr Nickerson, received a wedding gift for her new home in Winston. Mrs. J. L. Rickey installed officers for 1962-63. She was assisted by Doris Kruschke who took solo parts at intervals during the installation.

New officers are: Chairman, Norma Bridges; vice chairman, Doris Byrd; secretary, Sarah Peterson; treasurer, Bernice Merrill; white cross chairman, Etta Nickerson; love gift, Lora Kester; flowers, Lucille Barnes and Doris Moore; reading, Esther Gilliland; devotional, Pauline Rains; publicity and membership, G. A. Davidson.

The chairman's gavel was presented to Norma Bridges by the Kathy Stuart, Roxy Clark, Cynthia Spain, Judy Green, Betty Jones, Debra Roberts, Rena Pedem, Ruby Winchester, Velma Colter, Donna Owens, Linda Agee, Wanda Rose, Roxa Aker, Ila Keele, Mary Bonn, Violet Wilson, Mary Perry, Diane Simmons, Sandra Shurtz, Mabel Morgan, Darlene Picklesimer, Rosie Young and Mike Kennedy. Gary Paetz and Tom Morrison assisted the models from the runway.

Alice Walker, Girls' League president, presented Carolyn McCoy as Girl of the Month; Mrs. Guy McGee, League adviser, presented Alice Walker as Girl of the Year; and Mrs. Monte Slay, last year's "Mother," presented Mrs. Stanley Keele as Mother of the Year.

Mrs. McGee presented service awards to Liz Sutton, Delayne Franklin, Ann Johnson, Carolyn McCoy, Diane Simmons, Alice Walker and Moiselle Morrison.

The Girls' League presented gifts of appreciation to Mrs. McGee, Mrs. Kathy Roberts, school secretary, and Miss Julie Wheelock.

Alice Walker, retiring league president, installed the following officers for 1962-63: Liz Sutton, president; Diane Simmons, vice president; Nancy Henry, secretary; Lorraine Cam, treasurer; Carolyn Frunk, social chairman; Carolyn Mauck, decorating chairman; Lynn Coleman, scrapbook reporter; Glenna Lapham, junior-senior welfare chairman; and Debbie Roberts, freshman-sophomore welfare chairman.

Gifts were given to Lora Kester, the oldest mother present; the youngest mother, Beverly Bergstead; and Myrtle Benedict, the mother of the most children (11).

Ralph Preston and Clarence Mobley designed dresses using Ron Preston and Bob Fogel as models. Their monologue of helpful sewing hints and description of their work was most entertaining.

Barbara Everson, recently elected next year's majorette for Roseburg Senior High School, gave a baton twirling exhibition. The guild girls presented a skit.

Debbie Waters sang a favorite hymn, and Beth Knigge gave the benediction. Ruth Smith, program chairman for the women's society, was mistress of ceremonies.

Men of the church prepared and served the delicious dinner. Leonard Webb has been the head chef on this occasion for the past six years.

Mrs. John Sparks (Lois Mobley) and daughter, Terri, of Monmouth, Oregon were guests of Mrs. Sparks' mother, Mrs. Clarence Mobley.

mission society and guild.
