

San Quentin Officials Probing Escape Try By Death Row Cons

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI)—San Quentin Prison officials moved on two fronts today in investigation of a desperate, but unsuccessful, escape attempt by six Death Row inmates.

State Highway Employees Get Service Pins

Service award pins were awarded several employees of the Oregon State Highway Department in a brief ceremony at the State Highway office in Roseburg Monday.

Service pins are awarded to employees at the end of each five-year period of continuous service to the department, beginning at the end of 10 years' employment.

Walter Krueger, bridge maintenance superintendent, whose headquarters are in Roseburg, was given an award pin denoting 40 years of service at a special ceremony in Salem.

$30,000 Is Lost In Portland Blaze

PORTLAND (UPI)—Fire caused extensive damage to the auditorium of the St. Rita's elementary school early today. Damage was estimated at $30,000.

Fire officials began an investigation into the cause of the fire which was believed to have started in the stage area of the building.

The fire did not damage the school which is adjacent to the concrete and wood auditorium.

Parkrose Fire Chief Ken Hickey said fire resistant glass which had recently been installed between the auditorium and the school was credited with saving the school from damage.

He said normal glass would have melted from the intense heat.

The alarm was turned in at 4:45 a.m. PDT by passersby.

Rev. Nicholas Norriss, pastor of St. Rita's, said he expected repairs would be completed in time for resumption of classes in the fall.

more baffling—where the blades now are hidden.

The six men, all convicted murderers, were put in solitary confinement after they failed Monday in an effort to break out of the well-known prison.

Warden Fred Dickson said all attempts to learn about the hack-saw blades from the prisoners have been futile. "They don't talk," he said.

The six men held two guards captive for three hours during their attempted break, but they got no farther than the heavy steel door that seals off Death Row.

The guards, both injured by the prisoners, were released, as were two guns the inmates took from one hostage, when other guards fired about 40 tear gas shells into the cell block.

The convicts tried to bargain for their freedom by telephone with Dickson, but prison policy does not permit the doors to be opened even if the warden's life is at stake. The prisoners finally surrendered.

from Los Angeles, told Dickson: "Warden, we're ready to give up. We don't want someone to come in here with tommy guns and shoot us like rats."

Besides Bates, those taking part in the escape bid were Luis Moya, 23, Augustine Baldonado, 29; David Bickley, 22; Manuel Chavez, 30; and Willard Winhover, 52. All but Bickley were sentenced to die, and Bickley's sentence had just been reversed pending a new trial on the death penalty.

Full Application Of Civil Rights Said 'Inevitable'

ATLANTA (UPI)—The white president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), said today that "full application of civil rights is inevitable because Negroes are now willing to die to achieve them."

Arthur B. Spingarn cautioned, however, that the job "still will take a number of years" and he urged the younger generation of Negroes to "be patient because inevitably the laws are going to be enforced."

The NAACP was expected to begin a concentrated picketing of Atlanta hotels today because of their refusal to house the 1,500 delegates to the 53rd national convention, which opened here Monday.

The organization adopted a resolution for a fully authorizing peaceful picketing of major hotels except for Peachtree Manor which has opened its doors to all races.

The NAACP charged that one hotel refused a room to United Nations Under Secretary Ralph J. Bunche, a convention speaker, and two motels refused accommodations despite confirmed reservations.

Spingarn arrived at the convention headquarters in Atlanta's huge Municipal Auditorium late Monday to find uniformed pickets wearing Nazi-type swastikas and carrying placards proclaiming that "the head of the NAACP is a Jew."

Atlanta Mayor Ivan Allen told a mass meeting Monday night that Atlanta will accept its responsibility in the changing racial picture and urged Negroes to join in "full acceptance of the responsibilities that go with these many privileges."

Joy Ride Ends In Jail For Roseburg Youth

A 16-year-old Roseburg boy who decided to take a joy ride in someone else's car, ended up in the Douglas County jail after he turned incorrectly and started down a one-way street in the wrong direction early today.

Roseburg City Police report the youth admitted taking the car of Howard Lloyd Stumbo from his driveway at 2039 SW Eugene St., when he found the keys in the car about 1:30 a.m. today.

He drove out of the driveway across a couple of window panes lying along the way, breaking these, then headed up in Melrose, he admitted to officers.

He went to visit a friend who wasn't home, then drove around for a couple of hours and came back to Roseburg. He decided to get a hamburger before returning the car. That was where he made the mistake of making a wrong turn and was spotted by the officer on patrol.

