

Jim Hoffa Indicted By Grand Jury. For Illegal Collection Of $1 Million

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa was indicted by a federal grand jury here Friday on charges of violating the Taft-Hartley Law and collecting some $1 million illegally.

The two-count indictment, which involved payment through an auto transport firm incorporated in Nashville, was revealed in Washington by Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy. The attorney general, along with his brother President Kennedy, then a senator, participated in an investigation of the firm by the McClellan committee looking into improper labor practices.

Hoffa, who pleaded innocent earlier Friday to a charge of assault pressed by a union aide, declined to discuss the new indictment with newsmen. But a teamster official in Chicago said Hoffa "shed no tears" when informed of it.

Hoffa, who flew to Chicago for two scheduled talks after his Washington court appearance, sent Harold Gibbons, executive vice president of the Teamsters, as a substitute at a scheduled Chicago press conference. "If it (the indictment) is anything like other indictments against labor leaders in this country," Gibbons told newsmen, "The essence of it is anything but the truth."

If convicted, Hoffa could be sentenced to up to one year in prison and fined $10,000 on each of the two counts.

At Orlando, Fla., federal court has under advisement a petition by Hoffa's lawyers to dismiss a federal mail fraud indictment based on a land development deal involving alleged misuse of half a million dollars of teamster union funds.

Indicted with Hoffa at Nashville was Commercial Carriers, Inc., a Detroit auto transport firm charged with setting up the Tennessee firm, Test Fleet Corp., and throwing lucrative Cadillac auto hauling business its way. At the time, Commercial Carriers had a labor contract with the Teamsters Union.

The indictment charges Hoffa and the late Owen Brennan, former Teamster vice president, received $1,000,000 from Commercial Carriers through Test Fleet, the stock of which had been transferred by Commercial Carriers to Mrs. Hoffa and Mrs. Brennan under their maiden names.

The indictment added Hoffa and Brennan later changed the name of Test Fleet Corp. to Hobren Corp., a combination of their names, in an effort to conceal true ownership.

Dist. Judge William E. Miller set June 7 for Hoffa and representatives of Commercial Carriers to appear here for arraignment.

The assault case against Hoffa by Samuel Baron, 39-year-old field director of the Teamsters National Warehouse Division, was set for trial June 19. Hoffa's request for a jury trial was granted.

Baron, who exhibited a bruised and cut face, said Hoffa attacked him in the union's plush Washington headquarters Thursday, climaxing a feud of long standing.

Parachute System Gets Overhaul In Preparation For Space Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Engineers worked busily today to change the parachute system to return astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter safely from orbit.

And Carpenter — the man most concerned — can be expected to keep a sharp eye on the sudden engineering change which delayed his space ride until at least next Tuesday.

Carpenter, a Navy lieutenant commander, may also have a chance to visit with his blonde wife, Rene, who came here to watch her husband's great venture into space.

When and where they might meet was not disclosed. Mrs. Carpenter is the first wife to come to this space port area actually to witness a flight. The Carpenters' four children may also arrive, perhaps the day before the flight.

Whether it will zoom off on Tuesday depends partly on completion and checkout of the change in automatic controls, "the fix" designed to assure safe parachute landing when Carpenter's space craft slices back to earth.

The parachute system had worked perfectly on five returns of capsules until John H. Glenn Jr.'s trip on Feb. 20. Glenn's small or drogue stabilizing chute popped out sooner than planned, at 27,000 feet rather than 21,000 feet. His real life saver, the 53-foot main parachute, did come out automatically as planned at about 10,000 feet.

But engineers and officials worried whether the same mishap could happen with the main parachute, said William B. Bland, an engineer of Project Mercury.

Tests to learn the cause of the Glenn incident continued to the last minute with indications that a stray electrical impulse might have triggered the premature release of the drogue. Bland told a news conference.

Goldberg Set For Fair

SEATTLE (AP) — Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg will help celebrate Oregon Day at the World's Fair next Saturday.

After making a speech before the King County Democratic convention, Goldberg will fly to Spokane to speak at a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

Secret Army Terrorists Strike Algiers Gendarmes With Mortars

ALGIERS (AP) — Secret Army Organization terrorists attacked mobile gendarmes stationed in the Summer Palace with mortar fire today, then fled before a determined counterattack.

