

Escape From Alcatraz Prison Was Dramatic One Of Perseverance

ALCATRAZ prisoners reported to have escaped are, left to right: Clarence Anglin, 31, his brother John William Anglin, 32, both of Montgomery, Ala., and Frank Lee Morris, 35. The three, serving time for bank robbery, were discovered missing from the prison in San Francisco Bay early Tuesday. (UPI Telephoto)

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The search went on today for three bank robbers who vanished from tide-swept Alcatraz Island prison in San Francisco Bay Tuesday after wriggling through cell wall vents tediously enlarged with stolen spoons.

Wardens Olin Blackwell said he does not believe the three men, led by a convict with an IQ of 152, are alive if they tried to swim for it.

However, because of the thoroughness of the trio's planning to bust "The Rock," officials concede that the men could have made it ashore on a makeshift raft.

Presence Not Discounted

Nor do they discount the possibility that Frank Lee Morris, 35, the leader, and two brothers, John, 32, and Clarence Anglin, 31, are still on the island, lurking in a water's edge cave.

An ever-widening search—coordinated by the FBI—has spread over northern California.

Their escape was discovered at 7:15 a.m. Tuesday. They were last seen at 9:30 p.m. Monday.

No one is known to have survived an escape attempt from "The Rock" in its 28 years as a federal prison, although 35 men tried it in 11 separate attempts.

Warden Blackwell told how the three men escaped the attention of authorities.

At 5 p.m. Monday, as usual, the doors clanged shut in the three-tiered cell block that housed 269 prisoners, watched over by 155 guards.

At 9:30 and thereafter every hour on the hour during periodic checks, nothing was found amiss.

Then at 7:15 in the morning, at the regular showup, the three didn't get up. Guards prodded what appeared to be their sleeping forms and found dummies—very realistic, plaster, paint and hair heads and pillow bodies.

Digging Tedious

It was found that the trio, apparently for weeks, had been digging at plaster and cement four inches thick with bits of spoons.

Their painstaking effort loosened a metal cover leading to a ventilation shaft through each cell wall.

The 8-by-10 inch openings connected the cells with a service shaft a yard wide.

From there it was 30 feet up a pipe to an air conditioner. This was dismantled, steel bars somehow torn aside and access gained to the mess hall roof.

A 50-foot-long drain pipe led to the ground, about 100 yards from the water on the San Francisco side of the island.

From this point, Warden Blackwell said, it was anybody's guess what the three desperate men did.

Parents Told To Give Help

CHICAGO (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham told a crowd which included street gang members Tuesday night "God never intended that young people should be disciplined by the courts, but by their parents."

Graham, addressing 36,000 persons at McCormick Place in the 14th meeting of his Greater Chicago Crusade, urged parents to give up the "cheap glitter of modern living" and offer their children Christian guidance.

Among the throng, which brought to nearly 460,000 the number of persons attending the revivals thus far, were 350 members of various South Side youth gangs, crusade officials said.
