

Unander Says U. S. Aid To Asia Should Be Cut

PORTLAND (UPI) — Sig Unander, Republican nominee for U. S. Senate, told a news conference today that foreign aid to Southeast Asian countries should be cut while our determination to stand behind the countries in their struggle for freedom should be bolstered.

Unander returned Friday night from a two-week tour of the Far East.

He said that 2 1/2 billion dollars was spent last year in foreign aid to combat communism in Southeast Asia. It represents about one of every two dollars we spend on foreign aid throughout the world, he said.

He said the Southeast Asian nations need our unqualified moral support and backing and the need to know that we must be "unyielding against communism in their support."

Unander restated his position of opposition to recognition of Red China and in support of the Republic of China on Formosa.

"Contrary to my opponent, Senator (Wayne) Morse, I am rock-solid in my belief that we cannot survive by stroking the dragon's back or that sweet words and soft phrases will satisfy his hunger," he said.

Unander said the free Chinese troops were well trained and dedicated to the return to their homeland.

He said President Kennedy's position on the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu is not clear to the people of that area of the world. Unander said the two islands are part of the free world.

Unander said the responsibility of the free world.

Unander blasted Morse for the Democratic senator's filibuster in Congress against the administration's Telstar bill.

Unander said the Morse-led filibuster "insulted his own party leaders, confounded the work of the Senate, delayed vital appropriations and stalled the machinery of government."

The Republican candidate said he was in favor of the administration's bill and did not think it would be good to delay a vote on the matter.

War Games Claim Five

BENNETTSVILLE, S. C. (UPI) — "Friendly" forces pressed a counter attack today in the realistic operation Swift Strike II war games, which have claimed five lives during the week.

The friendly forces, which went to the aid of the mythical nation of Renloa when it was invaded by an aggressor last week, had succeeded today in winning back much of the lost territory and dividing the enemy forces.

Several serious accidents have marred the games, which will continue through Aug. 19 and are the most extensive military maneuvers undertaken by this country since World War II.

The latest mishap involved an F100 jet fighter which crashed Friday while flying an "attack" mission. The pilot was killed and a ground soldier injured.

Officials identified the pilot today as 1st Lt. William N. Gray, 32, Green Bell, Md.

Prior to the mishap involving Gray, two soldiers drowned during a night crossing of the Pee Dee River and two other soldiers were killed in separate Jeep and automobile accidents.

There have been numerous other minor casualties caused by a long string of incidents, including a troop carrier truck wreck, the crash of a light reconnaissance plane, and off-target paratroop jumps.

Jackie's Shopping Spree Starts Wild Rush Through Town Square

RAVELLO, Italy (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy went shopping instead of swimming as her first order of business today. And her sudden switch in plans sent 30 Italian policemen on a wild rush through the town square.

Later, she headed for the nearby Bay of Salerno, determined to regain her reputation as a water skier.

The first lady came out of the ancient Villa Sangro, where she and daughter Caroline, 4, are staying during their Italian vacation. Police obviously were expecting her to get into a car and go down to the sea to go swimming.

Instead, Mrs. Kennedy, wearing pink slacks with a red terrycloth top, suddenly turned and went down a flight of steps between two high stone walls leading to the village square.

Some of the startled Italian policemen went after Mrs. Kennedy, while a larger group went down another street leading to the village square at a dead run.

They puffed up to Mrs. Kennedy as she disappeared into a cafe "that probably would go under the name of 'drug store' in the United States. It sells anything from sunglasses to swimming suits.

Mrs. Kennedy was accompanied on the shopping trip by her brother-in-law, Prince Radziwill. She spent 10 minutes looking over the toys that came with boxes of candy. She finally picked a fuzzy brown donkey, a horse, a dog, a toy handbag and toy hat—each attached to a box of chocolates. They apparently were destined for daughter, Caroline, and for Princess Radziwill's children, Anthony, 3, and Anna Christina, 22 months.

Caroline and the two Radziwill children had gone to the sea earlier in the day with a nurse.

Blaze Damages Local Residence

Damage estimated at around $850 resulted from a fire at the George Ingram residence Friday. Fire was discovered in the attic of the building, 2934 NE Hall, at 3:38 p.m.

Apparently starting in the attic, the blaze damaged the attic and roof. Occupants had time to remove most of the contents from the main floor.

The Roseburg City Fire Department found the blaze to be stubborn and spent more than an hour and a quarter before the fire was completely extinguished.

Both the Roseburg Rural Fire Department and the Douglas County Protective Association firemen were idle Friday.

Atlas Missile Is Destroyed After Launch

VANDENBERG AFB, Calif. (UPI)—An Atlas F missile, destroyed deliberately less than a minute after launch Friday, rained debris on the small neighboring community of Betteravia, Air Force officers reported.

Authorities in Betteravia, about 12 miles southwest of Santa Maria, said some children were scrambling for pieces of the missile, but there were no reports of anyone having been hit by falling pieces.

It was theorized that the wind carried chunks of the missile back toward the community from the sky above the Pacific Ocean.

Crews from this base arrived on the scene quickly to round up scraps while a helicopter hovered over the area to warn residents, via a loudspeaker, not to touch the particles, which were covered with a chemical agent.

It was the first time in three years debris had fallen on land. Another missile blew up about three years ago, scattering some debris on Santa Maria, which adjoins this base. There were no injuries in that incident.

A member of the combat defense squadron crew from the base said pieces of the missile were scattered over a 60-mile area.

One Betteravia resident, Mrs. Ann Harrell, 32, was taking movies of the missile when it was destroyed by a range safety officer on its flight over the Pacific Ocean.

