Mollie Gardner Becomes Bride

The Green Community Church was the scene of a lovely wedding at 2 p.m. Saturday, June 1, when Mollie Victoria Gardner, daughter of Mrs. Roy W. McFarland of Roseburg, became the bride of Charlie Ray Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Colton of Coquille.

The Rev. Leonard Flath, pastor of the church, read the vows before an altar flanked with huge floor baskets of mixed spring garden flowers in shades of blue arranged in greenery.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of a family friend, Harold Colton, who gave her in marriage. She was beautiful in her white lace wedding dress over white tulle. It was fashioned with a short full skirt and closely fitted bodice which featured long pointed sleeves and boat neckline. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a crown of pearls, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses arranged in a frill of lace with streamers.

Miss Brenda Bailey, her maid of honor, wore a pink brocade dress, length sheath dress with chiffon overskirt, and carried a nosegay bouquet of pink carnations.

David Galloway acted as best man for the bridegroom, and the ushering was done by his brothers, James and Mike Colton.

The ring bearer was Donnie Anderson. Mrs. Carl Weikum played appropriate music while the guests gathered, as well as the traditional wedding marches. She also accompanied Mrs. James Vance who sang "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony and "Because" while the young couple knelt at the altar.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McFarland chose an afternoon dress of gold brocade with white accessories and corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a brown and white flower-print jersey with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's mother was hostess for a reception in the church parlors, which had been decorated

Picnic Is Held Here

Personnel and their families of the Steamboat Ranger Station and the Glide Ranger Station enjoyed a day of fun and relaxation held on the lawn of the home of Jack Price, district ranger of the Little River district.

The highlight of the afternoon was the softball game between the Steamboat team and the Glide Ranger stations played on the Glide Grade School diamond. Steamboat won 15-10. This is the third year in a row that Steamboat has won. The loser has to pay for the liquid refreshments served at the picnic.

The large lawn at the Price home is surrounded by large shade trees and profuse flowers bloom at the sides of the residence. The serving tables at the rear of the house were heavily laden with various foods. The two chefs roasted wieners over the charcoal broilers.

The Steamboat Ranger Station families attending the Glide annual softball game and picnic were: District Ranger and Mrs. Gene Carlson and family; Mr. and Mrs. Ron Waitt and family; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Timberman and family; Mr. and Mrs. Rob Livingston; Mr. and Mrs. Ron Quimby and family; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Meyers, Richard Harlan, Doug Campbell, Larry Swift and Ted Christensen (game umpires).

Families attending from the Glide Ranger Station were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Price, and daughter, Janet; Mrs. Ada Tower, Mrs. Charles Packer, was daintily decorated with white and pink roses and featured the traditional bride and bridegroom top-piece. It was flanked by white candles in silver holders enhanced by pink roses and satin bows.

Mrs. Roy Phillips and Mrs. Loren Pine, aunt and cousin of the bride, served the cake. Mrs. Dale Bowman and Mrs. Harvey Workman poured punch and coffee. The bridegroom's sister, Carrie Lynn Anderson and his cousin, Darlene Colton, listed the gifts. Mrs. Harold Colton, an aunt, was in charge of the guest book.

For a short honeymoon trip the bride chose to wear a pink shirt-dress with white accessories. The young couple will live at 1431 Bothwick St., Myrtle Point.

The new Mrs. Anderson was graduated with the 1963 class at Roseburg High School, and the bridegroom attended schools in Coquille, where he is employed in the pulp industry.

Out-of-town guests coming to Roseburg for the wedding were Edwin L. McFarland of San Francisco; Robert F. Foren, Coos Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Long, Doris; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Eggers, Myrtle Point; Mrs. Don Aber, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Long, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Winningham, and Elpha Martin, all of Coquille; and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Weiger and son of Corvallis.

Young Pianists Play On Program

Sharon Medlar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Medlar of Glide, and Gay Severson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Severson of Roseburg, were the two young pianists picked by Iris Gray, syllabus adjudicator for the Oregon Music Teachers Association, to play on the President's invitational students concert at the state convention held on the University of Oregon campus this week. The two represented the Roseburg district and both are students of Miss Gladys H. Strong. All young pianists on the President's invitational concert are chosen by state syllabus adjudicators.

