Dupas Retains Boxing Title With Decision Over Moyer

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Ralph Dupas, the little buzz-saw from New Orleans, doesn't care how he wins 'em, so long as he does, and today he still is the world junior middleweight champion.

The 27-year-old Dupas kept his title Monday night by beating former champion Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore., for the second time within seven weeks, again on a 15-round decision that was close.

Ralph out-speeded and out-danced the ex-champion, from whom he took the title last April 27, and his stronger punching at close range was enough to earn him the decision which was boobyed by a small crowd of 2,544 in the new, 13,000 seat Civic Center.

"I knew I had him all the way," Dupas said. "It may have looked as though he hurt me a couple of times, but he didn't. I was in good shape—better than the last time when I had been idle for more than three months."

The decision was unanimous in favor of Dupas, who scored the 10th victory of his career against only 17 losses and two draws. For Moyer, who was the 6-5 favorite at fight time, it was his 10th loss against 37 victories.

Moyer originally won the newly created division title by outpointing Joey Giambra at Portland, Ore., on Oct. 20, 1962. He defended against Dupas last April and lost the title on a close decision in New Orleans, which many called a "home town decision" in favor of Ralph.

Dupas circled the baby-faced Moyer consistently with fast footwork and kept throwing leather at the 23-year-old Denny as he circled—sometimes hitting from a crowd and other times leaping in with long jabs and straight rights. There were no knockdowns in the bout.

The three ring officials favored Dupas on a five-point basis as follows: Referee Benny Goldstein, 70-66; Judge Eddie Leonard, 69-68; and Judge Jimmy Jones, 69-68.

South Squeezes Twelfth Trick

By OSWALD JACOBY (Written For NEA)

South won the first trick with the ace of spades and counted 11 easy tricks. The twelfth might lie in diamonds. If not, there was always the possibility of a squeeze, so South decided to tackle the diamonds right away.

He cashed the ace, led a second diamond and stuck in the nine. East won with the jack and returned a spade. West's ten forced dummy's king. South played the king of diamonds from dummy and discarded his last spade. He had hoped to drop the queen but instead West showed out.

At this point South could have claimed the balance on a squeeze, but such showing off is not good form. Still South knew he was going to make the hand, because only West could stop spades and only East could stop diamonds.

Eventually, no one was going to be able to stop hearts.

South ran off five club tricks. On

South Squeezes Twelfth Trick

South won the first trick with the ace of spades and counted 11 easy tricks. The twelfth might lie in diamonds. If not, there was always the possibility of a squeeze, so South decided to tackle the diamonds right away.

He cashed the ace, led a second diamond and stuck in the nine. East won with the jack and returned a spade. West's ten forced dummy's king. South played the king of diamonds from dummy and discarded his last spade. He had hoped to drop the queen but instead West showed out.

At this point South could have claimed the balance on a squeeze, but such showing off is not good form. Still South knew he was going to make the hand, because only West could stop spades and only East could stop diamonds.

Eventually, no one was going to be able to stop hearts. South ran off five club tricks. On the fourth club a heart was discarded from dummy. On the fifth club West had to go down to two hearts in order to hang on to the jack of spades. The nine of spades was discarded from dummy — it had done its work, but the ten of diamonds was left to squeeze East. East had to hang on to the queen of diamonds and was also forced to go to two hearts.

Now South led a heart to dummy's king and made the last two tricks with his ace and small heart.

Garden Roundup To Be Planned

A meeting will be held at 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Horticultural Clinic at the Veterans Administration Hospital to make preliminary plans for the Fall Garden Roundup, one of the major fall attractions of the area. The event is to be sponsored jointly by the special services section at the hospital and the garden clubs of the area.

Each garden club, whether or not a member of the Umpqua District Federation, is requested to have representation at the meeting. Date for the show will be set Wednesday and committees appointed.

Following last year's innovation, the roundup will be open to entries from the public, instead of being restricted to garden clubbers and therapy patients at the hospital. Russell Madsen, hospital horticultural director for the hospital, will be the chairman of the Wednesday meeting, according to Mrs. Sidney Domenico, district director for the Federated Garden Clubs.
