No matter what kind of trouble you have getting a clear TV picture—and on whatever channel—replace your old antenna with the remarkable new Channel Master CROSSFIRE and see the improvement!... Immediately! In black-and-white and color!

The CROSSFIRE—a genuine space-age achievement—is designed by the world's greatest antenna laboratory. It works wonders to remove snow, banish ghosts, reject interference. It pulls in the sharpest, clearest picture possible on all channels—in the most "picture-poor" home!

The secret? A brand-new engineering principle that leaves all other antennas far behind—Proportional Energy Absorption! Put simply, this means: In all other antennas only a limited number of "power elements" are working to pull in a good picture on a given channel; in the CROSSFIRE more of these "picture-pulling elements" are actively at work on each channel... than any other antenna.

For a better TV picture in your home—insist on the CROSSFIRE. Its cost is moderate.
