Elephant Races Planned At Rose Festival Event

PORTLAND (UPI) — The Portland Rose Festival is going to have something different this year — elephant races.

The races, according to an announcement made Monday, will be a feature of the Rose Festival Spectacular stage show at the Memorial Coliseum here June 11-16.

SHIRLENE BRAZIE'S FOOD FOR THOUGHT

More than a billion people over one-half the earth's population live mainly on RICE. It is estimated that a plot of land put to rice will support five times as many people as the same piece of land set to the raising of any other food. A "meat eater" would starve on the same acreage from which several large families can live in the rice growing countries.

Historically, rice became the symbol of fertility and prosperity. Today in India, it is still part of the wedding ceremony to give the newly-wedded pair a gift of rice powder. In Japan, rice cakes are given to insure a prosperous and fertile married life. Even in the West, you will find a stylized version of this in front of many a church on a Sunday afternoon.

Common Household Drug May Be A Cause Of Ulcers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The common aspirin tablet, long a household remedy for an assortment of ailments, causes internal bleeding and may lead to ulcers and anemia, a Pennsylvania medical educator said Tuesday.

Dr. James Roth, professor of gastroenterology at the University of Pennsylvania Graduate School of Medicine, said studies had shown that 60 to 70 per cent of the population will lose as much as a teaspoonful of blood in the stomach after taking two aspirin.

Dr. Roth also criticized, in his remarks at a University of California symposium, the "indifferent complacency" of physicians who know of the potentially harmful effects of aspirin.

He described experiments with human beings and animals which revealed that aspirin caused a high incidence of ulceration of sensitive body tissues and a significant degree of internal bleeding.

"Although a teaspoonful isn't very much, it indicates that discrimination should be used in taking aspirin," Roth said.

He added that buffer or other compounds make little difference in the harmful effects of aspirin tablets.

Roth said the blood loss was not dangerous unless a person suffered from anemia. But, he continued, some individuals will occasionally lose as much as three ounces of blood internally without knowing it.

Roth recommended against the use of aspirin by persons with such ailments as peptic ulcers, gastritis or any inflammation of the stomach or gastrointestinal tract.
