Souvenir Firm Receives 'Payroll Builder' Salute

See also story and pictures Page 6
Viletta's Arts and Souvenirs is being hailed today as the local "Payroll Builder" for June. This is the first Douglas County industry to be so recognized in a "Payrolls for Progress" program.

Elliott Motschenbacher, Roseburg (area) Chamber of Commerce president, presented Mrs. Jack (Viletta) West with a scroll in recognition of her business endeavor that began as a hobby in 1959 and now employs up to a dozen people in this wholesale china decorating activity.

Program Explained
Motschenbacher said, "We are embarking on a planned program of recognizing local employers in this area who are helping to build payrolls for the future. Nationally 85 per cent of all industry originates from a local base and Viletta's is an example of this development and growth."

Business is booming for Viletta's—so much so that the shop in the basement of the West's home at 473 W. Riverside Drive, is operating at full capacity and is presently two months behind in filling orders. Mrs. West claims national marketing potential although output presently limits her to marketing from Denver west.

The Payroll Development Committee of the Roseburg Chamber is assisting Mrs. West in finding solutions to production problems so that back orders can be filled and the marketing area expanded.

Exemplifies Progress
The scroll presented Mrs. West states, in part: "We of the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce are proud to present this acknowledgment of your recognition. . . You, and the work you are doing, are a good example for this area of how manufacturing businesses start, grow and prosper, and develop into important payroll builders."

"By showing how local firms are presently growing we hope to help stimulate others of our local people so that they, too, might be encouraged to set up new businesses."

Samples of Mrs. West's china is on display at several places of business around Roseburg and will continue to be during June. Phil Quisenberry and Don Dole are chairmen of the Payroll Development committee of the chamber.

ment of our recognition. . . You, and the work you are doing, are a good example for this area of how manufacturing businesses start, grow and prosper, and develop into important payroll builders."

State Crash Claims Four

By United Press International
A spectacular two-car collision near the Portland Zoo about midnight Friday took the lives of four young people and raised the state's Memorial holiday weekend death toll to 12.

The deaths brought to seven the number of traffic fatalities in Portland within 24 hours. Killed in the Friday night crash on SW Canyon Rd. were Richard LeRoy Belanger, 17, Lake Grove; Kenneth Terry Barney, 18, Lake Oswego; Mary Frances Smith, 16, and Bernice Ashford, 17, both Portland.

The boys were scheduled to be graduated from Lake Oswego High School next week. Police said the four were in one car which apparently became caught in the sudden depression of the highway, struck another vehicle and slammed into a utility pole.

Driver of the second car involved, Clarence LaFont, Beaver-ton, was not hurt. A one-car accident early Friday took three lives. The victims were Mrs. Helen Stankard, 35; Albert C. Tweedy, 51, and Mrs. Maxine Hoge, 37, all of Portland.

Walter Fred Pfinghauff, 58, of Powers, was killed in a one-car crash near Myrtle Point Friday. Three other persons died in separate crashes in the state since the long holiday weekend began at 6 p. m. Wednesday. In addition, an Oregon man died in a California accident and a Portland man drowned near Cannon Beach.

Marching Group Will Participate In Portland Fete

Bill Black director of the Knights of Pythias Girls Drum and Bugle Corps, has received instructions for the band to take part in the Merrykara parade June 8, a preliminary to the Rose Parade.

Black said instructions are that the corps be in position at 6 p. m. prior to start of the parade. The members will assemble at the Coliseum, then be assigned to meeting rooms and assembly areas.

Forty members of the corps and two cheerleaders will make the trip to Portland for the one-day event. The group received its invitation from Ralph Holsapple, parade chairman April 19.

The corps will take part in this portion of the Rose Festival activities rather than in the big parade, as many of the members will not be able to make the later date because of work. Also the corps will take part in the Douglas County Rodeo parade on June 15 in Roseburg, according to Black.

He said the corps will disband after the rodeo parade until just prior to Aug. 17, when it will take part in the Shrine football contest in Portland.

