Father J. Flynn Performs Lovely Wedding Ceremony

Sandra Kay Fowler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Maunu of Riddle, and Patrick Michael Jacoby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jacoby of Tigard, exchanged marriage vows in an eleven o'clock service Saturday morning, June 18, in St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Portland.

Father James Flynn, uncle of the bridegroom, came from San Francisco to perform the double ring ceremony, bringing to the couple a special blessing from the Pope. Tom and Jerry Jacoby, twin brothers of the bridegroom, served as altar boys for the Mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white lace over satin with long lace sleeves, a scalloped neckline of lace, and a front panel of pleats flowing from the waistline to the floor. She wore a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. Her short veil was accented by a crown of pearls and flowers; the bridal bouquet was a cascade of red roses and white carnations surrounding a white orchid.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Roy Domine of Portland, wearing a pastel blue dress of nylon over satin with matching accessories. She carried a bouquet of white roses and pink carnations. Bridesmaids were Miss Carol Stuart and Miss Jean Armagost. Miss Stuart wore a pink dress with matching accessories, and carried a bouquet of deep pink roses and pink carnations. Miss Armagost wore a yellow dress with matching accessories and carried deep yellow roses with yellow carnations. The dresses of the three attendants of the bride were in the same style with rounded necklines, three-quarter length sleeves, and semi-full pleated skirts.

Best man was Roy Domine. Other attendants of the bridegroom were his brother, Dick Jacoby, and Leonard Bauer. Flower girl was Doris Jacoby, sister of the bridegroom, dressed in blue and carrying a bouquet of roses and carnations. Ring bearer was Kenneth Jacoby, youngest brother of the bridegroom. Candelights were Lynn Maunu, brother of the bride, and Tony Jacoby, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Noel Johnson and Gary Lindimier, friends of the bridegroom. Mrs. Norman Maunu and Mrs. Kenneth Jacoby, mothers of the bridal pair, wore identical pink sheath dresses with matching lace jackets and orchid corsages.

Organ selections were played and duets sung by members of the church choir.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony with the bride party and parents of the couple in the receiving line.

A beautiful four-tiered pink and white wedding cake, topped with two silver wedding bells was served with coffee and punch by Miss Deanna Harper, Miss Faye King of Riddle, Miss Nancy Johnson and Miss Barbara Lindimier of Portland.

The bride's going-away costume was a suit of white linen with gold accessories. The newlyweds honeymooned at the coast and are now at home in Portland where the bridegroom is employed by the Wonder Bread Co. and where the bride attends Portland State college.

ENGAGEMENT TOLD — Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Hillmick, 915 Terrace Ave., Roseburg, announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy Ann, to Ronald J. Kendrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Kendrick, 971 W. Korean Girl Has Help From Here

The Roseburg Douglas County branch of the National Retired Teachers Association has been most gratified by the progress of Kim Hak Nim K of Korea.

The 12-year-old girl receives much of her living and education needs through the sponsorship of the local chapter which sends her $15 a month. Part of the money is used for tuition, the rest goes toward her personal needs.

Elnor Sherk is in charge of the project. The local branch first began its sponsorship of the Korean girl through an advertisement in the magazine, "Presbyterian Life." The group hopes to continue to help Hak Nim in her efforts to become a teacher.

Hak Nim is now 12 years old and has graduated from primary school and successfully passed entrance examination of a middle school this January. She is calm and is warm-hearted. She does better than average at her studies and her favorite subject is arithmetic for which she always receives an "A" mark. According to her primary school teacher she is a model student in her class, is diligent and has a strong sense of duty. She has many friends around her and has good relationships with them. She is in good health and her measurements are normal for her age.

She lives with her mother and her four brothers and sisters. The elder sister, Hak Soon, works at a drug manufacturing firm and earns about $7 per month. Hak Nim will be in the third grade of the middle school and Hak Joon will be entering primary school soon. The youngest child, Hak Joon, stays at home. The mother works as a vegetable peddler and earns about 30 cents daily which is barely enough to cover the family's living expenses, together with the elder girl's earnings.

The family (since receiving aid from the Foster Parents Plan) still lives in the same rented room as before, paying about $4 per month. The room has electric light but no water supply, and so the family gets its drinking water from the public water supply near the house. Communications are inconvenient as the house is located in a poor area in the outskirts of the city.

