

Vikings Gain District 6-A-2 Title, Barkhurst Leads Action During Meet

Myrtle Creek Track Star Gains 30 Points In Effort

By NIEL CELLERS
News-Review Sports Writer

Ross Barkhurst turned in a sterling performance as the Myrtle Creek Vikings brought home the District 6-A-2 track crown from Ashland Saturday.

Barkhurst totaled 30 points by winning the 100 and 220-yard dashes, placing second in the discus and anchoring the second-place relay team. Combined with Barkhurst's performance were a pair of wins by middle distance ace Ed Cadman and two seconds by Bob Lucas. Other Myrtle Creek spikers came through with fourths, fifths and sixths to give the Vikings an 88-point total for the meet.

St. Mary's Crusaders of Medford finished second with 66 points and the Rogue River Chiefs took third with 54 points. Phoenix's Pirates and Lakeview's Honkers took fourth and fifth with 52 and 51 points respectively. The Myrtle Creek championship is the first won by an Umpqua Valley League team since the Douglas Trojans turned the trick in 1957.

State-Bound

As a result of the action Saturday, the Vikings will send three boys to state in seven events, plus an 880 relay quartet. St. Mary's qualified four in five events and its relay team. In addition to the Myrtle Creek qualifiers, the only UVL stars to make the grade were Don Goertzen of Sutherlin in the pole vault, Dan Dodd of Douglas in the low hurdles and Darrel Worley of Glendale in the 880.

Barkhurst led the Vikings to their win. In the 100 Barkhurst won in 10.7 seconds, then came back later in the meet with a final burst of speed at the finish line to win the 220 in a :23.4 clocking. Chris Jones of Rogue River was almost even with Barkhurst in the 220, being timed at :23.45. Jim Griener of Lakeview was third with a :23.5.

In the discus Barkhurst tossed the platter 131-10½ for second place behind Darrell Stock of Eagle Point. Stock's winning throw was 133-3¼.

Relay Team

Barkhurst teamed up with Vic Fitzpatrick, Jerry Hagbert and Lucas to finish second in the relay. St. Mary's won the relay in 1:34.6 and the Vikings had a 1:34.7 clocking. Cadman set a new mile record. He circled the track four times in 4:36.3. The old mark was held by Cliff Thompson of Douglas — a 4:37.8 run in 1957. Cadman doubled up by winning the 880 in 2:03. Lucas placed second in the high jump with a leap of 5-7¼ and took the runner-up spot in the 440 behind Rogue River's Barry Frantz. Goertzen sparked the Sutherlin Bulldogs with a pole vault of 12-6½ to set a new school and District 6-A-2 record. Goertzen held the school mark of 12-0 set earlier in the season. Mike Hanby of Illinois Valley cleared the bar at 12 feet in 1950 for the district standard.

Other record-breaking performances were turned in by St. Mary's Paul Elliott and Eagle Point's Lou Whipple. Elliott bettered the old record of 15.3 set by Bob Chapman of Henley in the high hurdles and tied the record of :20.8 in the low. Elliott ran the highs in :15.1. Whipple high jumped 5-11¼ to shatter the record of 5-11 set by Davis of Crater in 1956 and tied by Burrell Gober of Henley in 1959. The top two in each event will compete in the state meet at Corvallis May 25-26.

Irish Nine Nabs Title In Battle With Henley

Riddle's Irish came through with a single run in the top of the seventh inning Saturday at Gem Stadium in Klamath Falls to squeeze by the Henley Hornets for the District 6-A-2 baseball title.

When Lee Paetz slid into home in the seventh, the tally put the Irish on top, 5-4. When the Hornets were unable to score in their half of the inning, the Riddle nine had repeated as the district champs. Last year the Irish edged the Hornets, 3-2, for the title.

Henley struck first with a solo run in the first inning, but the Irish took over with three counters in the third. Riddle went ahead 4-1 with a single run in the fourth, only to see the Hornets tie the game with a three-run outburst in the fifth.

Bill Loper and Ron Weakley combined pitching talents to lead the Irish to the all-important victory. Loper worked the first five innings and was tagged for six hits and four runs. Loper struck out two and did not issue a walk. Weakley came on in the sixth to finish the game. Weakley gave up one hit and struck out one in two innings.

Riddle's winning run in the seventh came as the result of a walk, a sacrifice and an error. Lee Paetz worked his way for a base on balls, then Larry Ruckel laid it down a perfect sacrifice bunt towards third. Lee Paetz rounded second and took third on the throw to first which nailed Ruckel. Gathering speed Lee Paetz continued on to the plate. The throw reached the catcher in time, but Lee Paetz knocked the ball out of Danny Barnett's glove sliding in.