Navy Welcomes Report Of Sub

HONOLULU (UPI)—Reports of an unidentified submarine in the Johnston Island nuclear test area have been welcomed unofficially by the U.S. Navy.

The intrusion has given them an excellent opportunity to test the latest anti-submarine devices under simulated "war" conditions.

Although officially declining to comment on the cat and mouse game going on in the vast test area in the Pacific Ocean, Pearl Harbor sources said the zone was being "combed" by U.S. anti-submarine forces.

Contact with the submarine was made Friday night by the Coast Guard cutter Matagorda and the Coast Guard tender Ironwood.

VA Releases $900,000 For Veteran Home Loans

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Veterans Administration Monday released $900,000 to its Portland regional office for use in filling home loans, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., announced.

The money is part of $75 million appropriated by Congress in 1961, but held up pending an overall review of the GI loan program which was completed recently.

KEROSENE LAMP REPLACED—Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman makes a telephone call Monday to a New Mexico cattle rancher who had just become the five-millionth consumer to receive electricity through Rural Electrification Administration loans. Behind the secretary is a huge photograph of the rancher and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John McGuffin of Tatum, N. M., using a kerosene lamp which will now be replaced by electricity. (UPI Telephoto).

Municipal Pool Use Down From 1961

Satisfaction with operation to date of the Roseburg Municipal Swimming Pool was expressed Monday by members of the Parks and Recreation Commission.

City Manager Craig McMicken advised members the pool served 4,059 swimmers during the opening month, June, when it operated for 14 days.

Total use during June of the previous year amounted to 4,117 but the facility operated three additional days, McMicken reported.

"Cool weather and cool water have resulted in a smaller utilization," the manager said.

Swimming pool income is higher due to an increase in swim rates and other factors, it was reported.

Cheesman House Damaged By Blaze

The Roseburg Rural Fire Department and the Roseburg City Fire Department, answering a mutual aid response, battled a blaze Monday evening at the home of J. S. Cheesman, Rt. 4, Box 1560, Lookingglass Rd.

Sparks from a barbecue fire landed on the roof of a shed and started the fire, firemen said. The blaze spread from the shed to the pump house and to the main structure of the Cheesman home. Estimated damage was $3,000. The report was turned in to the Rural Fire Department at 5:45 p.m.

Two morning fires were controlled by the Rural Fire Department Monday. At 9:11 an automobile on the freeway south of Roseburg caught fire from an emergency brake being left on while the car was in motion. No damage was reported. At 10:59 an overheated French fryer started a fire at the Food King Drive Inn, 1831 NE Stephens. The Rural Fire Department reported extensive smoke damage amounting to $150.

A shed fire at the home of Rona Smith, 854 NE Cedar, was reported to the Rural Fire Department at 9:55 p.m. Monday. The blaze was caused by a fire built in a stove with no chimney. The fire was quickly extinguished, keeping the damage to a minimum.

Robbery Suspect Bound Over To Grand Jury

Harry Oner, Gill, 36, Myrtle Creek, was bound over to the Douglas County Grand Jury, following a preliminary hearing in the District Court of Gerald R. Hayes Monday.

Gill is accused of the burglary of John's Country Store, owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Eckwall, on June 24. The Eckwalls told officers they returned home from town to find someone in the store, lying on the floor. Then the man plunged through a glass window and was later subdued on a vacant lot across the street, where he was held until officers arrived, they reported.

VA Releases $900,000 For Veteran Home Loans

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Veterans Administration Monday released $900,000 to its Portland regional office for use in filling home loans, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., announced.

The money is part of $75 million appropriated by Congress in 1961, but held up pending an overall review of the GI loan program which was completed recently.

Sen. Morse said another reason for releasing the money now was to meet an expected barrage of applications from World War II veterans, many of whom lose their eligibility July 25.

Stand The Heat Or Get Out, JFK Tells U.S. Diplomats

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy has suggested that if U.S. Foreign Service officers "cannot stand the heat" of modern diplomacy they ought to "get out of the kitchen."

"Personally," the President said "I think the place to be is in the kitchen."

Kennedy made the remarks in an off-the-record speech to the American Foreign Service Association May 31. It was published in the Foreign Service Journal and circulated today by the administration.

In the speech, Kennedy set forth the requirements for diplomats in his administration.

It is no longer enough, he said, to be "merely experts in diplomatic history. Now you have to involve yourselves in every element of foreign life—labor, class struggle, cultural affairs and all the rest."

A diplomat abroad must know "every facet" of American life in order to represent it "with strength and vigor," Kennedy said. He must learn to be happy while constantly under attack, and must expect the "criticism of the uninformed" and attacks which may be "malicious and in many cases self-serving."

