Kindergarten Ceremonies Held Tuesday In Glendale

Ten youngsters were graduated from the Glendale Christian Kindergarten in ceremonies which took place at the Assembly of God Church Tuesday. After an interesting and diversified program the children were presented their diplomas by their teacher, Miss Kay Hubler. Included were Larry Brady, Jan Friedrich, Gary Napier, Steve and Stan Pate, Chantel Swanson, Alan VanValkenburg, Mary Bryan, Brad Williamson and Bobby Girt. The program included songs, recitations and dramatizations. The platform was appropriately decorated for the occasion with large paper representations of children's blocks. The rainbow-colored blocks spelled out the words, "Class of '63." Bouquets of yellow and purple iris were used at the front of the platform. The boys and girls wore white mortar board caps. Mrs. Lonnie Sapp spoke on the value of kindergarten as a preparation for first grade just before Miss Hubler presented the diplomas. Afterward, an open house was held upstairs, and refreshments were served by kindergarten mothers.

Barbara Kirby Now Mrs. Morene

The wedding of Miss Barbara Lee Kirby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Kirby, to Charles Albert Morene, son of Dr. and Mrs. Albert Morene, took place Saturday, June 1, at St. George's Episcopal Church. The Rev. Alfred S. Tyson officiated at the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Flowers on the altar were white stock. Large satin bows centered with a spray of lily of the valley were attached to the pews. Soloist was Robert E. Robins who sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer" preceding the ceremony. Organist was Mary Beth Hill.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a Victorian-styled floor-length gown of cutout eyelet embroidery over imported silk. The bodice featured a scalloped neckline and floral embroidery which extended the length of the gown on the overskirt. Her three-quarter-length sleeves were also accented with floral embroidery and scalloped. The skirt was very bouffant having four layers of silk and tulle. Her shoulder-length veil of English silk illusion was held in place by a princess crown of pearls and opalescent sequins. She carried a colonial bouquet of white stephanotis centered with a large white orchid secured by satin ribbon streamers.

Something borrowed and blue was the traditional blue garter loaned by Mrs. M. W. McCoury Jr., cousin of the bridegroom.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Marcell Kirby, who wore a petal pink street-length gown of silk organza over taffeta, featuring a bell-shaped skirt. Her demi-veil was secured by a wedding ring headpiece of white velvet with velvet bows attached to the top and placed at intervals down the back of the veil. With white gloves and shoes her ensemble was complemented by a strand of pearls a gift from the bride. She carried a bouquet of blue and white Esther Reed daisies.

Bridesmaids were Janice Laurence, cousin of the bride; Heather McTaggart and Linda Chase. They were dressed identically to the maid of honor with the exception that their dresses were of Romance blue. They carried bouquets of pink and white Esther Reed daisies.

Susan Winkelman was flower girl. She wore a pink frock with lace trim. Her headband was of the same fabric with lace and bows and she carried a miniature bouquet of blue and white Esther Reed daisies.

Best man was Thomas Lanspa. Escorting guests to their seats were ushers, John Laurence, cousin of the bride; Gilbert Borquist, cousin of the bridegroom; and James Smith. Acolytes were Rodrick Smith and Kurt Gustafson.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kirby selected a carnation pink crepe sheath dress fashioned with a bateau neckline. Her hat was a white veiled ring trimmed with pearls. Accessories were white and she wore a white orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of soft jade green chiffon over coral rose and green print

Birthday Party Highlights Events Of Buckeroo Club

Members of the Buckeroo Square Club celebrated the 11th birthday of their club Saturday night at dinner with entertainment and dancing. The birthday party, as in years past, proved to be the highlight of the year's activities. Oriental theme was chosen for the celebration. The Buckeroo Barn was transformed into an Oriental wonderland of cherry blossoms, paper lanterns, fans and wind chimes. Huge murals adorned two of the walls of the hall. The decorating was done by club members with the "main" hands of Mitt and Iva Schwepp. The delightful table decorations and place cards were done by Billie Doyle and her committee. Dinner arrangements were taken care of by Burt and Doris Cahill and their committee. The entertainment was especially enjoyed by all. Four skits appropriate to the theme included a Chinese laundry scene, a Geisha house, Oriental south-sayer, and a Chinese hospital scene completed the laugh-provoking antics. Leonard and Margaret Churchill headed the entertainment committee. Many of the members were gaily dressed in costumes fitting the theme. Square dancing to the lively calling of Curley Reynolds completed the festive evening.

Card Play Held At Lookingglass

Mrs. Ralph Wylie and Mrs. Elmer Paulson were hostesses for the enjoyable Lookingglass Grange card party Friday evening. Seven tables were in play. Mrs. June Black won the traveling trophy and high scores were awarded to Mrs. Ruth Maresch and Aubrey Scott. Second high were won by Mrs. Perry Dyseret and Lanny Boling.

The guest list included: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Trent, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Welker, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Dyseret, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Black, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Engle, Mr. and Mrs. M. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moon, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Scott, Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne Boling, Mrs. Ruth Maresch, Veda Parrish, A. L. Boling and Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Tessman.

Methodist Group Has Homecoming

A large attendance was on hand for the Dillard-Winston Methodist Church homecoming service and potluck dinner Sunday. The Rev. R. A. Feenstra, former pastor of the church now residing in Fall City, delivered the morning service.

The potluck was enjoyed in the social room of the church following the services. The afternoon was spent reminiscing on various incidents and progress made in the history of the church.

Former pastors, unable to attend but who sent letters were the Rev. W. W. Appleyard, the Rev. J. C. Johannes and the Rev. W. O. Walker.

Coming from out of town for the pleasant occasion were the Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Feenstra and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bromley of Cottage Grove.

Tournament Is Announced Here

The Roseburg Unit of the American Contract Bridge League is conducting a double session individual championship tournament at the Umpqua Hotel. The first session will be held June 23 at 6:15 p.m. and the second session will be June 24 at 6:15 p.m.

An individual tournament is very popular as it is a once a year opportunity for each player to play with every other participant. No partner is necessary as each person will play one frame of boards with every other player. They will play with one-half the field the first session, June 23, and the other half one week later, June 30. Players must register for both sessions.

There is no minimum master points required. Anyone may enter regardless of his master points rating. Players interested may register for the two sessions singly by calling Mrs. L. E. McClintock at OR 3-3395.
