Lovely Wedding Takes Place Here

The wedding of Judith Loree Stewart of Roseburg and Kenneth Earl Mahoney of Seattle, Wash., took place June 9 at 3 p.m. in the First Christian Church of Roseburg. The double ring ceremony was performed by James C. Smith, pastor of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Stewart of this city. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Thel Allen and the late Lee Mahoney, both of Roseburg.

Baskets of white Dutch iris were used to decorate the altar. An organ prelude was played by Mrs. S. Clarence Trued. "God Gave Me You" and "Whither Thou Goest" were sung by Mrs. Paul Nott.

The father of the bride gave her in marriage. She was charming in a floor-length gown of white applied lace over satin, styled with a chapel train, scalloped neckline and wrist-length sleeves. Her fingertip veil of illusion was secured by a crown of seed pearls. Her wedding bouquet was of yellow roses and stephanotis centered by a gardenia corsage.

Lois Williams was maid of honor. Mrs. Ralph McWilliams was bridesmaid. They wore aqua gowns fashioned with full skirts, short sleeves and rounded necklines. Their hats were of white net with crowns of daisies. They carried bouquets of yellow daisies in a cascade arrangement. Both wore birthstone necklaces, gifts from the bride.

Cindy Fosback, niece of the bridegroom, was daisy in a yellow print nylon dress with white accessories. Her basket contained yellow daisies.

Steve Fosback, the bridegroom's nephew, was ring bearer. Best man for the bridegroom was Delano Drake. Ushering duties were performed by Steve Stewart, brother of the bridegroom, and Arlin Gordon, his cousin.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stewart wore a gold print dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore pink lace with bone accessories. Both mothers had white carnation corsages.

Mrs. B. B. Bouslog, grandmother of the bride, wore mauve lace with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held at the church following the wedding. The affair was catered by Mrs. L. F. Jackson. The lovely four-tiered cake was decorated in aqua and white to carry out the colors chosen by the bride. The cake had been made by Mrs. Ernest Brownell. Mrs. Roy Gordon, aunt of the bridegroom, cut the cake and was assisted by Mrs. Charles Howe. Another aunt, Mrs. Jay Guiley, served coffee. Mrs. Arlin Gordon served punch. Miss Judy Piper had charge of the guest book. The gift table was attended by Mrs. Ray Hinson and Miss Karen Freeman.

The couple honeymooned at points north. For traveling, the bride wore a toast-colored suit, bone-colored accessories and the gardenia corsage from her wedding bouquet. The newlyweds are now at home at 310 East, Apt. 1, Seattle 2, Wash.

The bride was graduated from Roseburg High School and attended Oregon State University. She has been employed as a bookkeeper for Douglas County State Bank. The bridegroom attended Myrtle Creek High School and was in the U.S. Air Force for four years. He is currently employed in Seattle at Boeing Aircraft.

Special guests at the wedding were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Bouslog, who came from Sharon Springs, Kans., for the event.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Lindbloom, Roseburg, announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol, to William Thomas Hamlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren B. Hamlin. Carol was graduated from Roseburg High School and Oregon State University. He was graduated from Medford High School and will be graduated from CSU in August. The wedding will take place in Roseburg Aug. 12.

Yoncalla Wedding Event Of June 10

Miss R. Anne Campbell of Salem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Campbell of Rice Hill, became the bride of James B. Proebstel, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Proebstel of Yoncalla, at an impressive ceremony Sunday, June 10, at 4 p.m. at the Yoncalla Methodist Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Roy W. Knight of McMinnville, former pastor of the Yoncalla Methodist Church.

Mrs. Harold Boucock played nuptial music on the organ and accompanied Terry Edin, who sang "The Lord's Prayer." She also played the wedding marches.

Tall white baskets of Esther Reed daisies and a silver and white candelabra were used in decorating the altar of the church. Elizabeth and Dan McFarland of Salem were candlelighters. Elizabeth wore a green gown of the same shade as the bride's attendants' dresses.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was beautiful in a full-length wedding gown made of white silk poie de soie, with round neckline and a belted sheath skirt. Her sash and full-length streamers were embroidered with lace and had seed pearl trim. The gown was designed by the bride's mother. The fingertip veil of French illusion was held in place by a cap of seed pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement bouquet of Esther Reed daisies. She also wore a diamond pendant, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a handmade Belgian lace handkerchief brought from Europe by her aunt, Mrs. May Tavenor.

