

Unblocking Play Wins For South

(Written For NEA)

By OSWALD JACOBY

An unblocking play was of high interest in the Association of American Playing Card Manufacturers' Intercollegiate bridge tournament.

South's one spade opening is proper, although I imagine a lot of people would decide to pass.

Guardsman Returns From Fort Benning

Second Lt. Rolland D. Davis, local National Guardsman, has returned from a nine-week course of officer training at Fort Benning, Ga.

Davis is a member of Co. B, 182nd Infantry, Roseburg National Guard. Completion of the infantry officer orientation course will qualify Davis for promotion to the grade of first lieutenant.

Under National Guard regulations, each officer must attend the officer course at Fort Benning to qualify for promotion. Davis has a floor and carpet business in Roseburg.

Lt. Richard A. Booth, information officer, said the local unit is presently conducting an extensive recruiting drive with a goal of recruiting 30 new members. "This is in keeping with the Guard's new organization and Governor Hatfield's desire to maintain a stronger National Guard force," said Booth.

LISTEN OR ELSE

DALLAS (UPI) — David C. Barrett got bored with the whole thing and walked away recently.

A five-man band led by a red-shirted guitar player became angry when Barrett walked away from their impromptu concert in a city park and beat him up.
