

Nehru Confirms Soviet MIG Deal Will Probably Be Consummated

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

When word leaked out a month ago that India was considering the purchase of Soviet MIG fighter jets, short-tempered Indian Defense Minister Krishna Menon snapped that it was nobody's business but India's.

Speaking in more moderate terms, Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru confirmed that the MIG jet deal not only was being considered but probably would go through.

The super-sonic MIG21 was less complicated than Western models, he said, and was rugged.

Another factor was that the Russians offered to build a plant in which the Indians could manufacture their own MIGs.

This week it appeared that Nehru might be changing his mind and that Krishna Menon erred when he said the deal was India's business alone.

India's concern over the state of its air force sprang from two sources.

Behind in Air Power

Her old French and British-built jet fighters were no match for 163 U.S. F104 jet fighters with which Pakistan was supplied a year ago. Four years India has been feuding with Pakistan over the status of Kashmir.

India was concerned also over her border quarrel with Red China, and for that reason, too, wished to expand her fighter strength. The Russians offered to supply 32 planes for two squadrons.

PIERRE

When I clean off my office desk - it's an occasion! And what an occasion, when I have a beautiful new portrait of my wife and children to set on a clean desk. Excuse me while I call Chris, the recommended photographer, at OR 2-3212, and thank him for the occasion.

BILL

Pressure against the deal came from both the United States and Britain, and probably also from inside the Indian air force itself.

Not helping India's case was her utter refusal to permit in Indian-occupied Kashmir a plebiscite in which the Kashmiris would have the opportunity to decide their own future.

There was, in addition, a general lack of enthusiasm for Krishna Menon, a man who never seemed to lack an opinion on world affairs and whose opinions were often more than seemed to lean to the Communist side of the argument.

Aid in Question
Finally, on the United States'

Airport To Get Safety Device

Roseburg Municipal Airport will soon have a tetrahedron.

A tetrahedron is a ground safety installation which points wind direction and is therefore helpful to pilots in negotiating takeoffs and landings.

The Roseburg chapter of the Oregon Pilots Association is providing the improvement.

Triangular in shape with the apex pointing into the wind, the tetrahedron figure taken from the Greek. It is about 18 feet long and constructed of metal.

Joe Dent, chapter president, said the instrument will be a welcome safety addition to the airstrip.

"It indicates a definite runway and reduces the possibility of accident," he explained.

Brightly painted, it will be clearly visible from the air. It will be lighted at night.

Reunion Scheduled

The Shrum family will hold its annual picnic at Glade Wolf Creek Forest Camp at 1 p.m. Sunday, June 24. All relatives and friends of the family are invited, reports correspondent Mrs. Arthur Selby.

side, there was another consideration.

One was that U. S. aid to India, already spent or approved, is approaching the $5 billion mark, more than four times as much as India has received from the Soviet Union.

India, unlike Pakistan which receives U. S. military aid under both the CENTO and the SEATO treaties, has refused all forms of military aid. But it would be hard to convince Congress that U. S. economic aid at least indirectly also would finance the new MIGs.

In May, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee rejected a proposed $90 million increase in aid commitments to India and let the figure stand at last year's $727 million.

A charge that Krishna Menon sought to orient India's air force toward the Soviet Union is both doubtful and hard to prove. Not hard to see was the fact that an Indian deal for Russian MIGs might be far more expensive than the mere cost of the airplanes.

Premium Book Out For County's Fair

Premium books for the 1962 Douglas County Fair and Exposition are now out.

Bert Allenby, fair manager, said thousands of copies of the 66-page book have been mailed to southern Oregon residents.

The fair set for Aug. 15-19 has cash premiums totaling more than $20,000.

Open-class competition is offered to exhibitors from Douglas, Coos, Curry, Jackson, Lane and Josephine counties in 10 fair departments.

Classes for Future Farmers of America and 4-H exhibitors are open to Douglas County residents only.

Copies of the 1962 Premium List are available at public places throughout the county. They may also be obtained by writing the Douglas County Fair, Box 759, Roseburg.

BIG LOAD OF WOOL — The Douglas County wool above was shipped to Boston, Mass., Tuesday as the first consignment from the first county Wool Pool. A total 40,000 pounds made up primarily of fleece wool, was shipped to the Top Co. of Boston which paid 55.27 cents per pound for the fleece. Shown waiting by the truck to load the wool on a freight car are Jack Holgren (without hat) and Ralph Bates. Total sale was about 75,000 pounds at a price of more than $35,000. The rest of the wool will be shipped next Thursday. Purpose of the pool, which included 46 growers, is to get a better price by making it easier for a prospective buyer to buy large quantities all at once.

County Gets Its First Full-Time Watermaster

The low-flowing streams in Douglas County this summer will be under surveillance of the county's first full-time water master, Carol O. Bartels.

Bartels, 27, is working with the position he was appointed for the position by the state engineer's office in Salem where he has worked since 1954. He is under the directorship of the state engineer.

CAROL BARTELS
... new watermaster

The watermaster's job calls for enforcing water distribution and regulating use of public waters of the state. He also does hydrologic work, which includes streamflow measurements, etc.