Mrs. David L. Hemminger of Corvallis, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a mint green brocade cotton satin sheath dress with full silk chiffon matching overskirt. A mint green Juliet cap with seed pearl trim and short circular veil completed her costume. She carried a bouquet of Esther Reed daisies. Miss Connie Albert of Oakland was bridesmaid.

Azalea Girl Becomes Bride In Community Church Rites

Miss Barbara Ann Drew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Drew of Azalea, and Harold Davis of Wolf Creek were married in an impressive single-ring ceremony which took place Saturday evening, May 26, at the Azalea Community Church. The Rev. Arnold Dalke, pastor, officiated.

The church was beautifully decorated with white candelabra and large white baskets of white snowballs, blue and gold iris and yellow and orange columbines.

Mrs. Arnold Dalke at the piano, accompanied as Mrs. Clifford Worley of Canyonville sang, "O Promise Me."

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her attendants included Miss Christine Hogg of Myrtle Creek, maid of honor, and Miss Betty Campbell and Miss Carol Thompson, bridesmaids.

The bridegroom was attended by Fred West of Myrtle Creek, best man, and by Floyd West of Myrtle Creek and Francis West of Glendale, ushers.

The candlelighters were Miss Delores Cobb and Miss Virginia Perry.

The bride wore a sheer white full-skirted street length gown decorated with a sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves and a wide satin insert at the waist. Her fingertip veil was caught with a crown of white flowers. She carried a nose gay of white carnations tied with trailing pink satin streamers.

The maid of honor wore a blue sheath dress, while the bridesmaids had blue frocks, princess style, with flared skirts. The three attendants wore pink carnation corsages.

The mother of the bride wore a blue and green plaid dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

After the ceremony, a wedding reception was held at the Azalea Grange Hall. The couple cut an exquisite three-tiered cake topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. The white cake, accented with pink roses, had been made and decorated by Mrs. Verne Newton.

An arrangement of white snowballs was used on the serving table from which Mrs. Paul Schimp served cake. Mrs. Jarol Duerson poured the coffee, and Mrs. Dick Darrow poured the punch.

Approximately 100 guests were present.

Included among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Caudley of Eugene and Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Abercrombie and family, Oakridge.

After the reception, the couple took a brief honeymoon to the coast, returning in time for the Glendale High School baccalaureate and graduation ceremonies in which the bride participated.

The newlyweds are making their home in Myrtle Creek. The bridegroom is employed by the Tunnel Creek Lumber Co. in Wolf Creek.

Her gown was identical to that of the matron of honor.

George Pearson of Seattle, Wash., cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Stanley Snider and David Hansen.

A reception was held in the first place room of the church immediately following the ceremony. The serving table was covered with an heirloom Belgian lace and linen cloth belonging to the bridegroom's mother. Silver candelabra and coffee service flanked each side of the large tiered wedding cake, circled by Esther Reed daisies. The mantel was decorated with silver and crystal candles centered by a white iris arrangement. White iris bouquets about the room completed the decorations.

Following the traditional first cutting by the bride and bridegroom, Mrs. Emel Pearson of Portland, aunt of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Paul Dawson of Albany cut and served the cake. Mrs. Lee T. Sharps of San Mateo, Calif., aunt of the bridegroom, and Mrs. May Tavenor of Clatskanie, aunt of the bride, poured. Mrs. Robert Allen of Oakland and Mrs. Julien Fallour of Salem had charge of the gifts. Mrs. Lewis H. McFarland of Salem had charge of the guest book.

The bride chose a turquoise suit with bone-colored accessories and an orchid corsage for her going-away costume, for her honeymoon to Canada. On their return they will be at home at 2319 Crest St., Klamath Falls.

The bride and bridegroom were both graduated from Yoncalla High School. She was graduated from Oregon State University.

The bridegroom will be a student at OTI. The bride will teach primary grades at Stearns School, Klamath Falls.

Out-of-state guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Pearson of Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Leo T. Sharps of San Mateo, Calif.; Mrs. Howard McCann of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Currier of Clear, Alaska; and Don Beight of El Cajon, Calif.

A BRIDE of June 10 was R. Anne Campbell of Salem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Campbell of Rice Hill, who was married to James B. Proebstel, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Proebstel of Yoncalla, at the Yoncalla Methodist Church. (Picture by Kennell-Ellis Studio).