He told the diplomats to remember that "every member of Congress who subjects you to abuse is being subjected himself, every two years, to the possibility that his career may also come to an end."

"He doesn't live a charmed life. You have to remember that the hot breath is on him also."

Kennedy said he wants the diplomatic corps to show more ability to come up with quick proposals for solving ever-changing problems. "Dissent and controversy," he said, are welcome.

Winston Accepts Police Car Bid

The Winston City Council, meeting Monday night at the Winston City Hall, accepted a bid from Lockwood Motors of Roseburg for a new police car. Delivery date is to be within 30 days.

Also voted was a "seal lift" to be put on Edwards St. with city crews to do the work.

In other action the council authorized the city clerk to turn over names of delinquent sewer users to the Douglas County tax rolls for collection. According to correspondent Fehbe McGuire, non-payment of sewer assessments over a two-year period constitutes delinquency. After collection of assessments, along with taxes, the county will turn over the sewer money to the city.

Rogue River Brush Fire Contained By Fighters

ROGUE RIVER, Ore. (UPI)—A 350-acre fire which burned through dry brushland near here during the past 24 hours has been contained, according to Curtis Nesheim, district warden of the State Forestry Department.

The fire started Monday afternoon in a garage about a mile southeast of the town of Rogue River. No buildings other than the garage were burned.

One load of borate solution, the first of the season, was dropped on the fire Monday afternoon by Rosenbalm Aviation, Inc., in an effort to control the blaze.

FOR LATE SHOPPERS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Marion county clerk Edwin McClure has announced plans to keep the marriage license bureau open Thursday nights to accommodate late shoppers.

Drunk Driving Nets Thirty Days In Jail

Carl Lee Wikstrom, 29, of 2662 NE Stephens St., Roseburg, pleaded guilty to drunken driving before District Judge Gerald R. Hayes Monday. He was sentenced to 30 days in the Douglas County jail and fined $125 and $5 costs.

Barbara J. Watkins, 28, Creswell, pleaded guilty to driving during a period of suspended operator's license, and was sentenced to five days in jail, fined $125 and $5 costs. Both arrests were by state police.

Two youths, Jack Jay Bonfield, 19, and Foster A. Clingerman, 18, are being held in the Douglas County jail as being absent without leave from Camp Roberts, Calif. They are held for army authorities.

A deputy from the Douglas County Sheriff's Department has gone to Livingston, Mont., to pick up Edward Dana Richardson. He is wanted here as a parole violator, and is reported to have absconded from the custody of the officer of probation and parole. He has 10 months, 25 days to serve on a county jail sentence on a worthless check charge.

Steamboat Tower Vandalism Solved

The shooting up of the water gauge tower about 12 miles up Steamboat Creek last week has been linked to three Roseburg youths who stole ammunition and guns from local stores and went out in the mountains to try them out.

Representatives of the sheriff's department, district attorney's office and Water Resources Department head Ben Irving investigated damage to the tank and gauge last Friday, and found about $400 damage caused. The rain gauge itself was not damaged. Several rounds of .22 shells were fired, it was reported.

The three youths, each 15 years of age, have been turned over to the juvenile department for disposition of their cases.

Glide Board Studies Plans For New School

The Glide School Board met Monday night to study preliminary plans prepared by John Briscoe, Eugene architect, on the starter unit for a new Glide elementary school, reports Mrs. Arthur Selby, News-Review correspondent.

This was a meeting originally scheduled for July 11, but it was moved up when the architect indicated his plans were ready for acceptance.

The board approved Briscoe's preliminary drafts and directed him to proceed with the final plans. It was decided to accept bids for the improvement of the new elementary site on July 23.

Specifications can be obtained at the architect's office in Eugene.

Lumber Market Ills Close Astoria Firm

ASTORIA (UPI)—Columbia-Hudson Lumber Co.'s sawmill was closed down this week. Management notified the employees that the closure was due to the continuing influx of Canadian lumber and the depressed U.S. lumber market.

The company sent letters last week to the 145 employees notifying them of the "indefinite" shutdown.

A spokesman said officers and stockholders would meet this week to consider further action.

Some Contractors To Continue Projects Without Iron Workers

By United Press International
General Contractors Association in mid-Willamette Valley will continue work on their construction projects without members of the striking Iron Workers union, executive secretary Pat Blair announced Monday.

Blair said in Salem the contractors would ask carpenter and building laborers to tie the steel. Such action would leave it up to the Iron Workers to decide if they wanted to picket all the projects, and then leave the carpenters and laborers with a decision on whether or not to cross the picket lines.