Henley's first-inning run came when Charlie Phillips was safe on an error, took second on Earl Albritton's ground out and scored on Barnett's single.

The Irish bounced back with three counters in their half of the third. Larry Ruckel led off with a single and Loper sacrificed him to second. On the sacrifice Ruckel took third when the third baseman did not return to his base in time. He scored when the throw to third got by Steve Reiling.

Don Fisher kept the rally alive with a single, then stole second and third. Bill Markham was hit by the pitcher. Markham stole second. On an error on Tom Morrison's grounder Fisher and Markham scored.

Mike Markham led off for the Irish in the fourth with a single, but was caught trying to steal. Lee Paetz walked and Ruckel singled, scoring Lee Paetz from first. Henley tied the game in the fifth, Reiling and Phillips started the rally with back-to-back singles, then scored on Albritton's base blow. Albritton stole second and Barrett was safe on a fielder's choice. Gary Paetz grabbed a liner off the bat of pitcher John Crumrine and raced from his short-stop position to second doubling Albritton.

Ben Stoehsler came through with a clutch single to bring Crumrine around the bases with the tying run.

An error put the tying run on for Henley in the bottom of the seventh, but a perfect throw from catcher Keith Hanson caught the Hornet trying to steal, ending the game.

Myrtle Creek Nine Beaten By Invading Myrtle Point

The Myrtle Creek Vikings had trouble matching runs with the invading Myrtle Point Bobcats as they fell, 11-7, in their final baseball outing of the season Saturday.

Both teams collected 11 hits, but the Bobcats bunched six of them in the fifth inning to score seven runs and clinch the win. The Vikings held a 2-1 lead at the end of one inning, but the Bobcats tied the game in the second and went ahead by one in the third. Myrtle Creek scored a lone run in the fourth to knot the score. Then came Myrtle Point's seven-run upsurge which the Vikings could not match.

In the disastrous fifth Rich Armstrong's two-run triple was the big blow. Bill Brodie had walked and Dean Noyes had singled before Armstrong uncorked his three-bagger. Dick Down drove Armstrong in with a single. Paul Franzen, Kerry Dayton and Dave Greer followed with base blows before a couple of Myrtle Creek errors aided the Bobcat upswing.

Myrtle Point's run in the first inning came on a homer by Armstrong.

Myrtle Creek took a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the first when Rich Abrahamson singled and Steve Newman belted a circuit clout. In Myrtle Creek's three-run seventh Darrell Yates walked, Gary Cockrell got a pinch-hit single and Dan Marsh drove them both in with a triple. Abrahamson singled to score Marsh.

Armstrong was 3-4 at the plate

Harvest Of 20 Million Kamloops Eggs At Diamond Lake Forecast This Year

Indications are that approximately 20 million Kamloops trout eggs will be taken from Diamond Lake this season. That will be considerably ahead of last year's take of 15 million eggs.

The first eggs from trapped fish were taken Friday, according to Jerry Bauer, biologist from the Game Commission's regional office in Roseburg. Bauer was present to supervise the start of the activity.

Enough females are on hand to yield another 7 million eggs, Bauer said. Collection results in about 1-5 million eggs per day. Another week of spawning is expected. Fish are being collected in traps.

These traps are set out from shore, with a net running to the bank. As fish cruise along the shallow shoreline they are led into the traps, which have wings on each side. The trapped fish then are conveyed by a half submerged boat to the area where the eggs are taken.

Eggs taken from the trout now in the lake will not be restocked. Instead, the game commission plans to restore the native rainbow to the lake.

The first planting will occur next week when 150,000 four to five-inch fish from Oak Springs hatchery will be moved in. Early in June another release of 150,000 fingerlings from Willamette and McKenzie stocks are to be planted. Kamloops taken as brood stock will be returned to the lake, furnishing ample fishing while reintroduction of native rainbows is in progress.

There will be some production of the Kamloops, as a few will deposit eggs in the lake itself. Survival from lake-spawned fish, however, will be very limited. Eventually, Bauer says, it is expected that the Kamloops species, which has not proven satisfactory, will disappear.

Fin-Clipped

All fish being planted in the lake are being fin-clipped to show their origin, size and other factors, and returns can be studied to determine the best methods and times of release.

Bill Wingfield, assistant superintendent of the Aisea hatchery is superintendent in charge of the hatching program at Diamond Lake, Bauer, reports. Presently he is assisted by five men brought in from several hatcheries. These men will remain for two or three weeks while eggs are secured and eyed. Final operation will be left to two men who will remain for the season.