Sylvia Fenn Now Mrs. D. Hughes

Miss Sylvia Fenn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Fenn of Roseburg, became the bride of Daniel M. Hughes, son of Mr. D. G. Hughes of Colfax, Wash., at a beautiful afternoon ceremony. The wedding took place Saturday, May 25, in the Glencoe Baptist Church in Portland, with the Rev. Wendell C. Hawley officiating at the double ring service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white dress of tulle with overskirt and jacket of tulle and net. She wore a shoulder-length veil of net and carried a white bouquet centered by a large white orchid. She also carried the wedding handkerchief made and carried by her grandmother, Mrs. Grace Fenn, at her own wedding 57 years ago.

Eleanor Brannan of Lebanon was matron of honor. She wore an afternoon dress of blue voile. She carried an arrangement of yellow and white flowers.

Valdo Petter, friend of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Gene Norcross and Ron Haynes.

Mrs. Fenn, mother of the bride, wore a blue lace suit dress. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. A beautiful four-tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Eunice Stallings. Mrs. H. A. Armstrong, great aunt of the bride, poured the coffee. Mrs. R. P. Fackrell, sister of the bridegroom, attended the guest book.

For traveling, the bride chose a suit in light blue with white accessories. Following a trip to the coast, the newlyweds are at home in Portland.

Charming Bridal Shower Enjoyed

Pink roses were the theme of a lovely bridal shower on Monday evening for popular bride-elect, Miss Penny Osterlander, at the Laurewood home of Mrs. Charles S. Collins. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Collins was Mrs. Jack Chapman.

The 8 o'clock dessert supper was served on the patio at small tables covered with rose taffeta and net and centered with crystal vases of red and pink roses. The desserts were miniature wedding cakes, decorated in silver and topped with a pink rosebud.

The guests tied the small rice bags of net and green ribbons for the wedding and enjoyed the pleasant evening hours in visiting.

Beautiful gifts were presented to the guest of honor by Mrs. Kenneth Quine, Mrs. C. A. Osterlander, Mrs. T. B. Busenbark, Mrs. T. H. Pargeter, Mrs. Myron Phillips, of Seattle, Mrs. John Amacher, of Seattle, Mrs. Gilmour, Mrs. C. E. Reece, Mrs. Millard C. Doyle, Mrs. Darrell H. Hahn, Mrs. Lee R. Conn, Mrs. L. M. Don Lehmann Gives Concert

Don Lehmann, head of the music department at Pacific Warner College in Portland, who acted as adjudicator here for piano students of the National Music Teachers Guild and who with his wife were houseguests of Mrs. C. S. Heinline, presented a most enjoyable Chopin-Liszt piano concert program Monday evening at the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Heinline very graciously acted as hostess for the affair and was assisted by her piano students and their mothers with Mrs. Earl T. Cone Jr. as hostess chairman.

Lehmann, who studied under the famed Beulah Cheever of Portland, who is today one of the leading piano teachers of the Pacific Northwest and is still teaching in Portland, also studied under some of the finest piano instructors of Southern California.

His program was enthusiastically received by the attentive audience. He delighted his listeners by explaining his selections prior to playing each number. Lehmann acted as adjudicator for a large number of Mrs. Heinline's piano pupils Monday morning and afternoon.

A reception followed the delightful concert. Mrs. H. James Jenkins, Mrs. Kenneth Speedie, Mrs. Charles Hahn and Mrs. John Gardner poured. A senior high girl piano student acted as hostess at each small table arranged for seating the guests during the refreshment hour. A bower of roses decorated the beautifully appointed serving table, while attractive arrangements of early summer blossoms decorated the room.

A very beautiful corsage and a gift were presented by the piano students to Mrs. Heinline and a gift was presented to Mrs. H. James Jenkins from the piano students of her two classes of the Heinline Studio. Ruth Bradley catered the charming affair.