Blair said work on some projects in the Salem-Albany-Corvallis area has been going on under those conditions without any picketing by iron workers, but some other jobs had been shut down, either because of pickets or lack of workers to do the iron work.

He said the Willamette Association has no intention of signing a contract with the Iron Workers. He said most large iron jobs involving members of the association are sub-contracted to big steel firms, anyhow.

Members of the association are involved in construction projects worth about $10 million.

In Portland, Associated General Contractors issued a statement saying the real reason the union has refused to allow the dispute to be arbitrated is that its demands will not stand up under public scrutiny.

The employers previously had proposed the dispute be handed to the Joint Appeals Board for arbitration, but the union rejected the idea, saying the board could not take jurisdiction where there was a work stoppage.

The employers also pool-pooled union statements that a number of contractors have signed independent contracts.

The statement said that the employers listed in a labor paper as signing contracts had a total of 18 iron workers on their payrolls in May, compared to 500 on the payrolls of companies which have refused to sign one-year agreements.

Portland Local 29 of the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers has been out on strike in Oregon and Southwest Washington since May 28.

Maurine Wants Mark's Support On Power Plant

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Maurine B. Neuberger, D-Ore. today asked Gov. Mark Hatfield to tell the House Republican leadership that he supports a plan for installing a power plant at the Hanford, Wash., atomic works.

Mrs. Neuberger, in a telegram to the Republican governor, said the power proposal should not be allowed to become "a partisan political issue."

Noting that all Oregon members of Congress supported the proposal, Mrs. Neuberger asked Hatfield to advise House Republican leaders "of your support."

She said the electric generating facilities might be added to the reactor under construction at Hanford if the atomic energy authorization bill were passed "without crippling amendments."

The Bonneville Power Administration (BPA) has agreed to a plan under which the Washington Public Power Supply System (WPPSS), an organization of Washington state public utility districts, could finance addition of the generators to use waste steam from the plutonium-producing reactor.

The BPA contends it has authority to enter into the agreement, which it says would cost the government nothing, but has announced it will not do so if Congress objects.

Tickets To Games On Sale At Store

Tickets for the Legion Holiday Baseball Tournament are on sale at Coen's uptown store and will be available at the gate prior to the games each day.

The tickets are priced at $1 for reserved seats, 75 cents for general admission and 25 cents for children in junior high school or younger, rather than the prices listed in the advertisement in Monday's News-Review.

Bend, Albany, Tigard and Roseburg will be entered in the Fourth of July tourney. The first game tonight will pit Bend against Albany, while Roseburg and Tigard will square off in the second contest. The battle for the championship will be played Wednesday afternoon.

Noted Oregon Publisher, Ralph R. Cronise, Dies

ALBANY, Ore. (UPI)—Ralph R. Cronise, 76, well known Oregon publisher of the Albany Democrat-Herald, died in a hospital early today after a lengthy illness.

Cronise, a native of Oregon, sold his interest in the local newspaper to ex-Gov. Elmo Smith in 1957, retaining the position of editorial consultant.

He was born Jan. 4, 1886 at Salem and attended public schools there. He attended the University of Oregon and worked for the morning Eugene Register and the Oregon Statesman while in school.

Space Pamphlets Being Destroyed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Information Agency is grinding into pulp 10,000 copies of a pamphlet on U.S. space achievements.

The trouble is that after some of the copies had been distributed to U.S. embassies abroad, it was discovered that they contained descriptions and pictures of two satellites about which the Pentagon does not talk.

These were prototype versions of the Midas, designed to detect missile launchings by infrared sensors, and Samos, an observation satellite to examine "the nature of the globe."

Both have been popularly dubbed "spies in the sky" and as far back as November, 1961, the administration decided it would be better for international public relations purposes not to talk about them.

The pamphlet, "U.S. Satellites—The First 50," was printed for the U.S. government in Manila. It apparently disclosed no government secrets, but U.S. embassies around the world were ordered to kill it.

Somehow, the state department apparently misread word of the cancellation. United Press International picked up a copy from a table in the Public Affairs office. It was apparently the last copy.

Juveniles Questioned Regarding Shoplifting

City police questioned juveniles Monday regarding shoplifting at the local Payless Drug Store. A 7-year old boy, with an 8-year-old companion were stopped leaving the store with a pocket knife, fishing reel and rod.

A 14-year-old girl started to walk out without paying for a bottle of suntan lotion. Another girl with her was also questioned.
