It Ain't So!

— By ABIGAIL VANBUREN —

DEAR ABBY: Where did CURIOUS get her information about what a sergeant makes and what he spends? His meals at the N.C.O. Club are not free! If he tears his uniform, he can't have it repaired; he has to buy a new one. And they aren't cheap! Tell Curious that if she's looking for a man with money, she had better find herself a civilian.

SERGEANT'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: My father was an Army man and I am married to an Army man. I wouldn't trade this life for anything in the world. A sergeant doesn't "take home" any $375 a month. Not after he gets through paying his Army Emergency Relief donation, income tax, social security and insurance. We in the service don't have many material things, but we have interesting lives, the satisfaction of contributing something to our country and hospitalization when we need it. I have had seven children for seven dollars. Who can top that?

PROUD ARMY WIFE

DEAR ABBY: To prove to my husband that people will eat anything at a cocktail party, I made up some canapes of cat food. I decorated them nicely and everyone ate them and raved about their unusual flavor. Several of the women asked me for the recipe. I certainly cannot tell them the truth, can I? Also, is it against the law for a husband to blackmail his wife?

"AGGIE"

DEAR "AGGIE": Solve all your problems by telling anyone who asks that the canapes were cat food. They'll never believe it.

DEAR ABBY: May I add my little statement to the wedding ring topic: Twenty-six years ago I married a man who did not give me a wedding ring. The only things of value he gave me were three wonderful sons. After 14 years of miserable marriage, he left me for another woman. For a number of years his mistress has been wearing the wedding ring he gave her, although they are not married. So what does a wedding ring mean? "NAKED FINGERS"

Senate Sets Action On Bill For Gold-Backed Currency

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate today was expected to approve and send to the White House President Kennedy's 1961 proposal to back $1 and $2 bills with gold reserves instead of silver.

Under the House-passed bill the Treasury would gradually withdraw present $1 and $2 bills, now backed by silver, and replace them with Federal Reserve notes. The change was proposed because the use of silver is exceeding production and the price is going up. The demand for silver coins is also increasing due to the expanding economy and the increased use of coin-operated vending machines.

Under the proposed change, it would no longer be necessary to buy silver to back $1 and $2 bills, and the government can use the supply of silver on hand to make coins for many years. The Treasury now owns 1,600,000 ounces of silver.

The new Federal Reserve notes would be backed by 25 per cent gold reserve.

Other congressional notes:

Coffee: Senate leaders were confident they had the votes to assure ratification of the international coffee agreement. The agreement, signed by 54 countries, is designed to stabilize world coffee prices through a strict quota system on production and exports.

Commission: Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., urged that the Civil Rights Commission be made permanent so it can be an outlet for the "pent-up grievances" of the nation's Negroes. Javits appeared before a Senate constitutional rights subcommittee studying legislation to extend the life of the commission another four years.

Budget: For the sixth time in 15 years, the Senate passed and sent to the House legislation to create a joint committee on the budget, with an expert staff to serve both houses of Congress. But there was little to indicate it has much chance of House approval.

Money: Eva Adams, director of the Mint, urged Congress to keep its hands off her money-making operation.

If you need your windshield cleaned (but you don't need any gas), why not stop in and have your windshield cleaned?

We take a dim view of dirty windshields. They're not safe. They're annoying. So we're always glad to clean 'em.

Of course, we hope that when you do need gas, you'll try one of the three Chevron gasolines. Why three? So you can choose a gasoline made to fit the requirements of your car—without paying for extra power you can't use.

All three gasolines have Methyl* power—a research breakthrough in antiknock compounds that stands up under the extreme temperatures of high compression engines. Unlike others, Methyl spreads evenly to all cylinders, giving uniform antiknock performance. And it combines with all the other ingredients required for the best performance a car can deliver.

For the very highest-powered cars, use Custom, highest-powered gasoline in the West. For all other high-compression cars, fill up with Supreme. For cars designed to run on regular, choose Chevron. You'll get on-the-road proof that we take better care of your car.