"It was awfully thrilling..." she said. "My 13-year-old daughter, Carolyn, was scared. She stayed right by me. She thought we were being bombed."

Air Force officers said the safety officer destroyed the missile when he detected trouble, but did not say what caused the big bird's failure.

The flight was to have taken the Atlas F 5,000 miles down the Pacific missile range.

Errata:

A headline in Friday's society page was in error. The story concerned the marriage of Bonnie Holmes and Donald Vannice.

Transposition of second lines of headlines on two separate wedding stories resulted in the error. The headline read: "Bonnie Holmes Now Mrs. Miller." It should have said: "Bonnie Holmes Becomes Bride." The reference to Mrs. Miller belonged on the story of Judith Paulson and Darth Miller, appearing on the same page.

Israel Thwarts Fourth British Attempt To Oust Convicted Spy

LONDON (UPI) — Israel today thwarted Britain's fourth and most specific order in a week to fly bail-jumping spy Robert A. Soblen to the United States.

The British government early today ordered Israel's El Al Airline to place the 61-year-old Soblen aboard a flight that was to have left Tel Aviv today en route to London and New York.

Barely two hours before the flight was to have left Israel, El Al officials in Tel Aviv announced without explanation that it has been canceled. They said there was no indication any other El Al flight would leave Israel today.

El Al officials here said the cancellation was caused by "maintenance trouble." The next scheduled El Al plane from London to New York, flight 251, would leave here at 3:45 p.m. (10:45 a.m. EDT) Sunday.

British officials here refused comment on the cancellation. A Home Office spokesman had said earlier, however, that an order to deport Soblen might be issued "if all else failed." He declined further comment.

The Israeli government clamped a news blackout on the Soblen affair, but reports from Tel Aviv said behind-the-scenes negotiations were in progress in an effort to find an "acceptable formula" for settlement of the dispute.

Home Secretary Henry Brooke, after a midnight conference with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, told El Al to put Soblen aboard that airliner and fly him back to the United States, where he has been sentenced to life imprisonment for spying.

Soblen, facing life imprisonment in the United States, won a reprieve again Friday night when El Al ignored Brooke's order to get him out of the country by midnight.

Strike Hits Rocky Flats Atomic Plant

DENVER (UPI) — A total of 1,500 workers walked off the job today in the first strike in the 10-year history of the top-secret Rocky Flats Atomic Energy Commission plant near here.

Picket lines were set up at 7 a.m. PDT after the strike, forestalled twice previously at the request of the Kennedy administration, got under way.

Officials of the Dow Chemical Co., which operates the plant for the AEC, said an estimated 350-500 supervisory employes and 500 other nonunion workers were expected to continue to report to work.

The nature of the work performed at the plant never has been reported publicly, except that it produces weapons. Two previous strike deadlines were postponed at the request of President Kennedy and Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg.

Dow industrial relations manager W.M. Bean said no new negotiating meetings had been scheduled to his knowledge.

Bean said company and union officials had worked together to insure an orderly shutdown of the processes which will be brought to a halt by the strike.

Key issue in the dispute is the company's request that the plant be operated on continuous 7-day shifts because of chemical processing under way. But the union members objected to work schedules providing no overtime pay for Saturday and Sunday work.

Douglas Dry During July

Anyone doubting July was a dry month need only look at the daily precipitation summary for the month from the Water Resources Survey.

Only five of the 28 gauges in the county showed any measurable precipitation. And only 10 showed any precipitation at all.

The heaviest "downpour" came at Toketee Falls where two-tenths of an inch fell on July 20. Other stations showing measurements were Reedsport .15, Smith River Falls .08, Tiller .04 and Hogback .01. Those with traces of rain for the month were Idlewild Park, Little River, South Deer Creek, Roseburg and Devil's Flat.

All but 10 days of the month were without any precipitation at any of the stations.

City Police Probe Parts Firm Entry

Roseburg police are investigating a break and entry at the Allen Parts and Equipment Co., 2675 NE Diamond Lake Blvd. sometime during the past night.

An impact wrench was taken, police said.

The break and entry was discovered at 1:20 a.m. today by police who noticed the door to the R. A. Briggs' trucking repair office was open and a sliding door to the parts and equipment firm was open.

Police said the prowler involved apparently broke into the Briggs section of the building and tried to open the sliding door to the other firm but failed.

Then a window was found on the west wall which led into a bathroom of the equipment firm. This was forced and entry gained. The wrench was then taken. A safe was tried but could not be opened.

The prowler then left by opening the sliding door and exiting through the Briggs Office.

Oregon's Teacher Education At High Level, Says Minear

PORTLAND (UPI) — Dr. Leon P. Minear, Oregon superintendent of public instruction, said Friday that the state is on the threshold of taking national leadership in teacher education.

He spoke before the City Club. Minear said major changes will be made in theory courses for prospective teachers and added that their whole liberal arts program will be bolstered.

He said that better educated teachers could do a better job educating Oregon's children.

Minear said that Oregon had lagged behind California and Washington at the elementary level but has always been on an equal basis at the secondary level of education.

He said Oregon is the only state where various departments and school districts were working together collectively for better teacher training and better education. He said some new practices were being tried.

Minear alluded to the Oregon Program of teacher improvement under the $3.5 million Ford Foundation grant in saying that the state would move far ahead in this respect.

Output so far this year was 232 million board feet below a comparable period in 1960, a slow year, the association said.

C. G. Edgett, executive vice president of the group, said, "We are feeling the pinch of increasing imports of cheaper made Canadian lumber."

He said Canadians now dominate the water shipments to the east coast with 65 per cent of the volume.
