Suit Overcall Has Purpose

By OSWALD JACOBY
(Written For NEA)

One of the most important differences between modern bidding and old-fashioned bidding is the concept of the suit overcall. Even ten years ago it was customary to consider the simple wound up making an easy spade game. With modern bidding methods, West would have raised his partner's overcall to two. This immediate raise is exactly the same as the raise of an opening spade bid. It does not really invite game, but allows for the possibility that the overcall might have been made with a pretty good hand. Of course, once West raises to two spades East can afford to go right to game. His good hand has been further improved by knowledge that his king of hearts is likely to be well placed.
