State Cigarette Tax Seems Doomed Today

SALEM (UPI) — Senate House tax conferees today sounded out other lawmakers following tentative agreement on a $46 million income tax measure and a $14-million one-shot revenue plan.

The four-man conference committee was still split over capital gains, corporate excise and cigarette taxes after a weekend-long series of meetings.

The 4-cent a pack cigarette tax seemed doomed.

Still under consideration was a capital gains tax based on the federal formula, but with a 5 per cent maximum fee, and a possible 1 per cent increase in corporate excise taxes.

It was not known when final settlement would be reached.

Conference members include House Tax Committee Chairman Richard Eymann, D-Marcola; Rep. Victor Atiyeh, R-Portland; Senate Tax Committee Chairman Boyd Overhulse, D-Madras, and Sen. Robert Elfstrom, R-Salem.

They began probing for compromise at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, and met off-and-on until 9:30 p.m. Sunday.

The income tax and one-shot plans combined would raise the $60 million needed to finance a $405 million general fund budget.

The conference committee's proposed income tax would eliminate federal deductions, allow heads of households to file joint returns, include fractional rates stepped from 2 to 7 1/2 per cent, a student exemption, a 10 per cent standard deduction, a $100 deductible unlimited medical and $100 deductible unlimited casualty loss exemption, plus a $20 tax credit for each dependent.

Conferees were undecided whether a $5-$10 flat filing fee should be charged, or whether the filing fee should be based on a percentage of income.

Abandonment of the net receipts principal was a major House concession, and approval of the $20 dependency credit was a major concession by senators.

Overhulse and Elfstrom may stand firm for the $5-$10 filing fee, in spite of stern pleas from Eymann and Atiyeh that the minimum be based on a percentage of income.

Atiyeh battled valiantly for the cigarette tax, but was advised by Overhulse that the Senate would not accept it.

Eymann strongly advocated a step-by-step rate structure that held to the "ability to pay" principle.

Efstrom argued for the corporate excise tax increase because he felt "business should share the load. It's not fair to put all the increase on personal income taxes."

Atiyeh disagreed, and said that business created wealth, and already was saddled with a heavy tax burden.

Eymann said the "re-invest in Oregon" feature should be dropped from the state's capital gains law. This featured allows capital gains advantage only if money is re-invested within the state.

The original Senate package included a $52 million income tax hike, and a $12 million one-shot plan—a $64 million total. The Senate version did not include a net receipts feature or a cigarette tax.

The proposed compromise income tax bill would raise $46 million—a dollar compromise between the original House and Senate plans.

Wholesale Arrests Continue In South's Racial Strife

By United Press International

Eleven integration demonstrators who tried to take up the freedom walk of a slain Baltimore postman were arrested near Gadsden, Ala., Sunday and wholesale arrests of integration-bent demonstrators continued in North Carolina.

Birmingham, where Negroes told of telephone threats of new bombings, remained tense but quiet under the watchful eye of 1,200 law enforcement officers. Possible intensified racial activity loomed today at Selma, Ala., where a Negro leader called for a mass attempt at voter registration. Integration activity was not confined to the South.

Some 2,000 persons gathered on the state capital lawn at Hartford, Conn., in a demonstration in support of integration leaders in Birmingham.

Negro Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., in a speech at Englewood, N.J., said the "white man is running scared" and that Negro parents should continue to use their children as instruments in the fight for equality. He urged a continued boycott of the Lincoln School in Englewood. At Cleveland, Negro comedian Dick Gregory predicted the Birmingham integration agreement, worked out at the height of a 40-day siege of tense racial demonstrations that saw more than 2,000 Negroes jailed, would prove lasting.

Gregory said the agreement setting up a time-table on integration of lunch counters and other improvements would stick because it was negotiated with "a force that controls 90 per cent of the city's wealth and 98 per cent of the working force."

Dr. Martin Luther King, whose

Southern Christian Leadership Conference helped mastermind the Birmingham demonstrations, was scheduled to return to the Southern steel city today.

King had said earlier that this weekend was a "crucial" one to the Birmingham agreement.

Actress Arrested

The 11 arrested who tried to take up Baltimore postman William L. Moore's march included six Negroes and five whites. One of the white persons was a 36-year-old actress, Madeline Sherwood, who had been arrested once before in similar activity. The Alabama Highway Patrol and county officers arrested the group after they got only 15 yards from the spot where Moore was ambushed and slain last April 23 while on a walk to make a personal plea to Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett to end segregation.

"They could have incited a riot," said Col. Al Lingo, head of the Alabama patrol. The eleven were jailed in Gadsden.

The demonstrations in North Carolina, where some 650 Negroes remained in jail as the result of demonstrations against segregated restaurants and theaters at Durham, Raleigh, Fayetteville, Wilmington and Greensboro, moved to a chain restaurant Sunday and resulted in the arrest of some 400 Negroes and about 15 whites.