The tough mobile gendarmes poured out of their headquarters and encircled the entire district after engaging the terrorists in an exchange of rifle and machinegun fire. The secret army commandos fled into a wooded heights area.

There were no reports of casualties on either side in the battle. The Summer Palace once was the home of France's delegate-general to Algeria, but now houses detachments of the mobile gendarmes, a military-type police force.

The mortar shells were lobbed into the grounds of the palace and burst in the lush tropical gardens. No one was injured.

Before smoke cleared away a patrol of gendarmes in armored vehicles raced out into the street.

Suddenly rifle and machine-gun fire broke out from embankments overlooking the street. The gendarmes returned heavy fire.

Other gendarme units were called into the area to throw a blockade around it as the palace unit and the secret army commandos exchanged fire.

The rattle of automatic weapons fire sent people in the area scurrying into hiding.

The Summer Palace, a splendid white-walled building in Moorish style and surrounded by a white wall, was long the symbol of French authority in Algeria.

It is not far from the heart of the city on a broad, palm-lined street that was once a pleasant strolling place.

In suburban Guyotville a half-dozen uniformed men showed up at a trade school, ostensibly to relieve the guard detail on duty. When the regular guards had departed, they blew up three small buildings.

Five bombs went off in a few miles from the city, damaging the fronts of homes and Moslem stores.

In Paris, the French government disclosed today that the number of French Algerians fleeing that strife-torn territory has increased from a trickle in January to a flood.

The state secretariat in charge of repatriation in a tabulation gave only the number of "heads of families" arriving because repatriates may claim assistance only if the head of the family is repatriated.

Many families moved to France while the husband and father remained in Algeria to continue at his job or look after his business. These families are not included in the secretariat figures.

The tabulation showed: January — 306 heads of families arriving from Algeria; February, 968; March, 3,906; April, 4,383; and the first half of May, 3,672.

Friday, 1,538 persons arrived on one ship from Algeria. Many more, unable to get aboard, were left on the dock at Algiers.

Church is a union of Congregational and Reformed churches. The Roseburg church will raise funds for a sanctuary with an expandable seating capacity of 200. The narthex will be on the upper level, with space for Church School rooms and meeting hall on the basement level.

The Rev. Verne A. Robinson is minister of the church. Arnold E. Lake is general chairman of the fund campaign.

"There has never been a greater hour than this to increase our support of the church," Rev. Heverly said of the new project. "In this time of world unrest, the one great hope of man is to be found in strengthening the Christian community."

Rev. Heverly advises and directs financial projects for churches of the denomination in a 14-state western area. A pastor for 17 years, he came to his present post from South Congregational Church, Middletown, Conn.

Frogs? The Place Is Jumping With Them

ANGELS CAMP, Calif. (AP) — Mark Twain inspired this gold rush day town's annual Jumping Frog Jubilee with his story of the frustrated hopper.

Loaded with buckshot by a slick gambler, the frog was unable to leap in Twain's "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County."

Buckshot will be barred when hundreds of frogs compete Sunday in the 34th annual Calaveras County Fair's Jumping Frog Jubilee.

Frogs still were being flown in from all parts of the world and the jubilee sponsors were having trouble keeping track of them. They didn't know how many entries they had.

But they noted frogs from Africa, Spain and many states, including Missouri, Illinois, Connecticut, Maryland, Arkansas, California, Nevada and Oregon.

Each entrant gets three leaps which are totaled.

If a hopper breaks the world's record Sunday his owner will win a $1,000 prize. An owner of a frog equaling the 18-foot 10-inch record will get $500.

If the record is not equalled, top prize will be $300.

National Park Official To Discuss Dunes Area

The proposed Oregon Sand dunes recreation area will be the topic for discussion by a speaker from the National Parks Service at the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday night in the Umpqua Hotel.

Daniel F. Burroughs, chief of the Columbia River Recreation Survey branch of the Parks Service will be the speaker, reports Elliott Motschenbacher, vice president, communications division.
