

Glide Principal And Family Head For Millersville, Pa.

By MRS. ARTHUR SELBY
Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Christensen, and their three children have gone to Millersville, Pa. Christensen, principal of Glendale elementary and junior high schools was awarded a National Science Foundation scholarship to Pennsylvania State College. This scholarship was for full stipends and tuitions for Christensen, as well as full stipends for his wife and children who accompanied him for the summer.

Reunion Attended
Miss Ada Wood, retired Navy nurse, left recently for Oakland, Calif. to attend a family reunion and to visit relatives for an indefinite period.

Miss Leslie Spurgeon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Spurgeon, and Miss Sandra Isakson, daughter of Mrs. Emil Palm, both from San Francisco, Calif., spent the weekend at the homes of their respective parents. The young women were 1960 graduates of Glendale High School. Miss Spurgeon is employed at the Wells Fargo Bank and Miss Isakson is with Pacific Finance Co.

Mrs. Elbert Cellers suffered a severe sprained right ankle in a fall while attending an American Legion Drain-Cottage Grove baseball game at Cottage Grove. Her son, Darrell, is a member of the Drain team.

RIDES IN STYLE
WASHINGTON (UPI)—An ambulance rushed to a shopping center recently where a woman had fainted in 90-degree heat. The prostrate woman opened her eyes and asked if the ambulance was air-conditioned. When told it wasn't, she dismissed the drivers with instructions to call "one of those private, air-conditioned ones."

TRIP GOING WELL
Word has been received from Gene Rosaschi, one of the chaperones of the 58 Glide High School students on the Mexican tour, "All is going well. Few of the young people have received a greater thrill than this trip. They have been extremely easy to manage."

Excused From Duty
AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Judge Herman Jones has excused a man for jury duty in his 53rd District Court because "he is not a resident of Travis County."

SALEM (UPI) — Lower rail rates on eastbound shipments of potatoes from Eastern Idaho are putting Oregon potato growers at a "distinct competitive disadvantage," the Oregon Public utility commissioner's office said Wednesday.

Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railway, and Great Northern.
He noted that growers in one Eastern Oregon County, Malheur, depend almost entirely on eastern markets. While Central and Southern Oregon growers ship only part of their crop east and the bulk of it to California and local points, Singleton said they should get the same eastbound rate too.

SALEM (UPI) — Lower rail rates on eastbound shipments of potatoes from Eastern Idaho are putting Oregon potato growers at a "distinct competitive disadvantage," the Oregon Public utility commissioner's office said Wednesday.

Railroads serving Oregon were urged by James E. Singleton, state transportation director, to grant equally lower rates on potatoes from Eastern, Central and Southern Oregon.

Singleton said that last March, Eastern Idaho growers were given a general cut of 13 cents per hundred pounds on carloads of 45,000 pounds.

Singleton sent the request for an Oregon cut to four railroads—Union Pacific, Southern Pacific,

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fishermen will soon have a lobbying group in Washington to help them get higher prices for their catch. The Seafarers' Union announced that its 16 locals would be represented by an organization known as the National Conference of Fishermen and Fish Cannery Workers. The group will attempt to remove a provision of an anti-trust law that bars fishermen's unions from bargaining on prices of fish before they sail on a voyage.
