Scholastic Achievements Merit Series Of Rewards

Dan Dodd, freshman and the University of Oregon and 1962 graduate of Douglas High School, has begun reaping many rewards as he prepares for the start of his sophomore year.

He has received a renewal of the William W. Stout $750 scholarship he received last year for character, citizenship and need. The scholarship is provided from the estate of a California man.

He has also been named winner of a $228 scholarship for outstanding scholastic achievement, and has received word his state fee scholarship of an undetermined amount will also be renewed.

Heading the list of non-monetary honors is selection to the Skull and Dagger sophomore men's honorary. His selection was based on scholarship, character and service. During the year, he has been vice president of his fraternity pledge class, has served on committees for homecoming, Peace Corps, Canoe Fete and has been a member of the brass choir at the university. He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholastic honorary.

His grade point to date is 3.625.

Banquet Honors Juniors, Seniors

"Twilight Rendezvous" was the theme of the 1963 Canyonville Bible Academy Junior - Senior banquet held at Mon Desir, Central Point.

The evening began with the coming-out ceremony. Each girl was called and then escorted to waiting cars. The porch of the girls' dormitory was appropriately decorated.

A program in the lounge followed a leisurely dinner in the dining room. The Girls Trio, Sharon Rose, Elaine Eoff and DeeAnn Broderick, sang "I Love Paris" to begin the program hour. Joyce Storm, junior class president, and Jim Crumpton, class sponsor, made their presentations after which Janice Patton sang "Twilight Time" and the senior acceptance was given by Eddie Smelser, president, and Mrs. Ray Cox, sponsor.

The same evening, the rest of the school attended a Christ's Ambassadors rally at Yoncalla, and on Tuesday evening, the movie scheduled to be shown following the banquet Monday, was presented with pie and ice cream served during the refreshment hour.

Library Books Get Readership

Five books for every student at Myrtle Creek High School were circulated last month from the school library, according to figures released this week by Miss Wilma Gore, librarian. The average daily circulation was 97.5 volumes with a total circulation in April reaching 2,145 books.

Although the circulation figures increased over March, during which month there was a one-week vacation, the number of non-fiction books being read declined in April. Eight hundred and one volumes of non-fiction were checked out in March as compared to the 686 volumes in April.

Heaviest reading for both months was in biography which is required reading for both English and history classes. Other areas in which reading was especially heavy for both months were in history, literature, applied science, pure science and social science.

Oakland Rally Squad Cheerleader Chosen

Joan Archer, junior, has been selected to be the head cheerleader for the Varsity Rally squad at Oakland High School. She was chosen by a committee made up of the rally adviser and student council officers.

Other varsity cheerleaders chosen were juniors, Mary Etta Alley and Elaine Vaale; and sophomores, Susan Monett and Christine Baird. This year the number of cheerleaders was reduced to five instead of six as in the past.

Two of the varsity cheerleaders, sponsored by the Oakerette Club and the student council will attend the Cheerleader Clinic to be held at Lewis and Clark College in July.
