Manoram-Miller Wedding June 6

A very lovely wedding took place at the Roseburg Seventh day Adventist Church Thursday evening, June 6, uniting in marriage Joanne (Jodi) Aletha Miller and Dr. John Edred Manoram. The date was chosen to honor the ninth birthday of her sister, Marlene.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Miller of Roseburg, and the bridegroom is the son of Elder and Mrs. Charles Manoram of Port-of-Spain, Trinidad, West Indies.

Candelabra, with white tapers, and flanked by large baskets of pink and white gladioli provided a pretty setting for the impressive candlelight ceremony, performed by Elder H. S. Miller, grandfather of the bride. This is Elder Miller's first attendance at the marriage of his relatives. He is 88 years old.

Terri Hansen of Roseburg, organist, played the wedding music. Karen Lindeman of Ketchikan, Alaska, sang, "Because." Bernie Paulson of Roseburg sang, "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was radiant in a gown of Chantilly lace over bridal satin. The bodice was lace covered, except for the midriff. The sleeves were of lace, and buttons were at both the wrists and back. The gown's lace ended in back in a brush train. Her fingertip-length veil of French silk illusion was held in place by a large satin rose.

The wedding gown and veil were designed and fashioned by the bride. Her corsage bouquet of stephanotis and two white orchids was held in place by white ribbon streamers.

Anita Pearson, long-time classmate of the bride, was the only attendant. She wore a street-length dress of green flowered brocade and a headpiece fashioned after the bride's. She carried an arrangement of pink gladioli with white throats.

Marlene Miller, sister of the bride, and Jim Boyd lit the candles. Marlene's dress was identical to the maid of honor's.

Dr. Peter Strange of Portland, a classmate of the bridegroom, was best man. Bert Pearson and Bernie Paulson were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Miller wore a pink dress with embroidered roses. White accessories and a gardenia corsage completed the outfit.

Dr. Manoram's family were unable to attend. His brother, David, represented his family.

The reception was held at the Oak Tree Inn in Winchester. The lovely three-tiered white wedding cake was trimmed with pink and topped with three pink satin bells. Cutting the cake were Mrs. Alfred Boyd and Mrs. Charles Miller, aunt of the bride, from Chico, Calif. Mrs. Stewart Merrill of Boise, Idaho, served punch to the 250 guests present. They enjoyed organ background music throughout the evening. Miss Valleta Wolverson of Seattle presented the guest book.

Coming from out-of-town for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller and Ann Elizabeth, Chico, Calif.; Mrs. Stewart Merrill, Carolyn Merrill and Arlene Ausmus, Boise, Idaho; Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Olmstead, Spokane, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Otis Pollard, Grandview, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. David Bartlett, Grants Pass; David Manoram and Dr. Ben Herrera of Los

E. Hopmann, Vancouver, Washington.

For traveling, the bride chose a white Italian knit ensemble. The dress was trimmed with red and the three-quarter coat was of white mohair, fashioned by the bride. Her accessories were red and she wore the orchid from her bouquet.

Following a honeymoon trip to Crater Lake, the couple will be at home after June 19 at 711 S. E. 60th, Portland.

The bride attended elementary school in Roseburg and was graduated from Millo Academy, after which she took pre-nursing at Walla Walla College and has spent the past two years at the clinical division of the college at the Portland Sanitarium in Portland. Roses also abound in the garden and a yellow tree rose in a planter stands at the right of the front door.

Because of Mrs. Hatfield's hospitalization, the Governor himself and his charming mother greeted the 250 Oregon Girls State members and the Press Women. "I do hope this will be a success for it is my first tea," quipped the Governor, who went on to state if it was it was because it had been originally arranged and planned by his wife.