More Demonstrations Set In South; Philly Is Quiet

By United Press International
Anti-segregation leaders today organized more demonstrations for the weekend in at least two southern cities while a Dixie governor prepared to take his arguments for racial barriers north.

Above the Mason-Dixon line, Negro spokesmen and contractors in Philadelphia had reached an agreement ending protests against job discrimination that led to a battle between pickets and police. In Washington, the Justice Department worked on new civil rights legislation which President Kennedy is expected to propose to Congress next week.

And in New York, fresh pleas for integration were issued by the World Council of Churches and the president of a huge restaurant chain. Some highlights of the racial situation:

Jackson, Miss.: Police arrested 421 Negro demonstrators late Friday and drove them in trucks to makeshift prisoner compounds on the state fairground. Most were students ranging in age from 12 to 21 who had a human blockade of helmeted officers on a march toward the downtown section. They were charged with parading without a permit. More demonstrations were imminent.

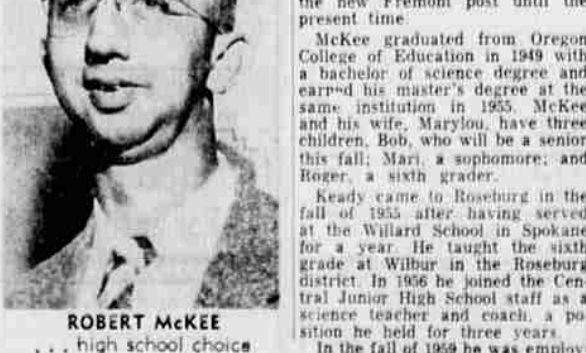

Tallahassee, Fla.: Negro students, fresh from a court victory, stayed off the streets of the state capital Friday night but planned to resume picketing of all-white theaters today. A circuit court judge dismissed contempt charges against 220 students arrested on Thursday night for such picketing, and gave them permission to continue demonstrating—in limited numbers. "This is a great and sweeping victory for the Negro," an attorney for the integrationists said.

Montgomery, Ala.: Gov. George Wallace, pledged to block the enrollment of two Negroes at the University of Alabama June 10, files to New York today for a television appearance Sunday. The fiery Wallace also continued to play a cat-and-mouse game with U.S. marshals, who want to serve him with a subpoena for a federal court hearing Monday aimed at preventing him from interfering with integration at the university.

Philadelphia: Two policemen were stabbed and six pickets were slugged with blackjacks during a melee Friday at the construction sites of two schools. None were seriously hurt. After 200 policemen quelled the disturbance, officers of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) announced that an agreement had been reached for hiring five Negro workers at the sites and organizing a committee to map a program for hiring more.

French Bring New Crisis To The EEC

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI)—The European Common Market faced a new crisis today over French refusal to permit expanded British contacts with the six-nation economic community.

Diplomatic observers said the situation was dangerously similar to the disunity following France's veto of British Common Market membership last January and it could get worse.

Friday, France refused to permit Common Market ambassadors of the other five nations from holding periodic meetings with the British ambassador.

Backed by the power of veto, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville said that present contacts through the British mission to the community were sufficient.

In return West Germany, Italy, Luxembourg—known in Britain as the "friendly five"—are threatening to delay action on important agricultural policies France considers vital.

They wanted the ambassadorial contacts to narrow the economic policy gap between themselves and Britain, thus facilitating British entry into the Common Market sometime in the future.

The five will attempt to take up the problem again at a ministerial meeting June 17 but their proposal appeared to have little chance against French obstinacy.

The Common Market dispute with American poultrymen remained unresolved today.

The ministers flatly refused to give U.S. exporters lower tariff rates into the community on broiler chickens than their Danish competitors despite the fact the Danes receive government subsidies.

America's share of the European chicken market has dropped from 70 to 10 per cent because of price-cutting and increasing production efficiency in the Common Market countries.

