There are many ways for south to get to four spades, but probably the best is just to bid it right over the club opening.

West might double, but a pass is more discreet. East probably considers a further bid, but the vulnerability situation should deter him.

There is no problem about the opening lead. East wins the trick with the queen of clubs and continues the suit and right here is where West must produce his sen-

Ace Discard Assures Set

By OSWALD JACOBY
(Written For NEA)

West must discard his queen of hearts on the second club and his ace of hearts on the third club. This is the only way to beat the four spade contract and it is perfectly sound bridge. West wants to find the play most likely to defeat the contract and this is it. It might cost West the second trick of a potential two trick set, but West's only real interest is to set the hand something.

Improve your bridge game! Order your copy of "Win at Bridge With Oswald Jacoby." Just send your name, address, and 50 cents to: Jacoby Bridge, News-Review, P. O. Box 1248, Roseburg, Oregon and a copy will be mailed to you. Or if you prefer, copies may be purchased at the News-Review office.