Chey Chee Sook, case worker for the Foster Parents Plan Inc., says the family's living conditions have improved since the girl enrolled by plan. The family does not suffer as before and the children are happily attending school in their neat clothes. But continued plan help is needed to keep the children in school and for the family's living.

Each month Kim Hak Nim writes to the local group to thank it for its help.

Excerpts from her letter say: "Our family is consisted by six. . . We have the Anniversary of Tangno's Accession Oct. 3 as the Foundation Day of Korea. . . We have passed the long time as the 4,285 years. . . On the Christmas morning we have sang around the street from door to door Christmas carol.

She continues: "I have thankfully received your monthly cash grant together with a pair of sneakers and a jean. With the money I bought my schoolings and the rest was spent for our livings."

A letter received in March from Hak Nim, says: "Here, our country, the cold winter has gone and the warm, bright and sunny spring has come now. . . Thank you for the cash grant together with many things such as a school bag, three pair socks, a water color, a sweater and five note book. . . These things are very useful schoolings for us."

Hak Nim can be grateful that a group of retired teachers from a country far from hers cares that she wishes to be a teacher and is giving her the necessary assistance in achieving her goal.

Descendants Of Findlays Meet For Family Picnic

The annual family reunion of the descendants of Thomas and Josephine Findlay was held Sunday at the Elton Jackson home at Winchester. For the first time in eight years all of the brothers and sisters were present. A delightful day of visiting, games, picture-taking, swimming in the hosts' beautiful pool and other activities were enjoyed by the 103 guests in attendance. A delicious "share the fare" dinner was served at 1 p.m.

Coming for the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. William Manley and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Scheidel, Jim, Judy and Jennifer, all of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Burley O. Wright of Springfield; Mrs. Ida Branch, Mrs. John B. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Tom O'Brien, all of Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Strohecker and Bill and Douglas Zeh, Madras; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Branch, Grants Pass; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bryant, Velma and Keith, Albany; Mr. and Mrs. Adam Dillen, Tyron Sanders and Bus Lowry, all of Redondo Beach, Calif.

Visit Of Kansas Relatives Inspires Reunion, Picnic

The visit of Kansas relatives of the Joe and Jay Wright families of the South Douglas area was the inspiration for a family reunion and picnic dinner at the Lavadour Grange Hall one Sunday recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Arterburn of Colwell, Kan., their daughter, Mrs. Carl Seagraves, and the latter's daughter, Jean, of Newton, Kan., are making their first trip to Oregon, where they have been guests of Mrs. Jay Wright and Mrs. J. S. Smith at Milo. Mrs. Arterburn is the daughter of Jess Wright, one of seven brothers two of whom, the late Joe and Jay Wright, were long-time residents of the Days Creek and Milo communities. Mrs. Jay Wright still resides at the family home at Milo, while Mrs. Joe D. Wright now makes her home in Canyonville.

Enjoying the occasion with the Kansans, besides Mrs. Arterburn's two aunts, were Mrs. J. S. Smith, Milo, Mrs. Dean Powell and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wright and daughter, all of Myrtle Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright and family of Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Currier of North Bend; and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wright.

To Be Married

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Stone of 1025 NE Alder, Roseburg, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, LaRetta Marie, to Al Mahan.

The wedding will take place Aug. 18. The couple will reside in Melrose following their marriage.

The bridegroom-elect was recently discharged from the U. S. Army. He is presently employed at the new Texaco service station at Oak and Pine.

Baptist Church Wedding Scene

The wedding of Mary Ellen Holbrook of Roseburg and Thomas Eugene Showalter of Jasper, Ind., took place July 14 at the First Baptist Church in Roseburg. Two hundred friends and relatives were present for the double ring ceremony performed by the bridegroom's father, the Rev. Alden G. Showalter of Jasper, minister of the Jasper First Presbyterian Church.

Baskets of white gladioli and white candles were used to decorate the altar. Special wedding music was played by Frances Lintott, organist.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father who gave her in marriage. She was charming in her floor-length gown of white Swiss linen and Belgian lace. Her veil was fingertip in length. Her bouquet was fashioned of white gladioli.

Mrs. James N. Van Riper of Monterey, Calif., sister of the bride, matron of honor, was attractive in a street-length frock of Swiss linen trimmed in lace.

