

Court Ruling Limits States In Their War Against Crime

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The freedom of states to fight crime in their own way was further reduced this week by a Supreme Court decision requiring federal standards of "reasonableness" for searches and seizures.

The 8-1 ruling Monday was the last in a series on state criminal procedures which the high court has handed down this term.

In previous decisions the court required appointment of a lawyer for all persons charged with serious offenses who cannot afford to pay and for indigents who want to appeal their conviction. The court also said that rules governing free transcripts of court proceedings must give penniless and wealthy defendants an even break.

The court ruled in another case that an inmate of a state prison could challenge his detention in a federal court action even though he did not previously take every avenue of appeal in state courts.

The Supreme Court handed down its search and seizure ruling along with the announcement that it would consider more sit-in cases next term as well as more ramifications of both federal and state legislative reapportionment.

The current term is expected to end with next Monday's opinions, which are likely to include one on the use of the Lord's Prayer and Bible reading as opening devotions in public schools.

Glendale Withdraws From Baseball League

The south Douglas Babe Ruth and Little League organization had a meeting at Canyonville Tuesday night to redraft a schedule, after Glendale withdrew.

The league now consists of Days Creek, Canyonville, Myrtle Creek and Riddle. The league games open Saturday, when a Myrtle Creek plays Riddle at Riddle, and Days Creek plays at Canyonville. Games start at 1 p.m. and include both the Little League and Babe Ruth League games.

Lorraine Birenbaum was elected secretary-treasurer, replacing Forrest Lofsky, who resigned. Ken Stuart is the president.

Last Saturday, in a practice game at Myrtle Creek, that team beat Days Creek, 22-1.

The storks refused to nest in the zoo before because its chimneys were too low.

Glendale PTA Winds Up Year With Display, Officer Election

By MRS. GERALD FOX

The Glendale PTA scheduled its last meeting half an hour early so that members could view displays set up in the high school gym by shop classes of the high school and 4-H groups from the elementary school. The high school display included work by the mechanical drawing department and the various projects of the woodworking and metal working classes, from the comparatively simple work done by the first year classes through to the beautifully constructed furniture items made by the advanced classes. Wayne Close is instructor in both mechanical drawing and shop work.

Three 4-H clubs, The Pebble Pups, 20th Century Miners and the Diamond Ducks, had displays of their projects which had been judged that day by the 4-H county agents. Ardith Myers had organized and worked with the clubs in connection with her science work with sixth and seventh grade classes. Ann Thompson explained the hardness scale of minerals for interested parents, and Alana Rogers demonstrated testing the minerals for hardness. Karen Mehl showed the assembled group of parents the safe way to break a rock.

The group then met in the school library for their last meeting of the year. Mrs. Owen Mobley, president-elect, gave a brief report on the State PTA convention which she and Mrs. Frank Creed had attended.

Calvin Fricke, high school vice principal, explained that parents were entitled to a refund of the $6 book deposit inaugurated this year to induce students to be more careful with the books. Rodney Swanson, chairman of the school board, answered questions regarding the school's accident insurance. He pointed out that students riding on floats which are built on unlicensed vehicles are not insured against injury.

The Faculty Quartette, consisting of Mrs. Stanley Vanderwal, flute, Mrs. Olga Sether, violin, Mrs. S. J. Palmer, cello, and Mrs. Don May, piano, presented three musical selections.

Officers were installed for the coming year. The new officers besides Mrs. Owen Mobley are: Ardith Myers, first vice president; Stanly Girt, first vice president; Ardith Myers, second vice president; Mrs. Donald Thomas, secretary; and the Rev. Norman Naugler, treasurer.

Hubert Fonfara, retiring president, was presented with a past-president's label pin by Mrs. Mobley.

Refreshments were served in the home economics room by Mrs. Alvin Howard, hospitality chairman. Baby sitting was furnished by members of the Future Homemakers of America who recently completed a project in which they made toys for use by the children while their parents are attending various meetings at the school.

The Glendale-Azalea Cub Scout Pack met recently at the Azalea Grange Hall and featured a pet show. The pets brought by the boys included one goat along with fish and domestic animals.

During the regular meeting, awards were presented. Dens 1 and 2 served refreshments.

Ranch Ramblings

BY WAYNE MOSHER

Members of the Douglas County Livestock Association Wool Pool will be interested in knowing that the plans at present call for shipping the wool on June 26 and 27, with a finish up about the 2nd or 3rd of July. We hope that all sheep will be sheared by the 2nd and 3rd of July so that we can get all the wool off at least by that date.

We had planned earlier to ship sometime around the 10th or the 15th of June, but rainy weather has caused a delay in the pick up of other pools; so, consequently, dates for shipping have had to be moved back a couple of weeks. This is going to result in some loss of weight in some of the wool, but this shouldn't be anywhere near enough to make up the difference in the total price. Our overall price seems to look better all the time. We will be sending out a notice to the growers of their assignment of shipping days as soon as we have firmed up for sure the exact date and time. And, we will try to send it out about a week prior to the shipment.

21½ Cents Brought
The Livestock Association Lamb Pool for the week of June 8th brought 21½ cents. This would net the grower $21.10 on a hundred pounds for the lambs that they ship through the pool. The Board of the Lamb Pool also are contemplating a feeder sale the last of June or first of July. Plans will be going ahead with that before long. We probably won't send out a notice until a week or ten days prior to the sale. They also anticipate holding a second sale about the middle of July to help out those fellows that want to sell at that time. Few feeder lambs have been moving as yet, to the best of my knowledge, but it looks like the price on feeder lambs should be better than last year. Feeder lambs are selling high in California and there don't seem to be enough to meet the demand. All in all, it looks like a pretty good year for the sheepmen.

Other activities coming up include the Ram Sale which will be held July 13th; and, of course, the Douglas County Fair on August 14th through the 18th. I hope that everyone will be at the fair and at the Ram Sale.

Numbers Grow
Cattle numbers in Douglas County seem to be increasing steadily. Estimates on beef cattle for 1962 run about 10,000 head. This has been a gradual increase over the years. In 1940, it was estimated that we had about 2,600 head of beef cows, and as late as '53 about 7,000. In 1961, there was 9,000 head, and in 1962, it appeared that we had about 10,000 head. Cattle numbers are slowly increasing as more permanent pasture becomes established. More and more ranchers in all areas of the county are putting in improved permanent pasture, learning to do a better job of fertilizing and consequently, are raising a lot more feed. They are able to carry more cattle and sheep on the same pastures.

Many of our sheep operators are running or should be running beef cattle with their sheep. Beef cattle can utilize feed that the sheep will not utilize. In many instances, it appears to me that our growers are not making full use of cattle that they could. Often, they keep the cattle too fat to really utilize the pasture that they are producing. It appears to me that the best possibility for beef cattle would be to salvage the feed that the sheep didn't consume.

Sheep Do Best
But, often the case is that the cattle get first pick of the pasture and the sheep utilize what the cattle don't use; or, they have an equal chance at it. Most of the information I have, indicates that sheep will make more money off pasture than the cattle. But the combination of cattle and sheep will turn off more money than either one separately. In some places it isn't possible to run sheep, or in some places it is not practical to run cattle. But wherever it can be done, a combination certainly has some definite advantages. Perhaps, also, we would get more use out of our pastures if we used them a little harder. The pasture grasses that go to waste, while they do build the soil a little bit, don't really offer much help in a cash income for your farm.