Bartels formerly worked with the state office as field engineer, chief of party on a surveyor's crew. Although not a college graduate, Bartels has the equivalent

Medford Firm Wins Tract Near Tiller

Oregon Veneer Co. of Medford paid five cents a thousand board feet for incense cedar and other lesser species in an Umpqua National Forest timber sale in Roseburg this week to win a tract of 9,900,000 feet of Umpqua National Forest timber.

The company paid $80,220 for the Acker Rook sale in the South Umpqua Ranger District 28 miles northeast of Tiller. The timber on 275 acres was appraised at $80,175.

It included 7,700,000 feet of Douglas fir appraised at $8.95 per thousand, 1,300,000 feet of pine appraised at $19.20 and 600,000 feet of incense cedar and other species appraised at $2.60. Oregon Veneer paid the appraised prices for the first two groups and $2.45 per thousand for incense cedar and other species.

The second sale was the Lookout Salvage Sale on the Cow Creek District 15 miles southwest of Tiller on 130 acres. It sold to Herbert Lumber Co. of Riddle at the appraised price of $6,684. The tract contains 400,000 feet of timber, including 340,000 feet of Douglas fir and pine appraised at $19.20 and 60,000 feet of incense cedar and other species appraised at $2.60.

The next sales are scheduled Monday in the Roseburg supervisor's office.

The firm presently is in the last stages of paving 15.5 miles of the Wilbur-Glide Rd. It also is scheduled to pave 5.3 miles of the South Myrtle Rd. and 5.8 miles of the Upper Cow Creek Rd.

The firm is presently in the last stages of paving 15.5 miles of the Wilbur-Glide Rd. It also is scheduled to pave 5.3 miles of the South Myrtle Rd. and 5.8 miles of the Upper Cow Creek Rd.

The firm is presently in the last stages of paving 15.5 miles of the Wilbur-Glide Rd. It also is scheduled to pave 5.3 miles of the South Myrtle Rd. and 5.8 miles of the Upper Cow Creek Rd.

Oregon Medics To Name Physician At Coos Bay

PORTLAND (UPI) — A Coos Bay physician, Dr. Raymond M. McKeown, will be nominated by the Oregon Medical Society for president-elect of the American Medical Association at its meeting in Chicago June 25-29.

The announcement was made recently by Dr. Blair Henningsgaard of Astoria, society president. Dr. McKeown is currently secretary-treasurer of the AMA and vice president of the association's education and research foundation.

His name will be placed in nomination by Drs. A. O. Pitman of Hillsboro and Max R. Parrot of Portland, delegates to the annual session.

Dr. McKeown is a native of Minnesota and came to Coos Bay with his parents. He graduated from the University of Oregon and attended the University of Oregon medical school for two years before transferring to the University of Toronto faculty of medicine where he received his medical degree.

He completed his intern and residency training at Yale and returned to Coos Bay in 1936 to establish his practice.

PATRONIZE NEWS-REVIEW ADVERTISERS

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Willard Alvion Boyd, a Riddle mill worker, has filed for bankruptcy in U. S. District Court in Portland. He lists debts of $2,582.

Wed., June 20, 1962—The News-Review, Roseburg, Ore. 5

All Banks In Douglas Get Deposits Of County Funds

A recent story over the news wires indicate that Linn County's treasurer plans to keep depositing money funds in independent and branch banks without discrimination.

"This despite an opinion by Atty. Gen. Robert V. Thornton.

The treasurer, Mrs. Evelyn Downing, at least has one supporter in the action . . . Bert Laurence, Douglas County treasurer.

"That's the way I do it," Laurence said. "No discrimination."

Thornton's opinion noted counties and cities must give preference to banks whose main offices are within the corporate limits of the depositing public agency, in placing their current deposits."

"This may be the law," Mrs. Downing said, "but it is an old law unfair to the branch banks and their patrons and should be revised."

Laurence said he puts county funds into all banks of the county "and I treat all branches the same."

In the Roseburg banks, he said, he tends to place more funds in checking accounts since they are more flexible, he noted. But in the branch banks he deposits funds on a time basis to earn interest for the county. Time deposits are made in Roseburg banks also.

Depositories holding county money include the Roseburg, Drain and Myrtle Creek branches of the U.S. National Bank; First National Bank of Roseburg and its branch in Winston; The Douglas County State Bank and its branches in Oakland and Sutherlin; the South Umpqua State Bank, Canyonville; and Umpqua National Bank, Reedsport.

Deposits are made, Laurence said, according to preference.

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.

"In selecting banks or trust companies to act as depositories public officers and employees shall not be limited to the appointment of banks or trust companies in any particular locality; but if banks or trust companies within the corporate limits of the municipal corporation or political subdivision qualify to receive the funds, the local depositories shall be given preference. If there is more than one local qualifying depository, the depositing public officer or employee shall apportion the funds in such manner as he may deem proper."

The law apparently alluded to in this case is ORS 295.490 regarding locality of bank or trust company; preference of and apportionment of funds among.