Independence Day Picnic Given By Melrose Couple

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lutman of Melrose entertained at a Fourth of July picnic on the river at their home. Enjoying the day were Mr. and Mrs. Sibley Nielsen, Don and Rusty, Carl Becker, Mina Becker, Mrs. Alice Casson and children of Myrtle Creek; Lloyd and Alva Wilson, Mrs. Alice Lewis, Mrs. Wallace, Bruce White, Frank McGart, the Lutmans and Mr. and Mrs. Isom Webb of North Bend. Swimming and games were enjoyed.

Yvonne Iva Bare Now Mrs. Hulst

Miss Yvonne Iva Bare, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bare of Glendale, and Roger William Hulst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hulst of Chino, Calif., were married in a double ring ceremony Saturday evening, June 23, at the Azalea Community Church. The pastor of the church, the Rev. Arnold Dalke, officiated.

The bride was attended by Miss Sandra Mendenhall of Chino, Calif., maid of honor; and by Mrs. Richard Voss of Tacoma, Wash., and Miss Barbara Hulst of Chino, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids.

Ted Bare, brother of the bride, was best man; and Richard Voss of Tacoma and Jim Kennedy of Chino were the ushers. Neal Freeman, 4, of Madera, Calif., cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer. Candelights were Nina Hulst of Chino, sister of the bride; and Harold Bare, brother of the bride.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Tim McKernan sang, "I Love You Truly" and "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Arnold Dalke.

A pink and white color theme was used for the wedding. Platform decorations included white candles, white ribbons, and baskets of white gladioli and carnations. Pink and white ribbon bows on the ends of the pews marked the sections reserved for members of the couple's immediate families.

The bride wore a formal-length gown which she had fashioned. It was made of a heavy textured white brocade and detailed with three-quarter-length sleeves, draped neckline, princess waist and wide hooped skirt ending in a brief train. Her fingertip veil was edged in lace and caught to her head by a large white satin rose. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and white net clustered about a large white orchid with a yellow throat. She carried a white handkerchief which had been made for her by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Murdo Campbell of Chowchilla, Calif.

The bride's attendants wore identical ballerina-length dresses of pink brocade, featuring draped necklines, three-quarter length sleeves and full skirts. They carried white carnation nosegays. Their accessories included white picture hats, white gloves and white slippers.

The candlelighter wore a pink brocade ballerina-length dress with puff sleeves and a full skirt.

The mother of the bride wore a pink, full-skirted dress trimmed with ruffles of the same material. Her accessories included a white flower hat, white slippers and a white carnation corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue suit of Italian silk, with a white hat, gloves and slippers. She wore a white carnation corsage.

After the ceremony, the wedding party and guests drove to the Azalea Grange Hall for a reception. The meeting room wall was decorated with a bank of fern accentuated by a grouping of pink honeycomb wedding bells. White gladioli, carnations and fern filled a white-ribbon tied basket which was set at one end of the receiving line.

The couple cut an exquisite tiered cake made and decorated in pink, green, and white by Mrs. William Bare, mother of the bride. Delicate corinthian colonnades were twined with miniature pink roses. They supported a white platform which was decorated with nylon ruffling, wedding bells, pink roses and rosebuds. The cake was topped by bride and bridegroom figurines in a white filigree bow.

Bowls of white and yellow iris and fern were used to decorate the small tables in the dining room where guests were served.

Mrs. Richard Freeman of Madera, Calif., aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Leroy Dixon and Mrs. Tim McKernan cut and served the cake. Mrs. Anna Bare of Chino, paternal grandmother of the bride, served the pink fruit punch from a cut glass punch bowl made dramatic by a pineapple-shaped cake of ice. Mrs. Murdo Campbell of Chowchilla, maternal grandmother of the bride, served the coffee from a silver coffee service. The beverage table was decorated with a centerpiece of pink and white textured candles. The bridegroom's cake was wrapped in silver foil and tied with white ribbon.

Houseguests for the week preceding the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Murdo Campbell of Chowchilla; Mrs. Anna Bare, Miss Sandra Mendenhall, Mrs. Barbara Hulst, Roger Hulst and Jim Kennedy, all of Chino; Mrs. Richard Freeman of Madera, with her sons, Neal, Bruce and Charles; and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Voss of Tacoma. Weekend visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hulst and Mrs. Alfred Brown, all of Chino; and Mrs. Robert Nichols and daughters, Kathy and Beth of Rochester, in Glendale since that time and has attended business school in Roseburg the past year. Mr. Hulst will be returning to his classes at Mt. San Antonio College in Pomona, Calif., this fall.

Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated from Chino High School in 1961. The bride has lived

Crooch-Smith Wedding July 7

At the First Methodist Church in Redwood, City, Calif., Karen Elice Smith of San Carlos, Calif., became the bride of Dorven Kier Crooch of Roseburg.

The wedding took place July 7, the Rev. Ronald H. White of San Jose, Calif., officiating at the 2 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merton P. Smith of San Carlos. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne E. Crooch of this city.

Vocal selections included "The Lord's Prayer" by Jay Selby, and "One Hand, One Heart," sung by Charlene Farrow, a Chi Omega sorority sister of the bride.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was lovely in her full-length, high-collared gown of white organza over taffeta. The full skirt with chapel train had accents of white embroidered medallions. The bridal bouquet was fashioned of white butterfly orchids and stephanotis. For something old, the bride wore the wedding ring of the bridegroom's great-great-grandmother. The medallions on the traditional garter were from the wedding veil which had been worn by the bride's grandmother.

Mrs. Donald K. Smith of Redwood City, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Verrill Redo of Antioch, Calif., Thelma Taylor of San Carlos and Kathy Crooch of Roseburg, sister of the bridegroom. They wore pink organza over taffeta, the skirts of their frocks ornamented with medallions. Their bouquets were fashioned of white carnations and baby pink roses.

The duties of best man were performed by Ted Alexander of Salem. Ushering guests were Bill Palmrose of Los Angeles, John Kreis of Milbrae, Calif., and Donald Smith, brother of the bride. David Smith, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Teresa Bonebrake of Roseburg was flower girl.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smith chose a moss green organza dress. On her shoulder was pinned a corsage of white butterfly orchids. Mrs. Crooch, the bridegroom's mother, wore beige chiffon and lace with a corsage of green orchids.

Following the wedding the Merton Smiths were host and hostess at a reception at the Country House in Ladera, Calif. The bride's table was dominated by a lovely four-tiered white cake topped with three wedding bells. Flowers formed a cluster at the cake base.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Carmel, Calif., Oregon and Boise, Idaho. For going-away, the new Mrs. Crooch wore an off-white suit, with black accessories and turquoise hat. The young people returned from their honeymoon July 16 and are residing at 1342 NE Klamath, Roseburg.

The bride was graduated from Carlmont High School in San Carlos. The bridegroom is a Roseburg High School graduate. Both were graduated from Willamette University this year. The bridegroom is a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force.