Richard L. Berney was best man. Ushering guests were Darrell Keeney, Don Ware, Lynn Stults and Dennis Holbrook of Lake Stevens, Wash., nephew of the bride.

Mrs. Holbrook wore an attractive two-piece flowered dress. Mrs. Showalter wore a becoming blue lace frock. Both mothers wore corsages of pink and white gladioli.

After the wedding, the bride's parents were host and hostess at a reception held at the Oak Tree Inn on the Umpqua River. The reception table was covered with a blue net cloth, complementing the arrangement of pastel summer flowers and the lovely tiered wedding cake.

Mrs. Orville Richman and Mrs. Darley Ware cut and served the cake. Lading punch were Mrs. Irene Worthington and Mrs. Ellen Oetken, aunts of the bride. Coffee was served by Mrs. Adah Knowland and Mrs. Robert Stulls. Miss Arlene Lestico had charge of the gifts. The guest book was presented by Miss Salli Lin Holbrook, niece of the bride.

For going away, the bride changed into a rose sheath dress. The couple honeymooned in Canada and are now at home in Portland.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Holbrook of Roseburg, was graduated from Roseburg High School and Southern Oregon College. She will teach in the Portland school system.

The bridegroom, the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Alden G. Showalter of Jasper, Ind., was graduated from Northern Illinois University. He will teach school in Oregon City.

Coming from out of town for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Crosby and Nancy; Mrs. D. A. DeFord, Mrs. E. E. Worthington, Mrs. William Oetkin, Mrs. Herman Oetken and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Worthington, Carol and Susan Worthington and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Holbrook, all of Milwaukie; Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Judkins, Mrs. Phil Hendrie and Mrs. Don Carter, all of Portland.

Miss Arlene Lestico and Mrs. James E. Rice Jr., California; Mrs. Irma Westerkam, Everett, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Holbrook and Dennis and Stanley, Lake Stevens, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Davis, Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Leach, Beverly Leach and Mrs. V. F. McClelland, all of Medford; Mary and Carol Campy-nol, Gladstone; Mrs. Theo Worthington, Vancouver, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Bennet, Wacoma Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Russ Beasley, Oswego; Mrs. Mattie Brisbane, Bend, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Capizzi, Salem; Dr. and Mrs. William R. Furtek, Corvallis, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cummins and Les and Chris, Palm Springs, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ylvisaker, Coos Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carter, Oakridge; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Holbrook, Salli Lin, Mark, Jeff and Ellen, Carmel, Calif.; and Mrs. James N. Van Riper and Katherine and Billy, Fort Ord, Calif.

Lois Lewis Becomes Bride Of Clair Irwin Of Eugene

United in wedlock June 22 in a 6:30 p.m. ceremony performed by Elder A. P. Ritz in the parsonage of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Roseburg were Lois Lewis of Tiller and Clair LeRoy Irwin of Eugene. Fourteen close relatives and friends attended the wedding.

Only attendants of the bridal couple were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McEntire of Riddle, stepfather and mother of the bride.

For her wedding, the bride chose a lovely afternoon dress of sheer dactron print featuring gold flowers on a white background. The frock was fashioned with a scoop neckline, cap sleeves and full gathered skirt. She wore white pumps and her corsage was of three white gardenias. Mrs. McEntire wore an afternoon dress of purple crepe with white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Following the nuptial ceremony, the bridal couple was complimented at a wedding reception held at the McEntire home on Shoestring Road, Riddle, attended by all the wedding guests.

The bride's table was covered with a lovely lace cloth and was centered by the two-tiered wedding cake which was baked and decorated for the occasion by Miss Avis Lewis, daughter of the bride. It was iced in white with a cluster of pink roses on top and garlands of roses festooning the sides. After the newlyweds cut and shared the first slice, Mrs. William Randall of Cottage Grove, sister-in-law of the bride, served the cake, with punch or coffee, to the other guests.

The new Mrs. Irwin has lived in Douglas County since 1938 when her parents moved to Riddle from Idaho. She has lived at Tiller for the past 12 years. The bridegroom is employed by Pacific Power & Light Co. as a construction line-man.

Following a brief wedding trip to Kelso, Wash., the newlyweds are now at home near Tiller.
