

Forest Closure Rules In Effect Next Monday

Effective date of humidity requirements in forests of this area is 12:01 a.m. June 24, according to John B. Richards, district fire warden, Douglas Forest Protective Association.

Very serious fire hazard now exists because of weather conditions and the existence of excessive amounts of inflammable debris making forest operations in Coos and Douglas counties, Zones 12, 13A, 13B, 14, 17 and 19 extremely susceptible to fire.

Regulations Listed

All operations of power driven machinery and equipment used in sawmilling, logging or other operations on or within one eighth of a mile of forest land shall comply with the following regulations:

1. Humidity: The operator shall close down the operation during any day or part thereof for the period of time that the relative humidity is 30 per cent or lower in the operation area unless written permission is given to the operator by the forester.
2. High Wind: The operator shall close down the operation during any day or part thereof for the period of time that high wind prevails over the operation area and the relative humidity is 35 per cent or lower in the operation area unless written permission is given to the operator by the forester; high wind shall be considered as any continuous wind or air disturbance causing an increase in fire danger in the operation area.
3. Watchman service will be required three hours after operation shuts down or 8 p.m. which ever is later, unless otherwise notified by the forester.

DFPA Protects

Zone 14, central Douglas County, and 17, the southern part, are protected by the Douglas Forest Protective Association. Zone 19, eastern Douglas, is in the Umpqua National Forest area. Zones 12, 13A and 13B are in the Coos area and the western part of Douglas County.

Zone 10, in eastern Lane and a part of Douglas, and Zone 11, in western Lane and a part of northwestern Douglas, went into effect on June 17.

The operator can check the zone he is operating in on his operating permit.

Now You Know

The first person to write about fly casting, according to Collier's Encyclopedia, was a Roman by the name of Martial, between 10 B.C. and 20 A.D. However, it did not become a common fishing method until the 16th Century in the British Isles.

Don Brand Named Principal Of Private School In Tokyo

It has been announced that Donald Brand, principal of the Siuslaw High School in Florence, Ore., has signed a two year contract to become principal of the American High School in Tokyo, Japan.

The Tokyo School is a community-sponsored educational institution with students from 28 countries enrolled. It is a private school established in 1902 by American business and professional people. This September the school is being moved into a new $5 million building designed by the education department of Stanford University.

Brand's home has been in Roseburg, where he attended school. He began his teaching at Maple-ton High School after being graduated from Willamette University in Salem in 1951. He received his master's degree in education from Harvard University in 1954 and was an instructor and guidance director

Evening Recreation Program Is Due In Glendale Area

The Glendale School Board spent the early part of its last meeting looking over the school teacher-age next door to the high school. The building, formerly occupied by the Wayne Close family, will be the home of Victor Hehn, the new music teacher, and his family. The board voted to have the building wired for heavy appliances.

It was announced that William Baxter, the new athletic instructor, is planning for an evening community recreation program to begin at the high school field on Saturday evening, June 22. Baxter is not being reimbursed by the school system for this service but is offering it on his own time as a service to the community, correspondent Mrs. Gerald Fox reports.

Supt. Jack Johnson reported that the new teachers being hired by the Board, had signed and returned their contracts. The following persons are now members of the faculty:

Victor Hehn, formerly of Wyoming has been hired to teach music in both elementary and high school. He has had 16 years of experience.

Darrell Woolhiser, formerly of Culver, Ore., has been hired to teach high school English and serve as wrestling coach. Woolhiser has a background of coaching in all sports.

William Baxter, who has been head football coach at Riddle, has been hired as the new physical education instructor and head football coach for Glendale.

Floyd Wright of Lakeview has been hired as fifth grade teacher. Mrs. Lucille Wobbe of Medford has been hired as first grade teacher.

The School Board awarded a contract to furnish materials for replacement of the high school roof to the Amspro Corp. of Portland at a cost of about $4,000. The members of the school maintenance crew will install the roof, of aluminum asphalt material, under the supervision of the Amspro company.

at Glide High School four years before going to Florence.

Brand's parents are both educators. His father, Romayne R. Brand, was principal of Joseph Lane Junior High School for 31 years and is now administrative assistant to the superintendent. His mother is a teacher at John Fremont Junior High School.

Brand has been active in community affairs and is a member of numerous educational organizations. In 1961 he was named junior first citizen of Florence by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He was later selected one of the 10 outstanding young men in Oregon. He will leave Aug. 20 and will spend some time in Hawaii before assuming his new position Sept. 1.

Many Youths To Attend YMCA's Summer Camp

John Loosley, chairman of the summer activities for youth at the YMCA, reported at this week's board meeting of the "Y" that everything points to a most successful and busy summer program. A large number of youth have already made their own expenses to the annual camp at Diamond Lake by selling candy mints.

Jack Snodgrass, of the finance committee, reported on future plans formulated for helping the "Y" to take care of last year's deficit. So far 1963 membership and finances are ahead of last year's figures.

Mrs. A. G. McLain urged members to contribute to the World Service program sponsored internationally by the YMCA. Contributions will be received up to December 1963.

Dr. Daniel Halferty, president, conducted the meeting.