House Approves Education Funds

SALEM (UPI)—A $78 million budget for operating expenses of the Higher Education System passed the Oregon House Friday and went to the Senate.

An additional $500,000 was added in the final hours to keep nearly half the state's tuberculosis patients at the university hospital at Portland.

There was a chance the Senate would try to cut out the sum, returning to the plan to consolidate all TB patients at the State Hospital at Salem.

The higher education budget was trimmed more than $2 million, mainly in money for new teachers.

Schools, will take over the helm at Fremont Junior High to replace McKee.

McKee has served in the Roseburg school system for 14 years. He began as a sixth grade teacher at Rose Elementary School and moved to the vice principalship of Roseburg Junior High in 1951. He was principal of Benson School from 1957-57 and of Central Junior High from 1957-61.

Following the explosion which destroyed the Central Junior High building on Aug. 7, 1959, McKee moved to the Joseph Lane Junior High building as principal of the Central Junior High student body at that building. Upon completion of the Fremont Junior High building, McKee's Central Junior High student body was transferred to and became John C. Fremont Junior High School. He has served in the new Fremont post until the present time.

McKee graduated from Oregon College of Education in 1949 with a bachelor of science degree and earned his master's degree at the same institution in 1955. McKee and his wife, Marylou, have three children, Bob, who will be a senior this fall; Mari, a sophomore; and Roger, a sixth grader.

Keady came to Roseburg in the fall of 1955 after having served at the Willard School in Spokane for a year. He taught the sixth grade at Wilbur in the Roseburg district. In 1956 he joined the Central Junior High School staff as a science teacher and coach, a position he held for three years. In the fall of 1959 he was employed as vice principal of the Central Junior High School and was appointed principal of the Benson and Eastwood Schools in 1961-62. He has served eight years for the Roseburg School District.

Keady received his Bachelor's Degree from Whitworth College in Spokane in 1954. He earned his Master's degree at Southern Oregon College in 1962. Keady and his wife, Verlee, have five boys, Tim, junior in High School; Todd, seventh grader; Danny, fifth grader; John, second grader; and Toby, pre-school.

Pope Clings Tenaciously To Life During Last Hours

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope John XXIII regained consciousness for a second time today as doctors gave him "pain-killing injections" to ease his last hours.

He hovered between life and death, consciousness and coma, but one Vatican source said death probably would come before nightfall.

Twice the 81-year-old pontiff has slipped into a coma, but twice he has regained consciousness. The latest period of consciousness, the Vatican press office announced, came at 3:40 p. m. (10:40 a. m. EDT).

Previously, he had returned to consciousness from a coma at 2:45 a. m. (9:45 p. m. EDT Friday), when he was able to drink coffee, chat with those in his bedroom and recognize his relatives. He blessed them "individually." Then he lapsed back into a coma about five hours later.

As he regained his senses the second time, the official announcement said, "the holy father blessed those present and offered once again his own life for the church, for the (Ecumenical) Council, and for Peace."

Present at the time in the third floor bedroom of the Vatican palace were Vatican Secretary of State Amleto Cardinal Cicognani, Fernando Cardinal Cento, Msgr. Angelo Dellacqua of the Vatican secretariat of state, members of the pontiff's family and his confessor, Msgr. Alfredo Cavagnan.

As the stout heart of the peasant born Pope refused to give up the fight for life, a sudden afternoon thunderstorm drenched thousands of pious and curious gathered outside in St. Peter's Square to pray and await news of his ebbing battle with death.

Despite his moments of consciousness, Vatican radio said "the holy father remained on the threshold of this life and the next."

Oakland Sets Third Ballot

Residents of Oakland School District will have a third opportunity to vote on a school budget Friday of next week at the Washington School gymnasium, announced Cecil B. Barnett, superintendent.

Hearing on the budget is scheduled for 8 p. m. Thursday at the high school. Barnett said the budget has again been trimmed and is now almost the same as that for the current year, except that $300 has had to be added to pay the cost of each election.

