California Apricots Come On During Week

By LEROY B. INMAN
Business News Dept. Editor

If you want apricots, now is the time to buy them. They are Til-ton and available out of Red Bluff, Calif., but it is pretty much a one-shot deal. Practically all will be harvested during the current week and most will go onto the open market.

Washington later will have some apricots, and possible some other areas will have them available. But there is no use to wait until the price drops. It won't.

Very fine peaches, Merrill Gems and Merrill Beauties, also are available now out of Red Bluff, and Santa Rosa plums from California are now coming on.

Most of the strawberries found on the market are out of the Eugene area, although a few are being brought in from California and some are produced locally. The season won't last much longer. Limited raspberries and some blackberries also can be found.

From all appearances this will be a very good grape season, already limited supplies of Pearl-ette seedless grapes are on, along with better supplies of Cardinals, which have seeds but are very good. Thompson seedless grapes will be on later this month.

A few Winesap apples are still available and new White Astrikans out of California, a green apple, are coming on now.

There is little change in the orange and lemon picture. Supplies and demand both have dropped on grapefruit. Only the California grapefruit is available and it is reportedly a slow mover at this time of year. Bananas also are unchanged. Coconuts and pineapples are plentiful and other tropical fruits are available on order. The new potato market shows signs of weakening, after holding very firm. Old ones are all but through. The dry onion market is holding steady with California the source. Washington onions are about three to four weeks off. Carrots remain steady. Bunch beets and turnips are out of Portland and California, and there are bulk turnips available from California with little demand.

The head lettuce market went up slightly, then has been holding steady this week. Leaf lettuces, romaine and endive are out of Portland and very reasonable. Both Portland and California are supplying radishes and green onions.

The cabbage market has declined with increased supplies. Portland is producing some cauliflowerer with cello-wrapped cauliflower coming out of California. There is little change in broccoli and celery. Corn is declining in price with more plentiful supplies.

Zucchini and yellow crooked neck and other summer squashes are way down in price with quality improving. The same is true of cucumbers with California the source.

The first warm day, at 83 degrees, earlier this week in Los Angeles completely altered the watermelon picture. That area eats about 90 per cent of the melons grown in that state, and with the better weather, the demand soared. Also melons will remain somewhat higher until after July 4.

Cantaloupes dropped some to about as low as they will get until local cantaloupes come on the market. Reports are they will be three to four weeks later than usual.

The market remains steady on asparagus out of Salem, egg plant and peppers out of California. Tomatoes have dropped in price with increased supplies. Rhubarb out of Eugene is limited.

Ribicoff Says Administration's Medicare Plan In Shaky Health

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff concedes the administration's medical care for the aged plan is in shaky health, and says he's ready for legislative surgery on it.

The president of the American Medical Association, meanwhile, has charged passage of the measure would undermine the nation's health care standards. Dr. Leonard W. Larson said that has been the outcome in every country that tried "politically controlled medicine."

Larson said recently the administration's program would swiftly mushroom into socialized medicine. He spoke in an interview on the Manion Radio Forum, broadcast from South Bend, Ind.

Interview Televised
Ribicoff said Sunday night in a television interview—NBC—Meet the Press—that while the medical care bill is in difficulty in the Ways and Means Committee "I really think we have an opportunity to come out with a favorable report."

Ribicoff said the administration is prepared to accept changes in the bill, but will not compromise on its central feature—financing under the Social Security System. He said that "goes to the very heart of the program. Without the Social Security approach you don't have a program." There are a number of alternatives that in my opinion could be very beneficial to the bill," Ribicoff said. Among them, he said, are:

Provision for coverage for some 3 million elderly persons who would not come under the current version because they are not covered by Social Security. Participation by Blue Cross, Blue private hospitalization insurance firms, in some aspects of the administration of the medical care program.

The administration plan, sponsored in Congress by Rep. Cecil R. King, D-Calif., and Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., would raise Social Security taxes one-fourth of 1 per cent to finance hospitalization and nursing home care for people 65 and over. It would not cover doctors' bills.

Larson attacked the administration plan in these terms: "What would start out as so-called medicine for a small segment of our population would soon become socialized medicine for every man, woman and child in this country." He said socialized medicine has undermined medical care in England, where many physicians are leaving the country "because they do not like the system under which they must work."

Divorce Suits Filed

Eleanor Marie vs. Kenneth Donald Agee. Married Dec. 18, 1955, at Elkton. Cruelly charged, plaintiff asks custody of three minor children and $50 monthly support. Plaintiff asks that her ownership in 1954 car be confirmed, that she convey unto defendant the household goods and furniture covered by a finance mortgage, retaining those items covered to herself, and that defendant pay current obligations, plus attorney fees and suit costs.

Bonnie Beth vs. David Estel Owen. Married in Portland July 7, 1961. Plaintiff charges cruelty and asks custody of their minor child and $75 monthly support, plus court costs and attorney fees.

Sharon Jo Anne vs. Lee Roy Cannon. Married at Reno, Nev., March 19, 1954. Cruelly charged. Plaintiff asks custody of two minor children and $40 monthly support for each. She also asks award of household appliances and furniture, and award of 1961 car to defendant, with him to assume encumbrance and also to pay other obligations.

Circuit Court

Complaints

Marion A. Smith vs. Fred Herscher. Plaintiff asks award of $2,500 general damages plus costs and disbursements, claiming that defendant, an osteopathic physician, was negligent in performing treatment on plaintiff's injured index finger of right hand, causing plaintiff's finger to heal crookedly and causing plaintiff pain and suffering. Plaintiff alleged defendant failed to diagnose and treat plaintiff for a fractured jaw but rather for a bruise or sprain and also failed to put the finger in a splint.

Union Interchange, Inc. of Washington vs. Clarence C. Zitek. On stipulation of the parties, case dismissed with prejudice and without cost to either party.

John L. Bell vs. Norman L. Chappell, dba Chappell Logging Co. Upon stipulation of the parties, suit dismissed with prejudice and without cost.