The first budget as presented was $10,900 greater than that of the present budget. On second vote it was down to $7,500 greater. The $7,500 has been knocked out of the upcoming budget, said Barnett.

Eliminated from the budget will be provision for the drama department, baseball and band uniforms, other minor cuts have been made, including trimming some money from the water and light bills.

Passage Is Climax To 14-Day Deadlock

SALEM (UPI)—A $48 million increase in the state income tax was on its way to the governor's office today after finally having cleared the legislature.

A sales tax measure which would be referred to the voters at the November, 1964, election, was still locked in conference committee.

A tentative agreement on the sales tax blew up Friday when both Senate and House conferees resigned in a dispute over whether groceries should be taxed.

The House said yes, the Senate said no. New House conferees were W. O. Kelsay, D-Roseburg, and Jack Smith, D-Condol. New Senate conferees were Harry Bovin, D-Klamath Falls, and L. W. Newberry, R-Ashland.

Passage of the income tax measure climaxed a 14-day deadlock. A tax commission spokesman said the bill raised the state income tax 28 per cent, but that the out-of-pocket cost to the average taxpayer would range from 3.5 to 6 per cent because of a change in handling federal income tax deductions.

Hike Approved
The Senate approved the tax hike 22-8 after it cleared the House 35-24 in a dramatic vote tally that was climaxed by a last-minute switching of votes.

The final tally showed six Republican and two Democratic senators voted against the bill, in the House five Democrats and 19 Republicans voted no.

As the roll was called, 33 representatives voted against the measure. Then several Democrats switched to a yes vote.

With the measure one vote short of passage, House Tax Committee Chairman Richard Eymann, D-Marcola, charged the Republicans had voted to spend money, but refused to support the tax hike needed to finance the spending.

At that point, Rep. Victor Atiyeh, R-Portland, switched his vote to yes, assuring passage. As soon as Atiyeh switched several other Democrats reversed their no votes. In all, three Republicans and seven Democrats who first voted no, switched to back the income tax hike.

Voted "No"
Senators who opposed the increase were Ahrens, Flegel, Hare, Husband, Inskip, Leth, Naterlin and Yturri.

House members who voted no were Buzet, Emmett, Bonesteel, Branchfield, Chappel, Chumard, Crothers, Dollenback, Detering, Dickinson, Elder, Field, Gallaher, Hagan, Howard, Hunt, Jones, Maher, Montgomery, Orr, Ridderbusch, Rogers, Robert Smith and Whelan (Duoyle absent).

The new income tax is backed by a one-shot speedup of withholding tax collections if needed, and carries a provision that any surplus in excess of $10 million would be applied as a property tax offset.

The capital gains tax was liberalized, and the corporate excise tax increased, as part of the package.

Main features of the new income tax measure:
—Removal of the federal income tax deduction.
—Head of household gets joint treatment.
—Students entitled as dependency credit.
—Blind get full extra credit.
—Senior citizens (over 65) get one-half extra credit.
—Flat $22 tax credit for personal and dependency deductions.
—Unlimited medical deduction above 5 per cent of income.
—Five per cent optional standard deduction.
—Fractional rates from 2 to 7 1/2 per cent.
—Base broadening via a .25 filing fee or 1 per cent of adjusted gross income, or the tax, whichever is higher.

Leukemia Takes Walter, 69, Loquacious House Democrat

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., one of the most powerful and controversial members of the House, died of leukemia Friday.

Walter, 69, died at 8 p. m. EDT after being in a coma most of the day at Georgetown University Hospital. He had been hospitalized for about four months.

He was chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, the judiciary subcommittee on immigration, and co-author of the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act. Adding to his power, he was chairman of the Democratic Patronage Committee, which dispenses Capitol jobs.

Since 1961, he had been chairman of the House Democratic caucus, a prestige position. President Kennedy, who visited Walter recently, said "when I saw him on my recent visit... he was facing the future with the same faith and courage he had shown throughout his life. He will be greatly missed in the House of Representatives and all of his friends mourn his passing."
